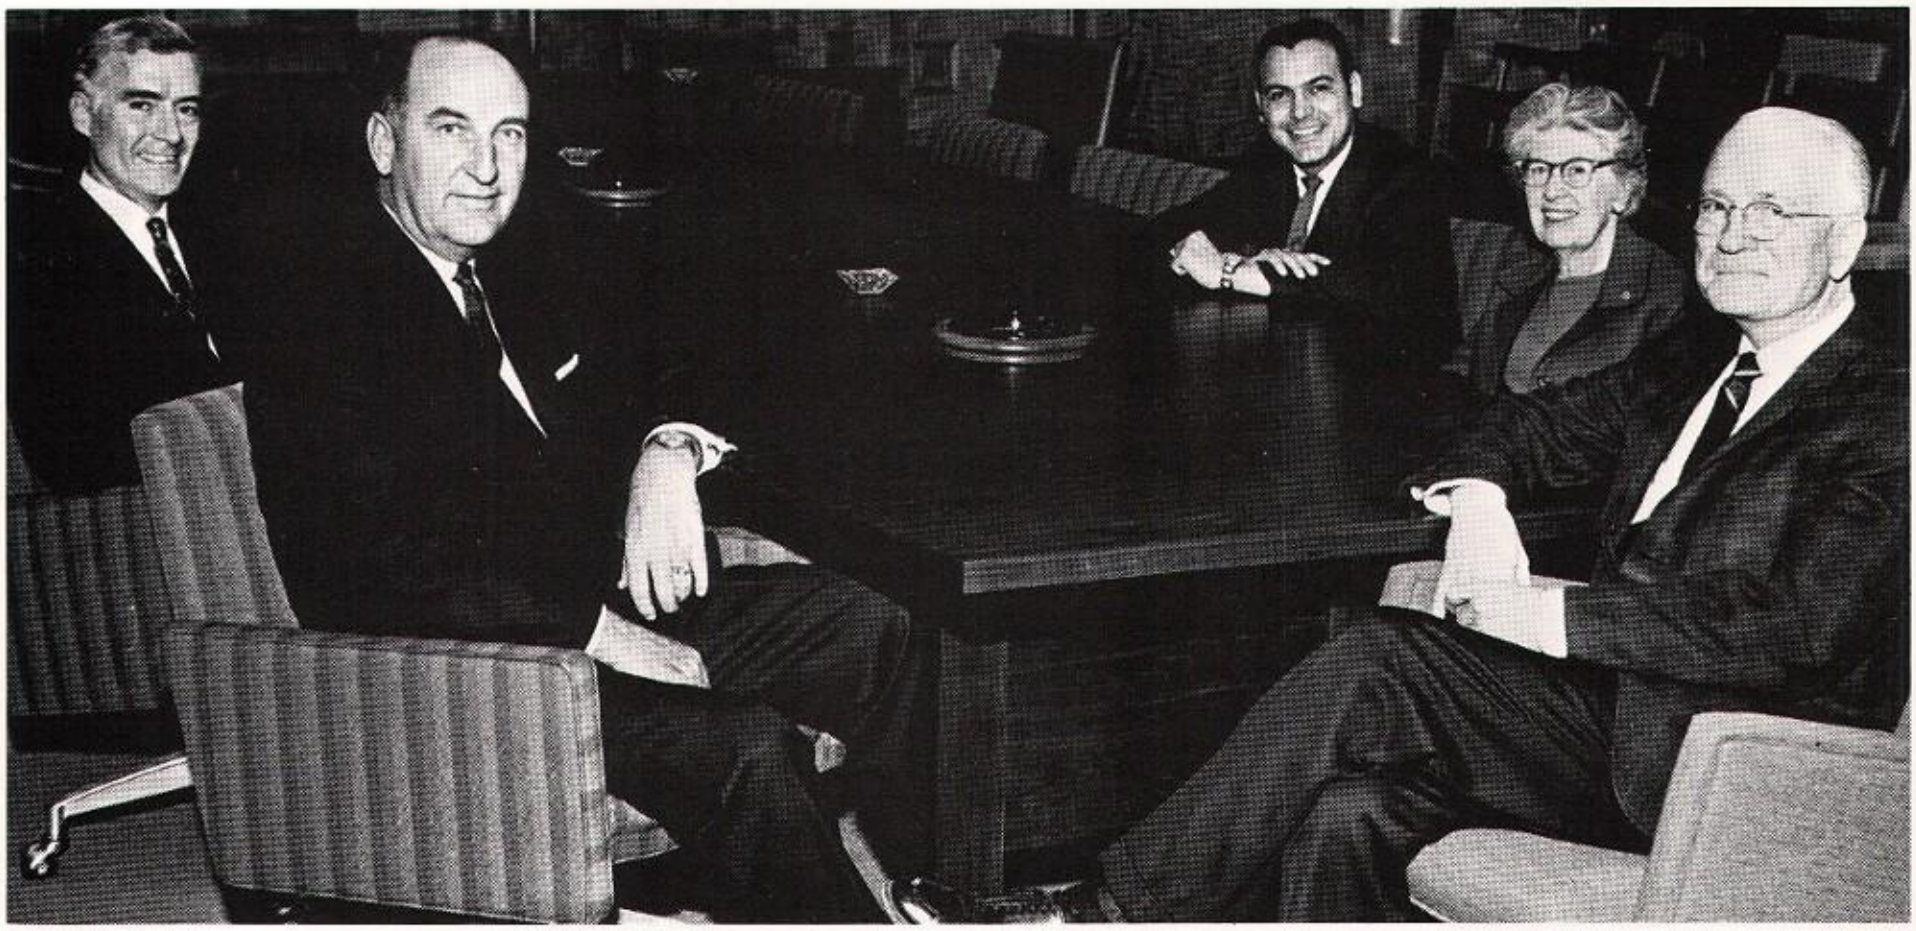
Academics

Academics provide the beauty of learning, of encountering new worlds, of reliving old memories and rediscovering them through new viewpoints. The beautyof teaching is seen in helping others overcome difficulties, and in accomplishment. By introducing new methods to teach old courses, teachers hope to stimulate interest and to develop a sense of involvement . . .
the beauty of academics.

Albuquerque school board plans future improvements



Members of the APS school board Mr. Henry Willis, president; Mr. J. Leon Thompson, vice-president; Mr. Ted Martinez, secretary; Mrs. Jeanette Stromberg; and Mr. S. Y. Jackson, finance chairman; make future plans for the school system.

North Area superintendent, Mr. Robert Montoya, and his assistant, Mr. Stan Rarick, are responsible for the schools in their district.

Dr. Tom Wiley serves as superintendent of Albuquerque Public Schools. He was appointed in 1969 and has long been active in educational circles in New Mexico.

WM executives guide, provide leadership

The responsibility for West Mesa's growth and leadership falls on Dr. Tom Wiley, Albuquerque Public School superintendent, School Board members and Mr. Robert Evans, principal.

Awareness of the needs of the schools and a constant search for information have made Dr. Wiley a successful leader. Serving for the second year as Superintendent, Mr. Wiley previously taught in the Bernalillo County school system and was twice its superintendent.

The Albuquerque Board of Education has several responsibilities, but perhaps its main one is to represent the community in setting educational policies that appear to be the best for all concerned. A bond issue approved this year by the board and passed by the voters allotted $400,000 to be used for additions and improvements at West Mesa.

Mr. Robert Evans has guided the school during its five years of existence. This year's enrollment at one time reached 3,000 students making West Mesa the largest high school in New Mexico. The freshmen class is the largest with about 900 students, sophomores are next with 800, juniors have about 700, and seniors are last with approximately 600.

Mr. John Barefoot, assistant principal, heard many different complaints and excuses during the year, as he was responsible for all buildings and grounds and all non-professional workers, as well as student attendance.

Mr. Joe Griego, assistant principal, was in charge of all disciplinary matters.

Mrs. Mildred Faris, assistant principal, directed all professional personnel and was in charge of curriculum.

Teachers hold educational positions in their local, state organizations

Many teachers exhibit a strong sense of professionalism toward their educational commitment by voluntarily putting in many hours of work with various educational organizations.

Mr. Jim Brownlee, who teaches shop, is vice-president of the Albuquerque Industiral Arts Education Association.

Serving as a delegate to the New Mexico Classroom Teachers Association Convention is Mr. Jim Souter, history teacher. He also serves as a building representative from West Mesa to Albuquerque Classroom Teachers Association.

Belonging to the National Council of Teachers Mathematics Association and the local Albuquerque chapter is Mrs. Linda Taylor.

Mr. John Simons busies himself by being a member of the Albuquerque Teachers' Federation.

Being very interested in girls sports finds Mrs. Polly Holbrook in the position of vice-president of the Girls Southwest New Mexico Activities Association.

Mr. Orval Hughes, Commander of the school NJROTC, is very active in the the U.S. Navy.

Many teachers are involved in the Albuquerque Classroom Teachers Association, an organization involving Albuquerque teachers which speaks for them in negotiations with the school board, working to improve the school system. West Mesa has more teachers in this organization than any other school in the system.

Busiest of all seems to be Mr. Winston Christian. He serves as president of Distric Seven New Mexico Music Educators Association, Phi Beta Mu Bandmasters Fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi Honorary Band Fraternity, Music Educators National Conference, and the National Jazz Education Association.

Teachers pursue varied interests during spare time

Travel appealed to many teachers this summer. Mr. Sam Allred, general science teacher, spent several weeks in Europe with the Judo-Karate Club, while Mr. Orval Hughes, ROTC instructor, visited Hawaii.

Traveling in a camper is th only way to travel says Mrs. Joan Kent, drama teacher. She and her family traveled throughout the states by this means.

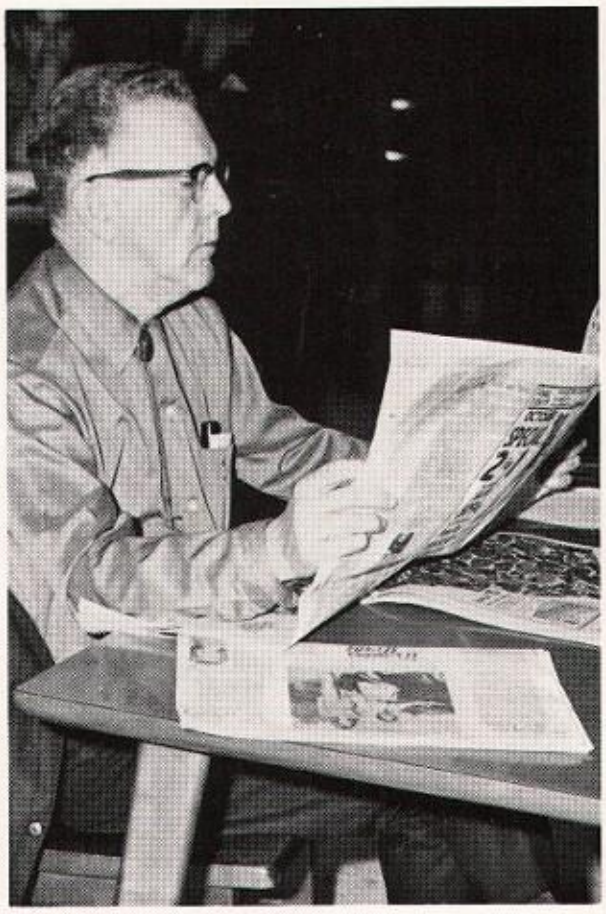
Mr. Robert Evans, principal, enjoys hunting and camping out. Mr. Joe Greigo, assistant principal, also enjoys hunting deer, antelope, quail and pheasant. Scandinavia was visited by Mrs. Bridgit Regener, German teacher, who went to visit her relatives.

Part-time work was done by some. Mr. Bob O'Neal, activities director, was an assistant principal at Highland High Summer School. Mr. David Swinford worked in the camera department at Globe Discount Store.

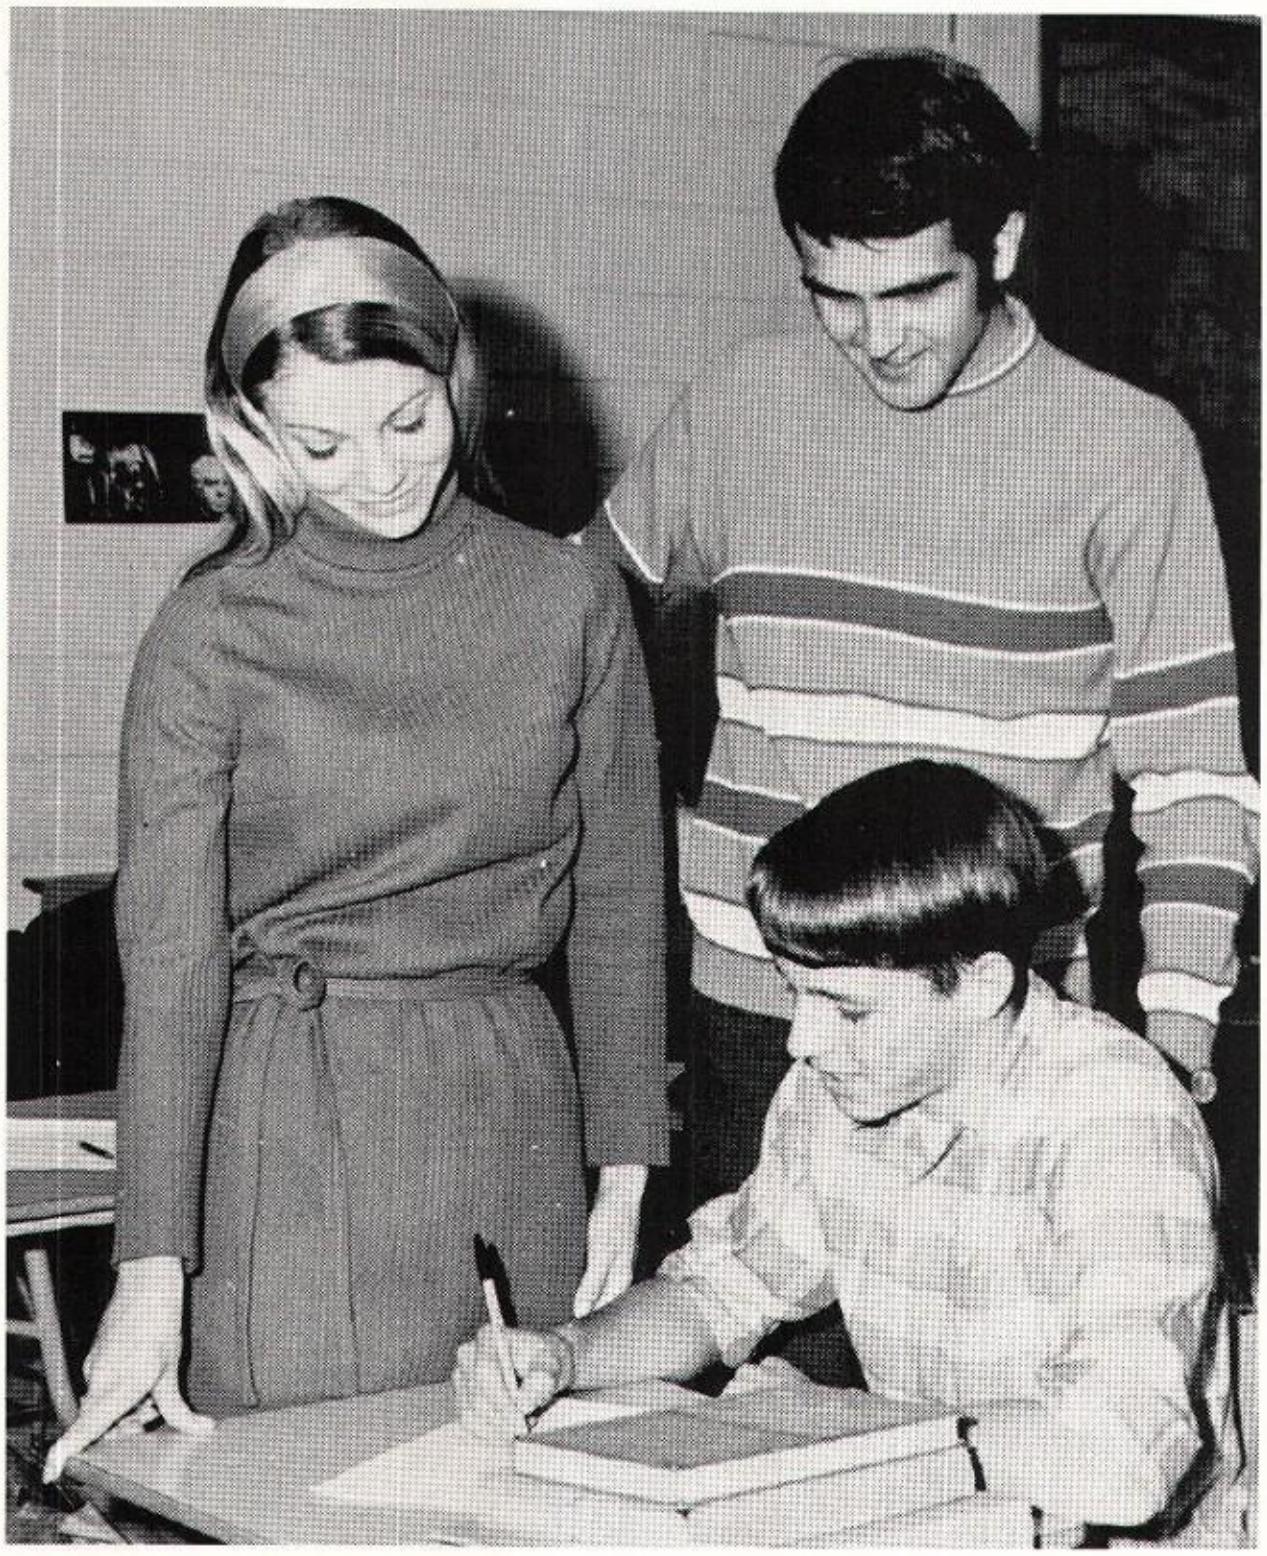
Among those attending UNM were Mr. Charles Ohler, and Mrs. Vicki Bachechi. Mr. Dudley Clark, mathematics teacher, attended ENMU. Mrs. Mary J. Majors went to the University of California.

Outdoor life drew others such as Mrs. Mary Lou Pittman, English teacher, who gardened. Mr. Graham Bartlett, physics instructor, operated Gymnastics Unlimited.

Being selected as the 1970 North All-Star football coach kept Mr. Jimmy Juarez busy along with Coaches Gary Spitzberg, Jimmy Campella and Jim Spencer, who assisted him in preparing for the big game.



English teacher, Mr. George Shepperson, finds time to read the sports section of the newspaper for the latest basketball scores.



Helping sophomore student, Robert Rivera, write an English paper is Mrs. Barbara Muniz's pre-student teacher, Mrs. Gail Singer, and a substitute, Mr. Kiet Stevens.

Commander Orval Hughes relates a humorous anecdote about HHS during the NJROTC assembly.

Faculty accepts new fashions

Much to the delight of many female teachers, the faculty committee approved a new dress code in October. The teachers agreed to the code and followed it during the school year.

It was recommended that a teacher wear a dressy pant suit (tunic length top) or a midi, maxi, or mini length dress with appropriate accessories, excluding sandals or tennis shoes.

Most teachers, however, were still very conservative in their dress, wearing knee lenght skirts.

Miss Helen Cacciatore, with a maxi dress, and Mrs. Barbara Spahn, wearing a pant suit, find more ease of movement while teaching in these new outfits.

Enjoying refreshments served by Mrs. Madeline Graham and prepared by the Home Economics Dept. for the Christmas party are faculty members, Mr. David Swinford, Mr. Gilbert Davis and Miss Mary Steele.

Faculty donate time to extra-curricular activities

Extra time before and after school is spent sponsoring clubs. All organizations at West Mesa must be supervised by a teacher. Every project undertaken by a club must be approved by a faculty member who is responsible for all money-making projects. The group must carry out its tasks to make them successful.

All field trips in town and out of town taken by a group must be chaperoned by school personnel who are responsible for the trip.

Not only do clubs interest students but often allow teachers to follow a particular hobby.

Selling an anti-pollution sticker to Stewart Howell is Ecology club sponsor, Mr. Rex Funk.

Breaking a few bulbs while decorating the Christmas tree in the main foyer of the school are Jack Woody and Debbie Culler, juniors, while Mr. Bob O'Neal assists.

Counselors, secretaries offer special services

The student body was offered several special services this year including counseling, attendance, and activities.

Counselors offered their assistance to parents, students, and faculty. They administered individual and group tests and sponsored College Day. Special attention was given to college recommendations and counseling for job openings.

The secretaries and clerical assistants worked closely with both the student body and faculty.

In the administration office, Mrs. Peg Mehigan was registrar and secretary to the principal, and Mrs. Elma Tompkins was responsible for the school bookkeeping. Assisting the attendance director was Mrs. Angela Rios, while Mrs. Clara Martin helped the counselors with their responsibilities. Keeping records textbooks and fines, and distributing books was Mrs. Sarah Vandeveer, bookroom clerk.

In charge of library books, fines, and the media center was Mrs. Mary Ann Cheney and Mrs. Amy Martinez.

Giving comfort and aid to the ill was part of Mrs. Mary Jane Carter's job. The nurse also checked hearing and vision, inspected health records and took care of medical emergencies.

Mr. Bob O'Neal, activities' director, organized and co-ordinated all school activities. He was also the liaison man between the school and Boosters' Club. Student Council and the advisory board were also his responsibilities.

With the help of student office workers, Mrs. Eutimia Garcia kept daily attendance records in the data processing office.

Mr. Roy Rivera, media specialist, was in charge of distribution of AV materials for the teachers. Minor repair of equipment and consulting with teachers about materials were also part of his job.

Helping out in the cafeteria are Lucy Gomez, Alice LeBrune, Doris Snow, Mable Nix, Ruby Marguez, and Mary Knudson.

Serving food in the snack bar are Delores Bullens, Martha Dowdy, Bea Candelaria, Lucy Apodaca, and Madge Delaney.

'Housekeeping' staffs work to brighten school day

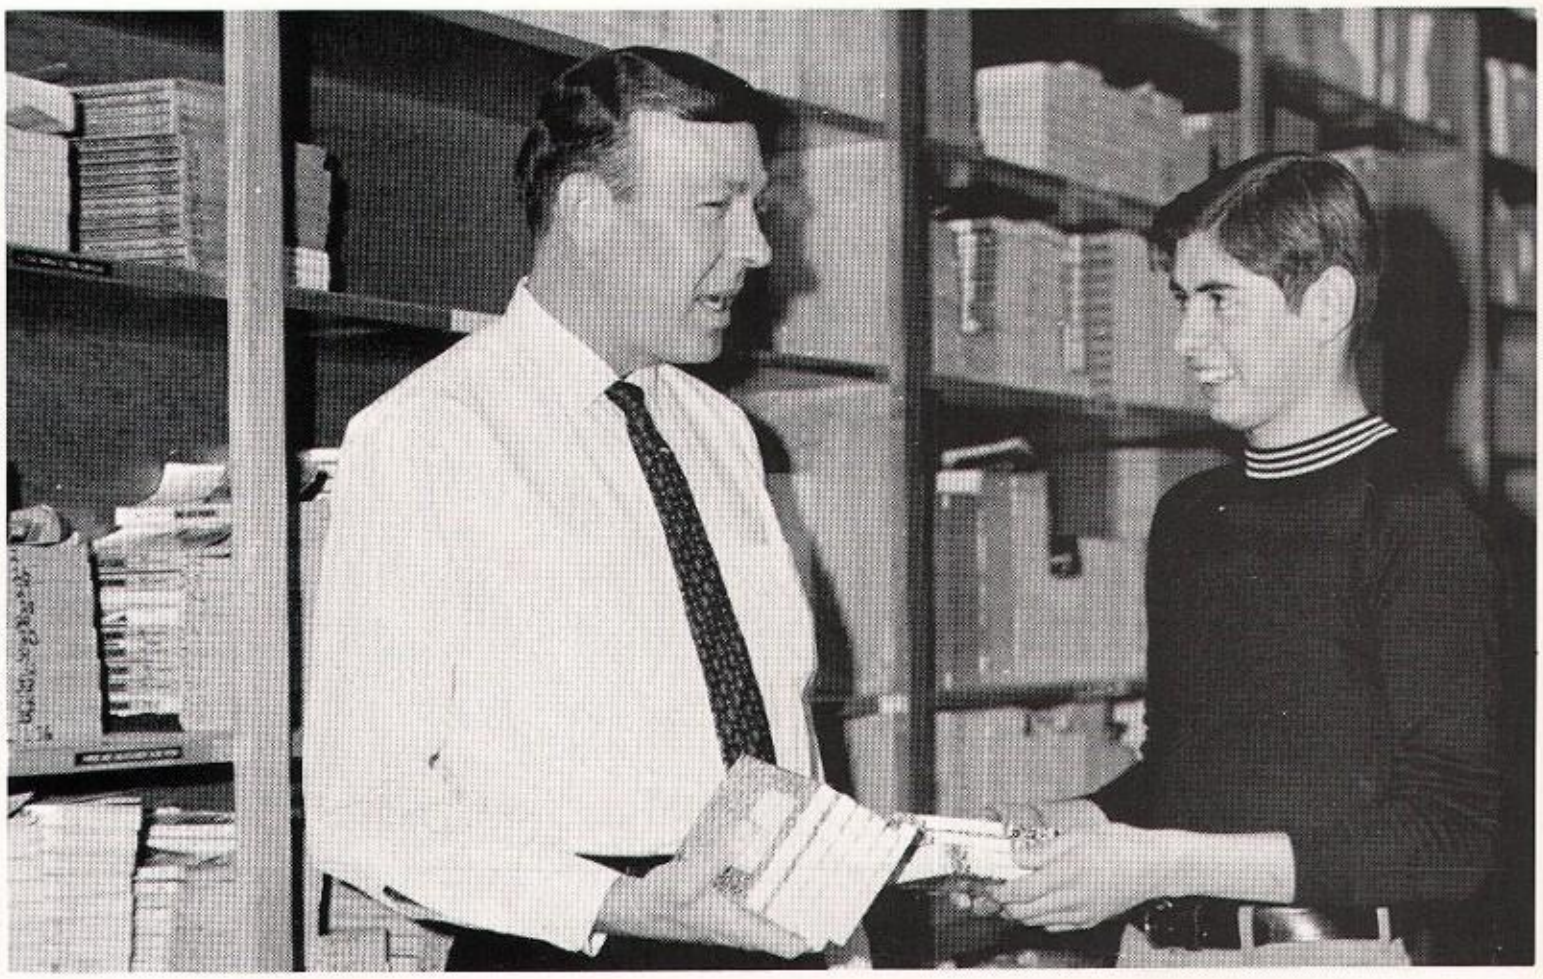
Striving to keep the school grounds and buildings neat and clean was the job of the custodial staff, headed by Mr. Rudy Mora.

The cafeteria workers, supervised by Mrs. Thelma Kitchel, worked from early in the morning until well after lunch planning and preparing meals.

In September the price of lunches rose to a high of fifty cents a tray, however, due to an increase in federal funds, the price was lowered to thirty-five cents a tray in October.

Also serving food for lunch was the snack bar which operated not only during lunch but also between classes and before and after school.

Custodial staff includes (bottom) Manuel Mora, Charles Sterba, Adrano Gonzales, Milce Mirabal, and Joe Gallegos. Adolfo Chavez, Melardo Gallegos, Viviano Griego, Robert Torres, Fred Chavez, and Rudy Mora, head, are on the top row.



Helping Mr. Jacob Beidler, chairman, check in and catalog books used in the English department is Ross Davis, senior.

During their study of Greece in Mrs. Humphrey's World Humanities class, Chuck Weidman, Grahman Gordon and Dee Tennison present a Greek trial.

In Junior Humanities during a play about predjudice, John Lucero gives Susan Bosl his most prized possession, Ted D. Bear.

New courses initiated for Junior-Senior choice

Paperback books played a important role this year as new courses were initiated in the English Department and juniors and seniors were given a choice of classes.

Among these classes were Language and Research Methods, Popular Novels, Short Stories & Science Fiction, Musical Comedy, Communications Media, Oral Expression, and Informative Writing.

On the ninth and tenth grade levels, the department felt that many of the basic language arts skills were still needed. West Mesa, John Adams, and Chapparal teachers met together twice weekly with special instructors to work out objectives and a curriculum for these English classes.

Stagecraft, Drama I and II, Speech I, II, and III, and Journalism I and II were other electives offered.

Humanities classes were usually engaged in group and individual presentations.

Helping with the sets for Harvey are stagecraft students Judy Street and Scott Ware.

Reading supplementary contemporary material from the Literary Calvacade for their American Literature class are Chris Harling, Cathy Atencio, and Becky Stewart, juniors.

Using the services of the library, Sharon Sayed, senior, is preparing a paper for a Language & Research Methods assignment.

Science Department

New techniques challenge old ideas

Today in our advanced world, science is the key to the future. For it is through research and exploration that the unknown is discovered.

At West Mesa the Science Department tried to provide courses for the interests of all students.

General Science, an introduction to the basic laws of astronomy, chemistry, geology, meteorology, biology and physics was a required course for all freshmen.

Biology, the study of life, was a required course for upperclassmen.

Upon completion of required science courses, there was a variety of courses for students to pursue. These included Biology II, Chemistry I, Geology I or Physics I.

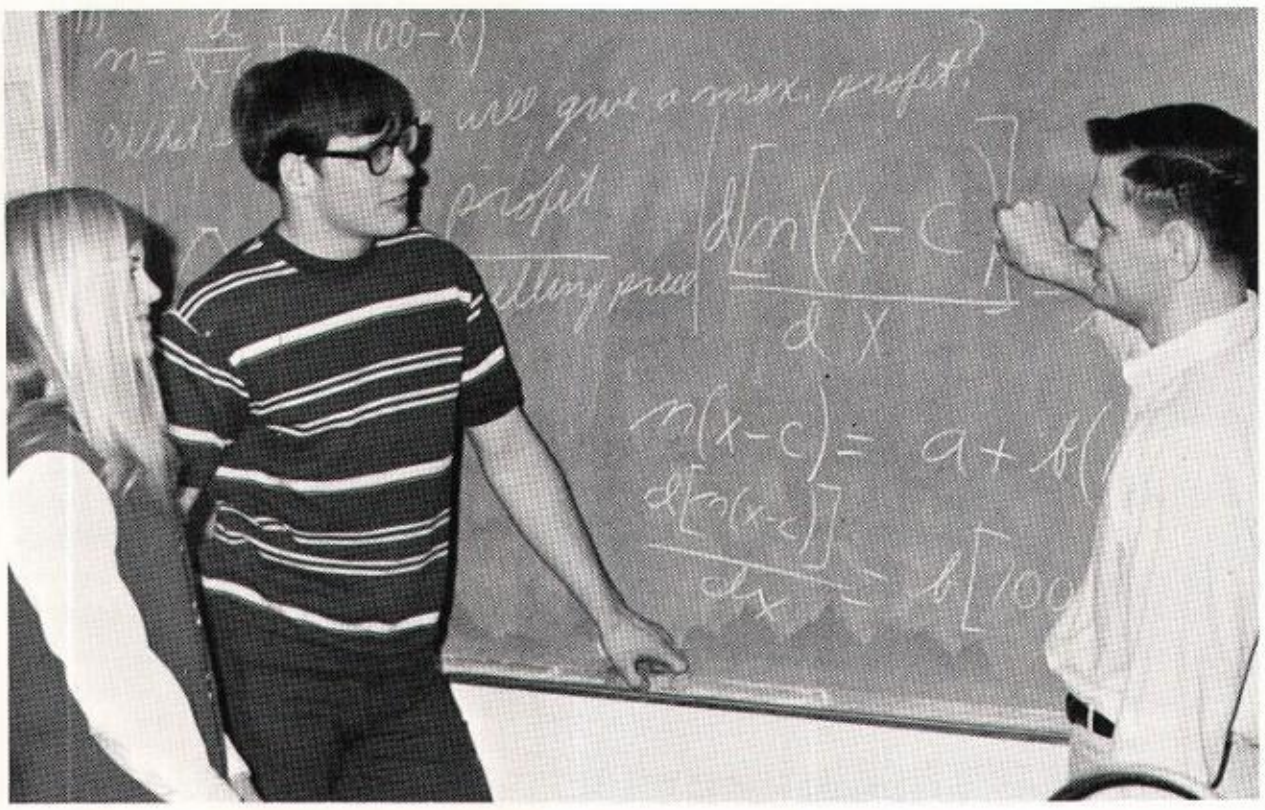
Frogs, fishes, and worms made the science scene this year in biology. Students studied the anatomy of living things and then disected small animals. Here, students are preparing to disect a frog.

Discussing plans for an astronomy project in Mr. Sam Allred's General Science class are Renee Stephens, Dennis Obermiller, Kathy Sandoval and Gary Moody, freshmen.

A new member of the Science Department, Sammy tne Salamander, is shown to biology students.

Mathematics Department

Courses designed to meet changing world

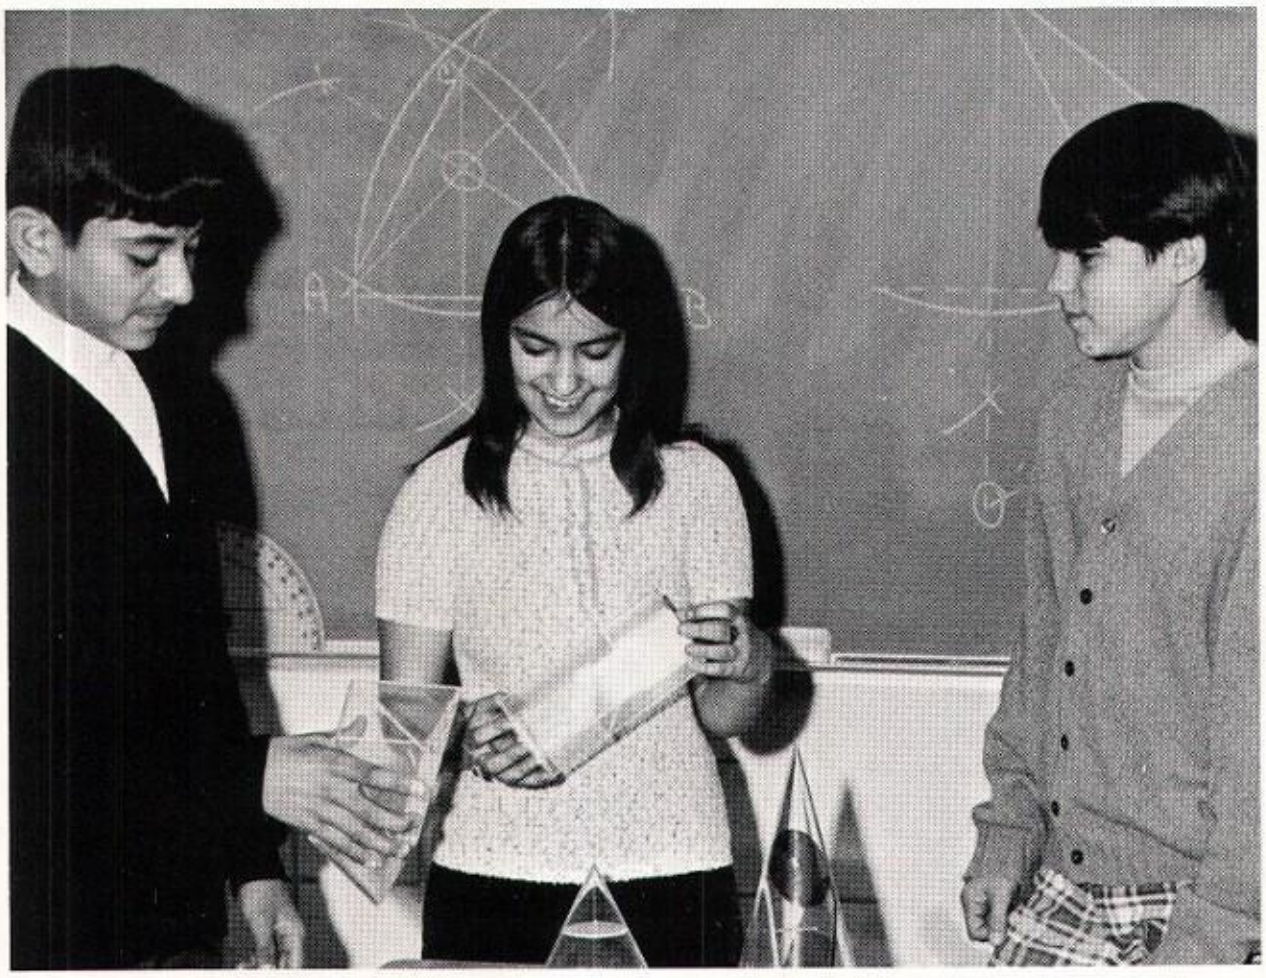


In Calculus, Mr. Bartlett explains the application of derivatives to Lynn Thunborg and Dan Caffrey.

Mathematics continues to change as the world changes, and West Mesa High School continues to offer a variety of mathematics courses designed to fulfill the needs and desires of as many different students as possible.

Upper level courses include Algebra II, Math Analysis and Calculus which are mainly for the college-bound student. Computer Oriented Mathematics provides basic computer programming of mathematical problems for those interested in the everwidening computer field.

Algebra I and Geometry provides introductory work in the abstract field, knowledge of shapes and sizes, and learning how to solve problems presented by these concepts.



Distinguishing the differences between geometric solids are sophomores Brent Espinoza, holding a triangular prism, and Martha Martinez, with a hexagonal prism. Looking on is Doug Lawrence.

An increase in the number of students taking Business Mathematics has occurred and an even larger number is expected next year. This course provides practice in mathematical problems occuring in the business world.

General Math I and II and Pre-Algebra provide basic concepts and skills as well as pre-requisites for more advanced work.

This year some of the teachers have been doing team teaching and it is planned to expand this aspect of the mathematics program.

Learning the workings of the court system was a unit in Sociology classes this year. Here, judge Larry Wolfe and lawyer Robert Guitierrez listen to witness Joy Noffsinger while defendant Jerry Austin and police officer Richard Martin look on.

Striving for a better future is social studies objective

To meet the needs of minority group students, the Social Studies Department offered two new courses this year, Black Studies and Southwest History.

To comply with state requirements, World History and U.S. History were also offered.

Freshmen students were offered Civics, while upper classmen had the opportunity to take Sociology, a study of social problems.

Juniors and Seniors could take Humanities instead of History and English. These courses blended the cultural aspects of the United States or the World, from past to present, into a form that could help students learn from the mistakes of the past in order to work for a better tomorrow.

Poster-filled bulletin boards for World History classes set the background for students in Southwest History as they read material which has been assigned to them.

Foreign Languages

Communication,-key to understanding, theme of language department in '71

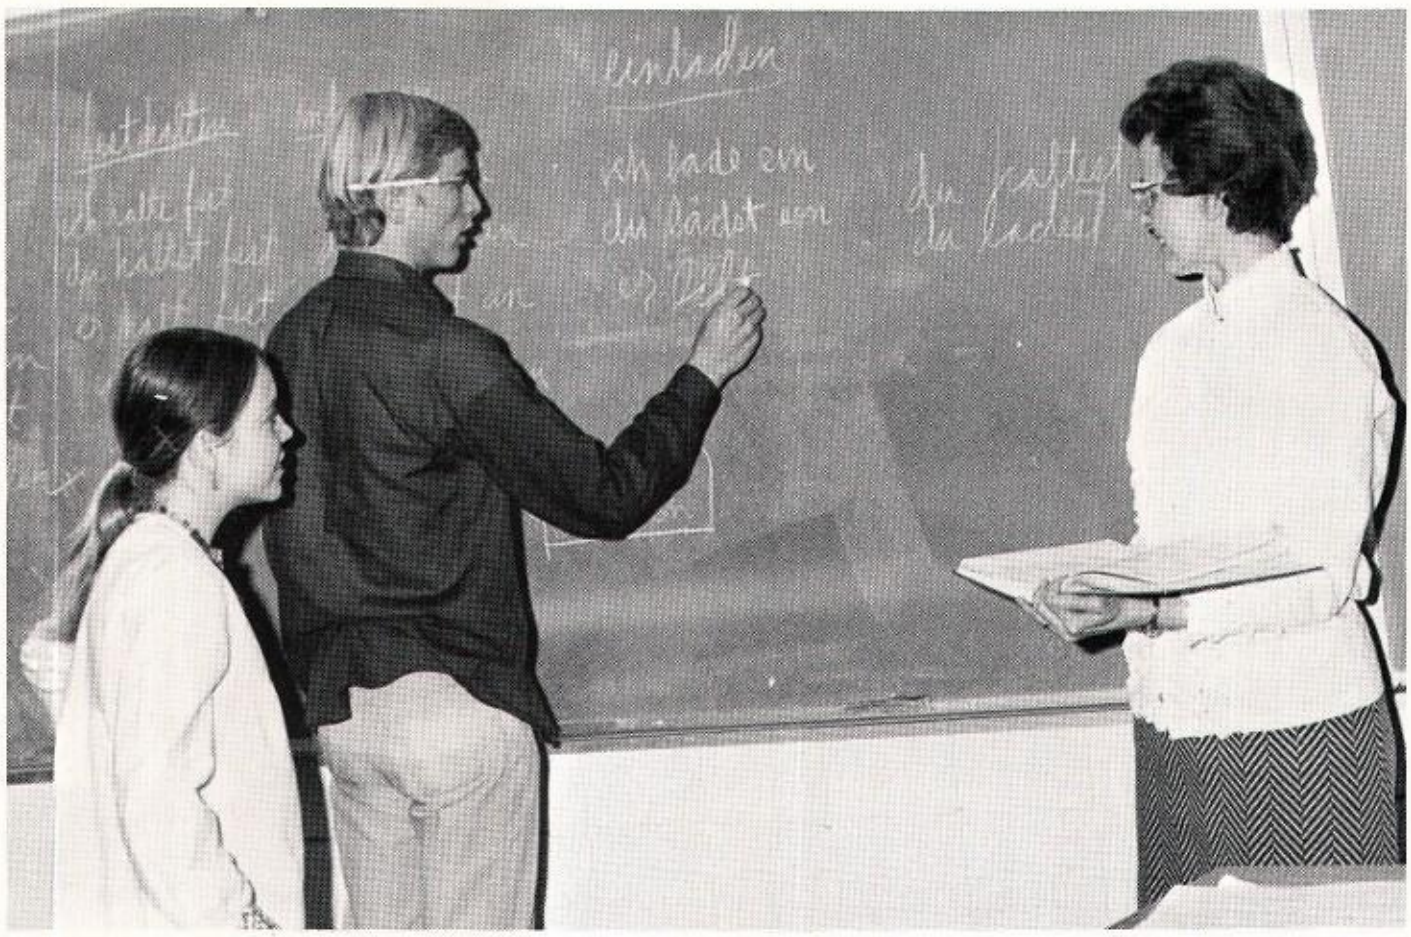
In French I students are practicing oral drills while using the language lab. The language lab enables teachers to give students more individual help in specific areas.

With the thought in mind that communication is the key to understanding, the Language Department has strived to instill in the minds of its students the ideas, philosophy, culture, and the language of different countries throughout the world.

This year four levels of Spanish and three of German and French were offered.

Students who had completed Spanish II were permitted to take a trip in the spring to Guadalajara, Mexico. Here the students put to use what they had learned in the classroom.

French I and German I provided students with the basics of the language. Advanced German and French classes increased the students' knowledge of the people of these countries and their language.



For a vocabulary exercise in German II and III, Mark Zimmer receives a point for writing on the blackboard. Gerri Lee gets one point for any correction she makes. Also looking for errors is Mrs. Regener.

Business Education

Typewriters, adding machines make business scene

Several new courses were added to the Business Department this year giving students a wider variety of classes from which to choose. Also Typing I was offered to freshmen. According to Mrs. Frost, this is working well and is to be continued next year.

Filled this year was a Business English class. This was a one semester course and was backed by Personal Money Management second semester. This class is designed to help students manage their own money—buying on the installment plan, handling a checking account, etc.

Intensive Office Practice, a two-hour block class, was initiated this year. It is a Federally-funded program and has a maximum size of 20 students. In this course, the basic fundamentals of filing are learned and students spend several weeks learning to operate various office machines. The remainder of the year was spent working in simulated office situations.

Several courses of typing were taught. Typing I was offered to all students, and for those who wished to continue in typing there was Intermediate Typing and Typing II. Students who were not interested in a business career could take Personal Typing and Notehand.

Data Processing was a one semester class that offered the challenge of learning different unit record equipment machines—keypunch, sorter, etc.

For students wanting to learn about the economy, General Business was offered.

If a student was pursuing a career in accounting or just wanted to be able to keep track of personal finances, bookkeeping was a helpful course.

Combining ability and skill, shorthand students learned to take dictation and were able to transcribe their notes.

For a Data Processing assignment, seniors, Rita Wies and Tim Dwyer wire a control panel board.

Learning and practicing the fundamentals of Shorthand I are juniors, Beverly Sammons and June Sanchez.

Preparing pans for muffin dough is Linda Anglin, senior.

Debbie Paxton is tracing markings while Neita Corbin is helping cut out her pattern.

Home Economics

Cooking, sewing play key roles in home economics

Putting the final touches on a coat for a Clothing I assignment, Romelia Gloria prepares to sew on buttons and Darlene Gurule is cutting out material to be used for pockets on her coat.

One semester courses were new this year in Home Economics. A Clothing I course offered in-depth work on clothing selection and students made four or five garments.

Second semester there was a course in Child Development which entailed practice in a small play school.

Family Living, a course for seniors, covered such things as financial management, food, health, child care, parenthood, and preparation for a successful marriage.

Home Economics I, II, and III were also offered to girls. Home nursing, sewing, managing personal and family resources, planning the future, and cooking were included in these classes.

Music, Art

Individual fulfills artistic needs in fine arts

Directing the orchestra in preparation for an evening concert is Miss Carol Mignot.

Under the direction of Mrs. Berlene Casselberry, the Chorus performs for the students during Homecoming Assembly.

The Fine Arts Department included classes in chorus, orchestra, band, art, and crafts designed to fill basic human needs. According to Mr. Knight, department head, with increased leisure time the individual has more opportunity for fulfilling his artistic needs.

An innovation in the music department was a ninth grade chorus class in which an introduction to music reading exercises was featured.

The orchestra performed in the District VII Music Festival in addition to regularly scheduled concerts.

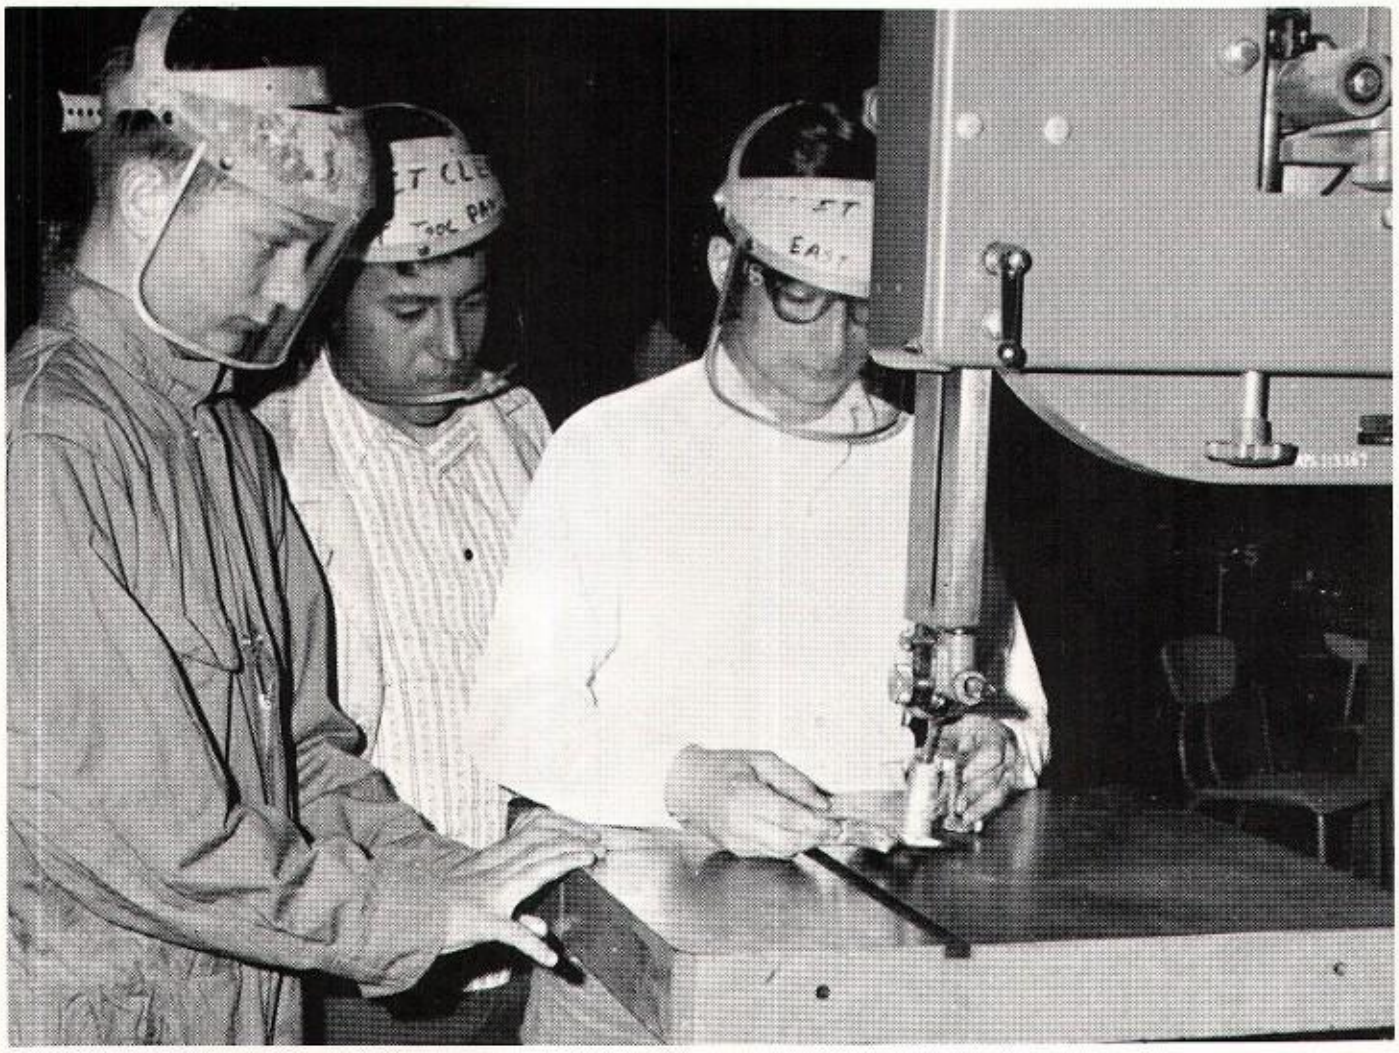
Many different types of music were presented by all bands to provide more variety in their performances.

A series of noon concerts was initiated this year by the Stage Band. Because of high student interest in popular music, a second stage band, which practiced after school, was begun.

Through the use of colorful movies and slides, as well as practice in painting and drawing, students studied some of the more modern schools of art. Added this year was a project in Psychedelic Poster Design Illustration.

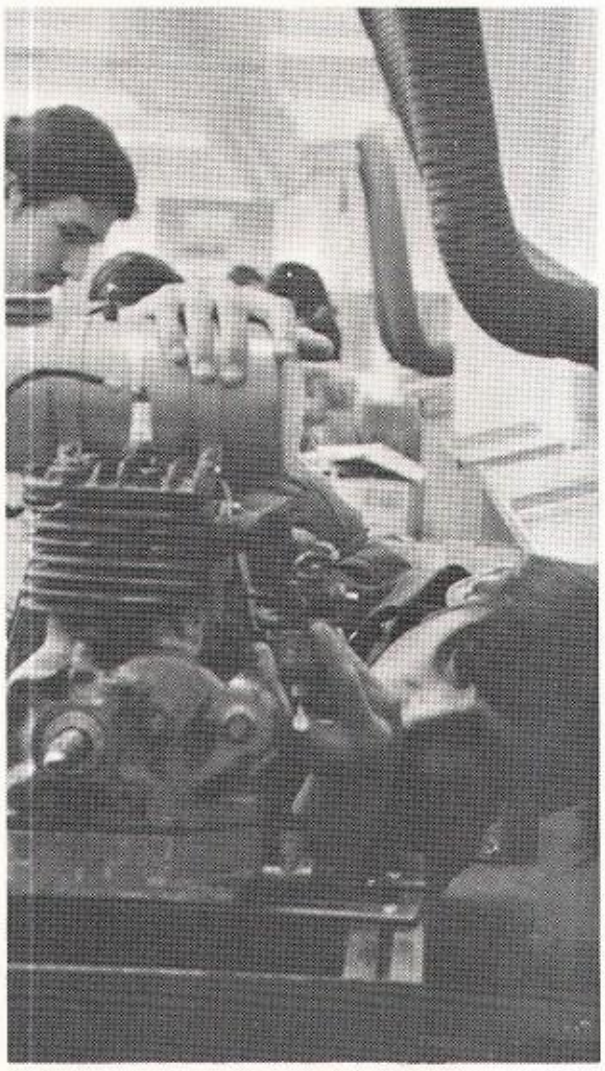
In addition to beginning and advanced art, a Commercial Art class stressed the basic structures used in art in the business world.

In crafts class the acquisition of two additional clay closets for the storage of ceramic work in progress reduced the incidence of accidental breakage. A more highly structured course that gave students a broader experience than was previously available was stressed.



An aluminum casting on the bandsaw is worked on by John Truden, as Mark Howett and Eugene Flores look on.

Manual skills have major role in world society



Checking the float level of a carburetor for Power Mechanics, are Jeff Gurule and David Jaramillo.

Connecting a transmission to an engine in Power Mechanics are Boney Miera and Joe Cruz.

In our industrialized society, manual skills still play a major role.

Metals I and II were offered to interested students this year. The Metals II classes worked on more difficult projects while Metals I concentrated on machine shop functions.

Drafting included free-handed drawing and geometric construction.

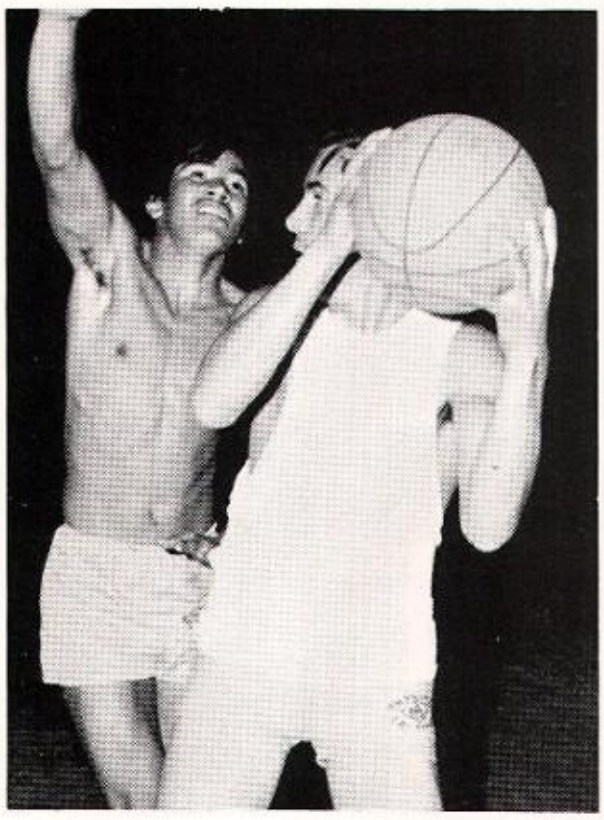
The principals and effects of electricity gave students practical knowledge that they applied later in repairing small appliances.

In Woodworking boys designed and constructed their own project.

Learning all about engines was the objective of Power Mechanics.

Physical Education Department

Team sports, individual fitness, special courses, health comprise physical education curriculum



Eloy Urias, senior, makes an attempt to block a shot by Frank Taddy, senior, in Boys PE.

In West Mesa physical education, each girl is given the opportunity to participate in activities and learn skills necessary to enjoy more fully leisure time both in school and in adult life.

While in Physical Education emphasis is placed on a general conditioning program. Special emphasis is placed upon fundamentals for team sports.

A special Girl's P.E. class is offered to senior girls with above average grades and a teacher recommendation. This class left campus for activities which include swimming, tennis, and bowling.

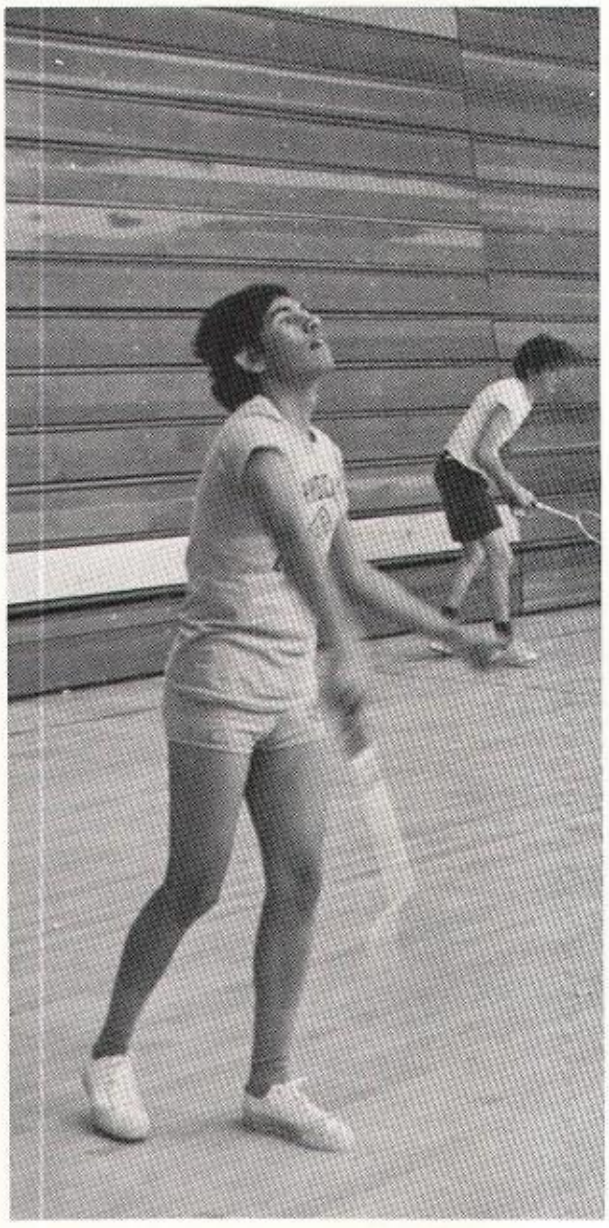
Enrollment in Boys Physical Education reached a total of 1065 students.

The program was divided into four areas; health, team sports, individual sports and physical fitness. Sports such as basketball, track, tennis, gymnastics, flag football, golf, tumbling and health were included in these areas.

Boys are grouped into these areas according to their pretesting in fitness at the beginning of the year.

All Freshmen boys are required to take one semester of health.

Karate-the art of personal defense- is being practiced in PE III by Debbie Warwick and Nancy Shope, juniors.



After serving the 'birdie' in badminton, Anthony Maldonado, sophomore, awaits its return.

JNROTC

JNROTC activated in fall assembly

Junior Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps, activated this year, helped prepare cadets for military duty while teaching leadership.

The boys spent three days a week engaged in regular classroom activities and two days of military training.

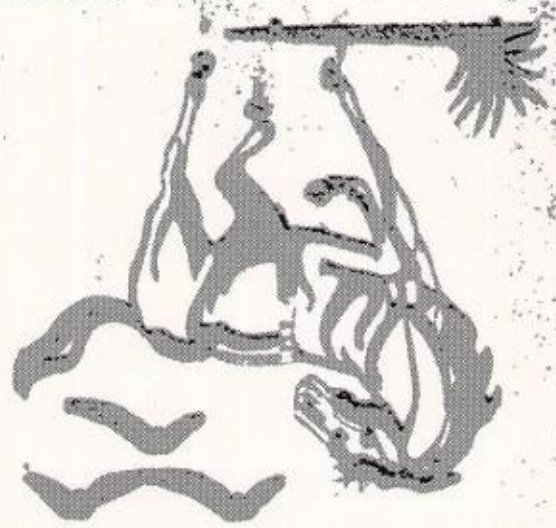
Improving the quality of citizenship is the main objective of NJROTC.

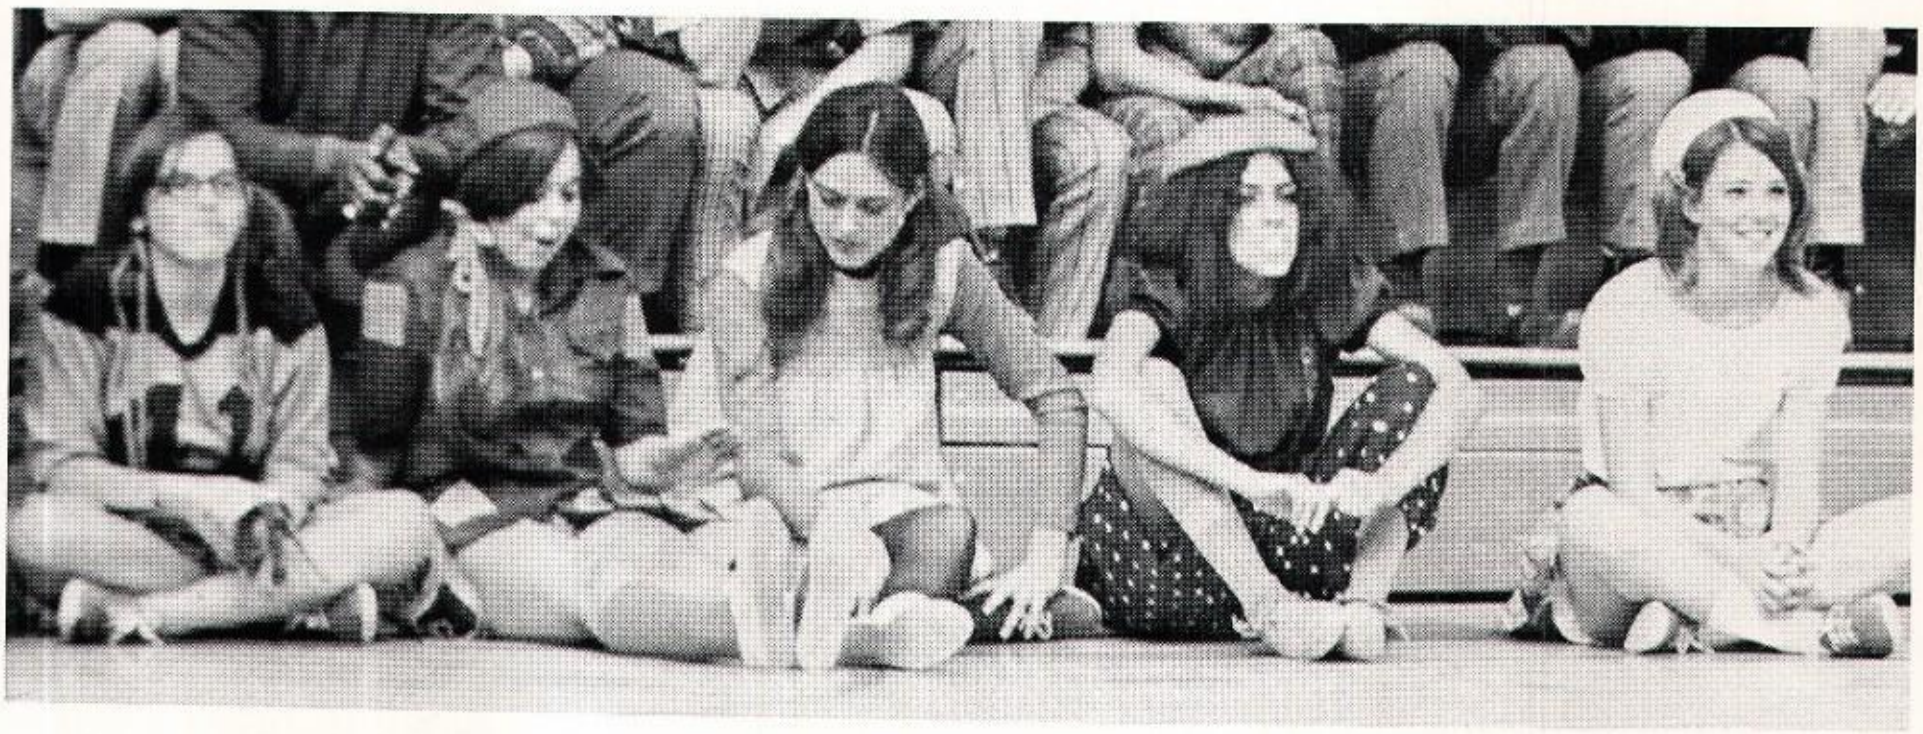
Donating $660 to the Kidney Foundation, $300 to the Hearing and Speech Center, and helping in the Toys for Tots drive were some functions of the group this year.

The two main activities were the Military Ball and a field trip April 5-9 to San Diego.

In the future, Commander Orval Hughes would like to see a Girls' auxiliary in addition to the regular program.

Presenting a plague to Principal Evans during activation ceremonies of JNROTC is Rear-Admiral Robert MacPherson.





Each student is beautiful in his own way, no longer caring about another's skin coloring or his race, but looking deeper into others to find their emotions, beliefs and ethics. Individuals now try to relate to others, to discuss the meaning of life, to reach out to develop relationships, to push forward into the world, to make a place for themselves in life. . .
the beauty of students.

Senior council sponsors projects, raises money for gift

Starting off a successful final year, the Senior Council sponsored 1970 Homecoming. Dedicated members decorated the gym for the traditional dance.

In November came the 1 + 1 Band Festival starring the Backyard Grass and the West Mesa Stage Band.

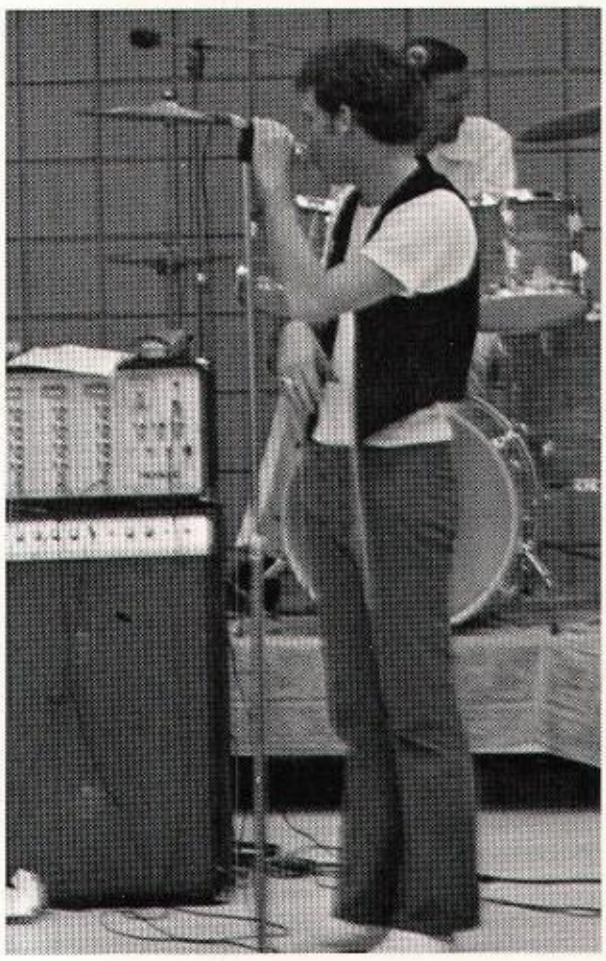
A candy sale was held in January and a melodrama was planned for later in the year.

Sponsors included Mr. Winston Christian, Mrs. Carol Blue, Miss Judith Taylor, Mr. Allen Templeton, Mrs. Mary Jane Major, Mrs. Barbara Spahn, and Mr. Craig Spreacker.

Senior council members were Scott Ware, John Duran, Barbara Bennett, John Martens, Jackie Griffin, Arlene Romero, Frank Shope, Lynn Mason, Nancy Garcia, Jim Hensley, Leola Floren, Marvin Sanchez, Lynn Thunborg, Ronnie Hill, Becky Osborn, Becky Garcia, Jim Thomas, Lorraine Gonzales, Chuck Weidman, Martha Olguin, Mike Hopkins, Orlando Gonzales, Art Casias, Gaylord Lopez, Kathy Leyba, Sally Shoats, Eddie Herrera, Valarie Samford, Henrietta Aragon.

Members at large were Martha Harrison, Clay Means, Joy Noffsinger, Beverly Ball, Dawn Shanklin, Glenn Garvin, Dan Caffry, Karlan Gamble and Nancy Berry.

Officers of the Senior Council are Patricia Banks, vice-president; Billy Ballou, president; Laurie Rowe, assistant secretary; Neddy Garcia, treasurer. Not pictured is Janis Griffin, secretary.



A member of Backyard Grass entertains students during the 1 + 1 Band Festival.

Four lunch periods become necessary this year

What's so funny? Who knows! Seniors along with their many friends seem to be enjoying the first school day cafeteria lunch.

Juniors
Class of 1972

Junior Council

Plans for Prom developed; membership rules changed

Planning and developing the theme of Woodstock for the Junior-Senior Prom occupied much of the time of the Junior Council.

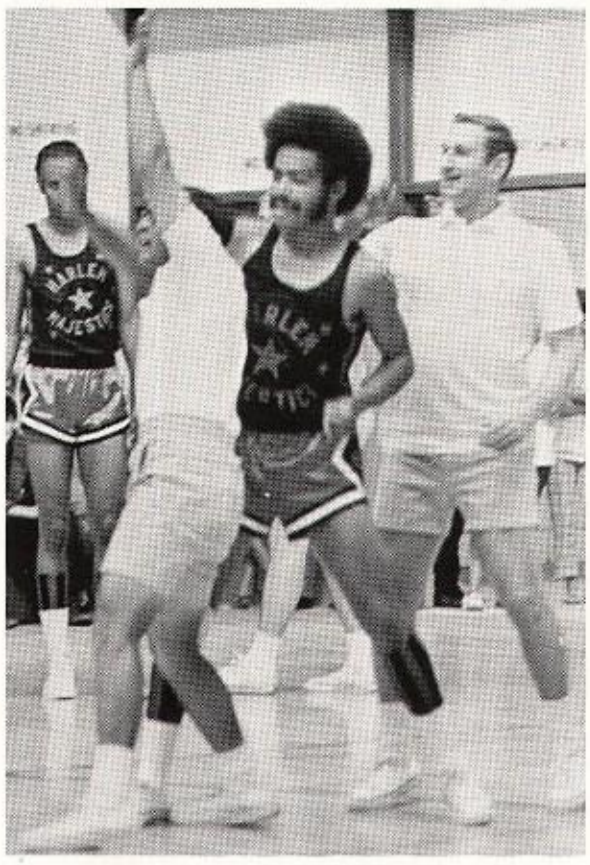
To arrive at their choice, the council selected three themes. The final decision was left to the Junior class which voted for their choice in English and history classes. Other suggested themes included "Color My World," and "Reflections of My Life."

A motion passed by the council provided an option to any junior interested in helping the Junior class have more voice in the proceedings of the council. Any member of the Junior class could attend the meetings, and after three consecutive meetings was recognized as a voting delegate. If a student missed a meeting, he lost his voting privileges until attending three more meetings. As a result of the motion, the council was composed of not only the delegates elected at the beginning of the year, but the entire Junior class. "The reason this motion was passed," said Rick Quezada, president, "was that we hoped to get more students interested in what their class was accomplishing, and also to get a wider variety of student opinion. Many students with good ideas were not elected because they were not popular. Now everyone can help make our class better."

Other projects included a candy sale early in the year and sponsoring a basketball game between the Harlem Majestics and West Mesa faculty. The council hoped to have another project in the spring but it was still in the planning stages.

Sponsors for the class of 1972 included Mrs. Erlinda Aragon, Mrs. Lee Bridges, Mrs. Pamela Bishop, Mr. David Swinford, Mr. Bradford Dalton, and Mr. Roy Rivera.

1972 officers are Rob Thompson, parlimentarian; Jack Woody, historian; Bernice Aragon, secretary; Dolores Delao, treas., Leonard Castellano, V.P.; Richard Quezada, pres.



Coach Jimmy Juarez blocks Al Davis of the Harlem Majestics in a game sponsored by the Junior Council.

Sophomore Council

Class sponsors winter dance, candy sale

Buttons proudly displaying "Super Soul '73" were worn by many sophomores this year. The button sale was one of the council's main activities and succeeded in boosting class spirit.

Other activities included sponsoring a Winter Dance on February 27, 1971. in place of the traditional Christmas Dance. A candy sale was held later in the year.

Sponsoring the class were Mr. John Montano, Mrs. Dorothy Black, Mrs. Cheryl Auman, Mrs. Darlene Sackett, and Mr. Herbert Graubard.

Class of 1974

Freshmen Council

Electing officers, working together begins first year

After weeks of campaigning the Freshmen elected their first year officers. Coordinating the council and class to work together was the main activity of the officers.

The first activity was decorating the cafeteria during Homecoming. The council also sponsored a dance February 5, 1971, with The Living End supplying the music. Council members sold Karate tickets in Febru ary.

Sponsors of the class were Mrs. Jo Ann Street and Mr. John Epler.

Members of the Freshmen Council were Gloriann Abeyta, Tillie Apodoca, Rudy Baca, Dolores Ball, Phillip Banks, Dolores Chavez, Patricia Chavez, Frances Cox, Vanessa Crader, Dennis Doughty, Kim Easley, Marcella Felix, Teddy Frueno, Virginia Quintana, Danny Herrera.

Other members include Kathy Sandoval, Mike Lewis, Marilyn Maes, James Medina, Cecilia Maestas, Donald Martinez, Lynn Martinez, Jennie Mora, Wanda Montes de Oca, Dennis Obermiller, Ricky Perea, Joan Pulakos, Cathy Roemer, Judy Lopez, Margret Serna, Kim Smith, Leonard Martinez, Michael Stapleton, Paul Torrez, Juanita Vigil, Vanessa Whitaker, Johnny Montoya, Jeff Severinghaus, Pearl Lindstrom, Debbie Gurule, Wally Gardipe, Diane Chavez, Betty Lujan, Ronnie Rael, Lou Ann Sord.

Officers of the Freshmen class are Ita Archibeque, vice-president; Dennis Obermiller, parlimentarian; Lorraine Maes, secretary; David Cox, president; Sandra McBride, treasurer; and Rudy Baca.

Vitality in action, the release of energy into motion, the conflicts in competition are part of the beauty of winning. Team work and individual effort develop a sense of awareness and coordination of thoughts and actions. . . the beauty of sports.

fight all the way for WMHS

Sparked by fine play all sesson, the Mustangs finished with a solid 6-3-1 record.

The season began with a convincing 19-8 over the Portales Rams. The next three games saw the Mustangs fall from the win column, with losses to Del Norte and Manzano, and a heart-breaking tie to Rio Grande.

At this point, it looked like the grid season would end up in a disaster, but a 22-8 victory in Gallup evened the Mustangs's record to 2-2-1.

The homecoming game against AHS was full of surprises. The Mustangs defeated the Bulldogs with the highest point total of the season, making the final score 35-19.

Over confidence almost ruined the season in the game against Eldorado, salvaging the game in the fourth quarter the Mustangs finally cor. quered the Eagles 14-6.

Going into the Valley game, WM was a heavy underdog but the Mustangs were also nearing their peak. Surprising everyone, the griders completely dominated the Vikings, smashing them 21-0.

The stage was now set for what most people considered "the game of the year." Highland Hornets, who needed but one victory to clinch the 2AAAA title faced the improving Mustangs in a contest that left many awed at what WM came close to accomplishing. The Mustangs held the Hornets scoreless the first three quarters.

In the fourth quarter Highlands Dave Powdrell took off on a 62 yd. end sweep. The final score, HHS 6-WM 0.

The season final saw the Mustangs demolish hapless Sandia by a score of 29-0.

for a West Mesa victory

West Mesa's Mustang basketball team got off to a slow start losing their first four games to Farmington, Manzano, Los Alamos and Del Norte.

A win over Rio Grande gave them the confidence they needed for the Highland High School Invitational Tournament. Going into the tournament, the Mustangs defeated West Las Vegas by a score of 61-58. The last two games were both lost to Los Alamos and Highland.

The 1970-71 U of A champions, the Albuquerque High Bulldogs, conquered the Mustangs, 70-47. Valley got by West Mesa by six points.

Manzano's second time round was an unforgettable one losing to the determined Mustangs, 51-50.

The encounter with Highland was a heart breaker as the Mustangs lost by three in the last two minutes of the game. WM sought revenge on Del Norte by a non-suprizing 52-44 win.

West Mesa came out 1-2 at the U of A tournament, defeating Rio Grande and losing to St. Puis and Valley. Mustangs placed sixth.

The upset of the year almost happened as the Mustangs lost a heart breaker to AHS. WM was leading the Bulldogs the first three quarters of the game. But the fourth quarter vanished their hopes and they lost, 50-41.

Two wins against Valley and Eldorado and a loss against Sandia helped to close the 1970-71 prep season.

Games against HHS, SHS and Sante Fe had not been played before the El Chicote deadline.

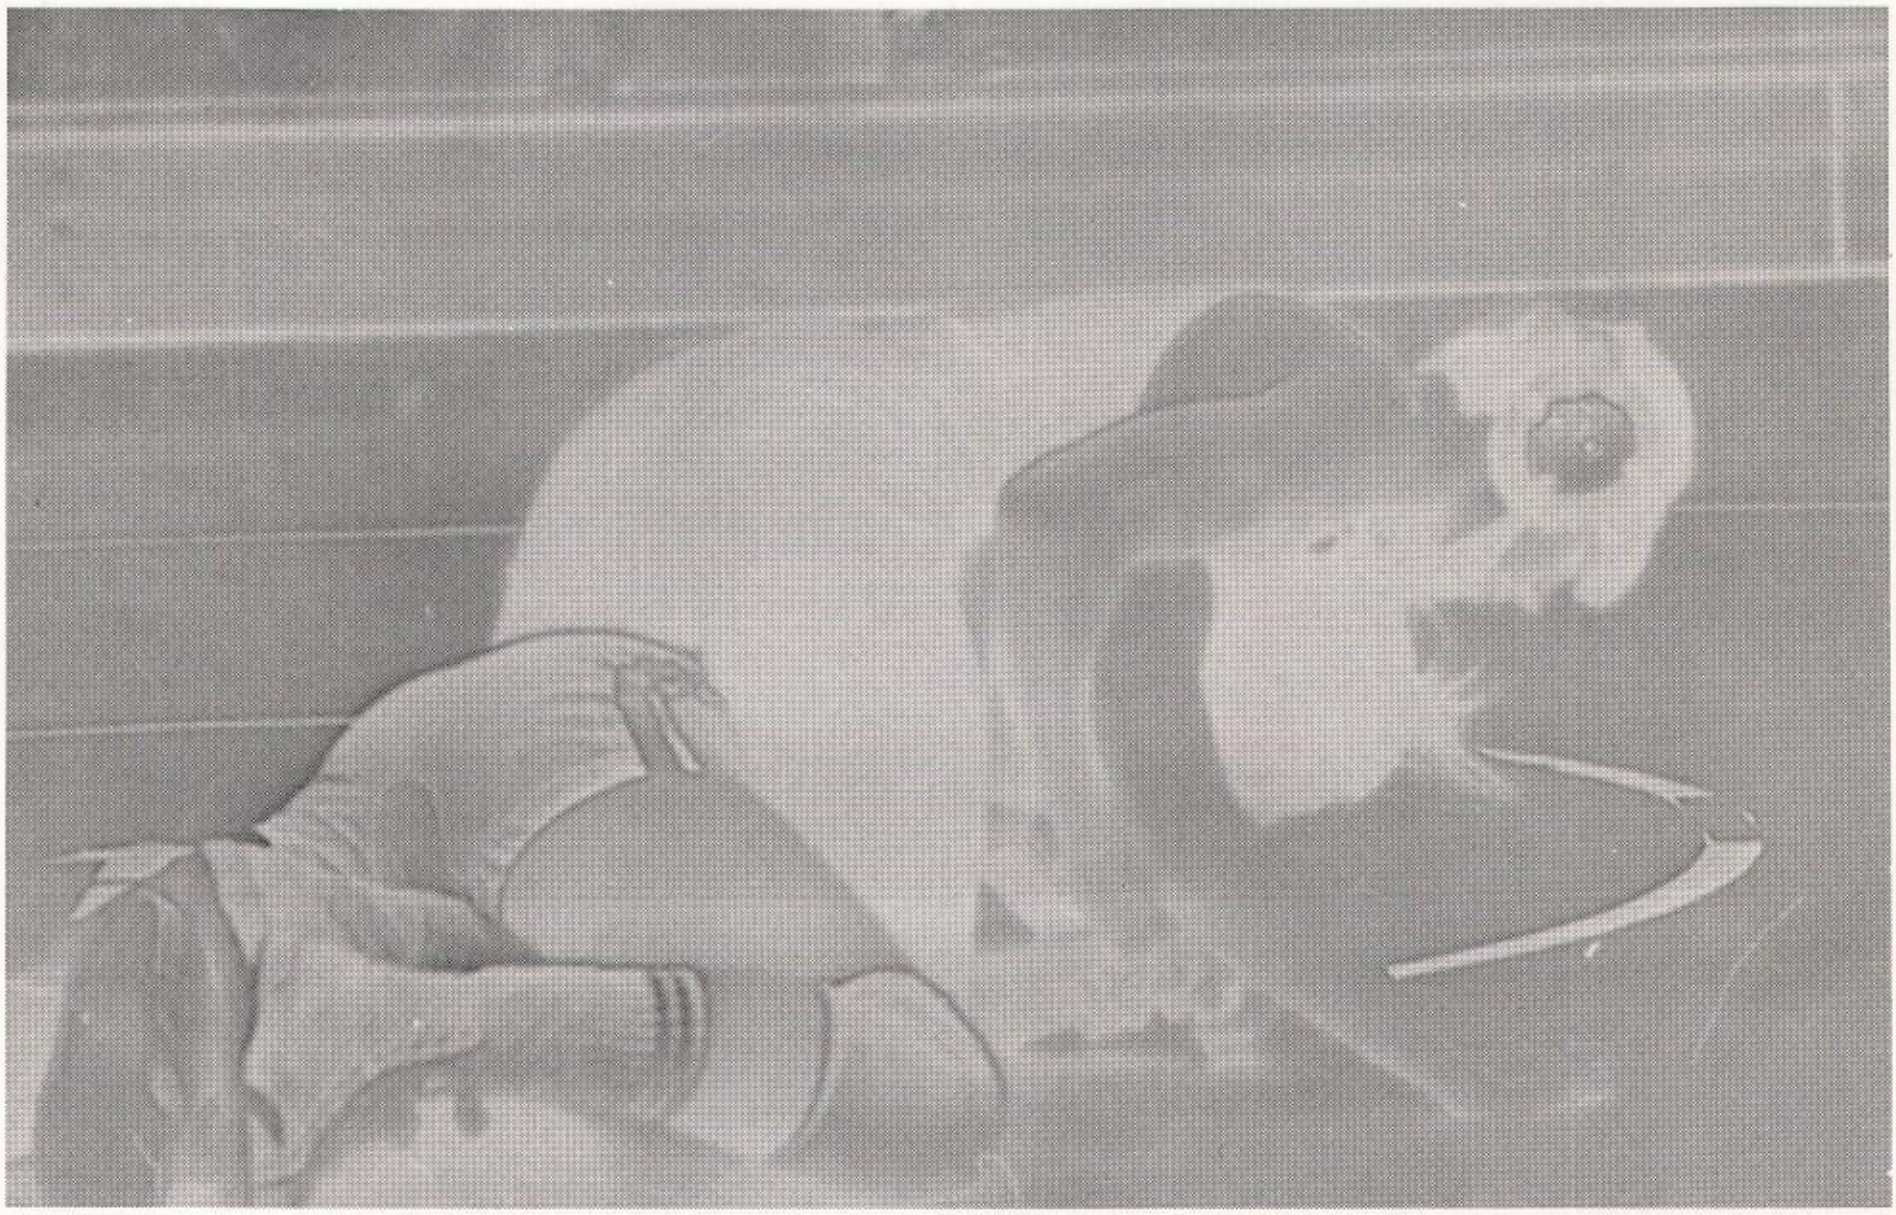
Wrestling is a sport of endurance, co-ordination

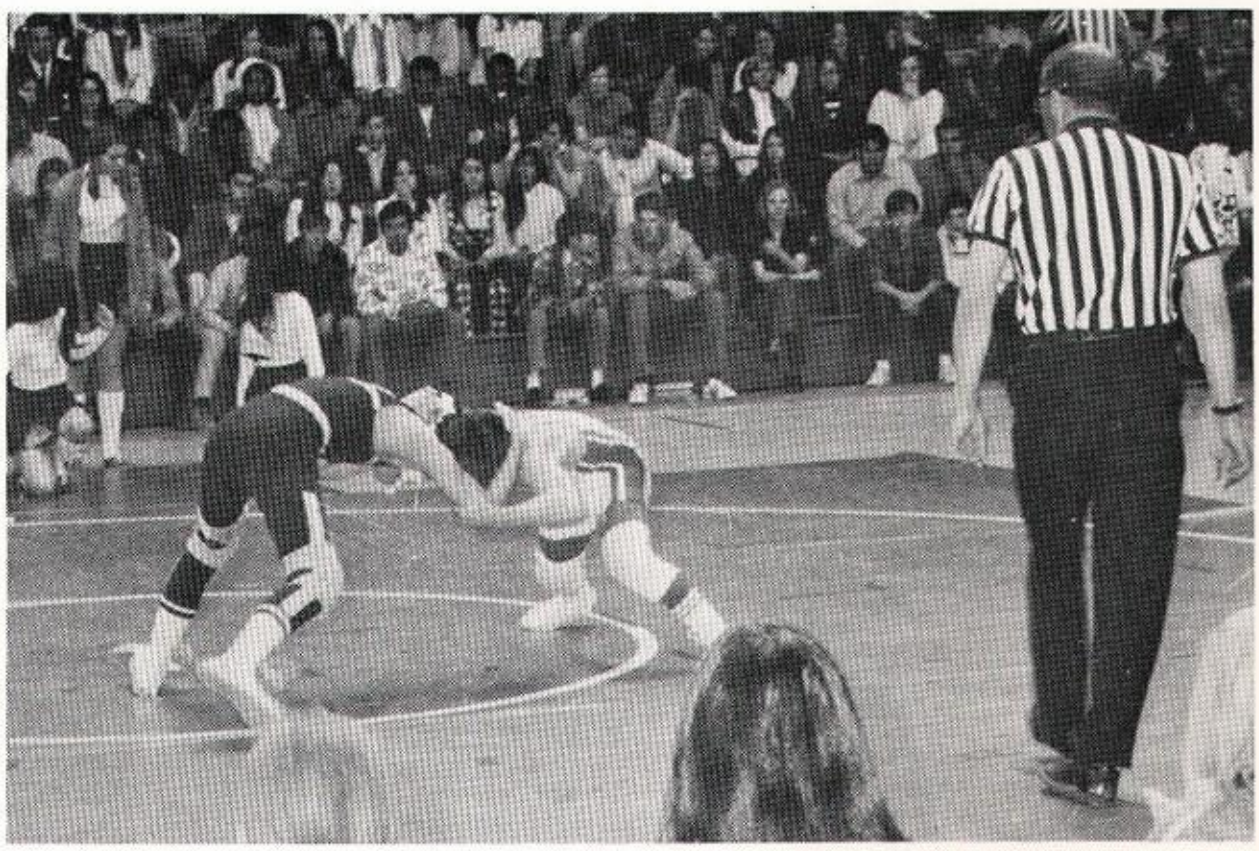
Wrestling is often thought of as a sport which matches muscle against muscle. This is part of the sport but only a small part.

When paired in a match, two people must test their endurance, muscle, and co-ordination against one another. When a combination of these three are used, only the best wrestler is victorious.

A boy any size can be a successful wrestler. West Mesa's team consisted of 46 wrestlers weighing from 98 to over 185 lbs. Twelve of these boys were on the varsity squad.



The excitement builds as Mike Ochoa tries to break loose and bring down his opponent.



Trying to gain some points in the wrestling assembly against Valley is Marty Gonzales. He is one of two freshmen on the varsity squad.

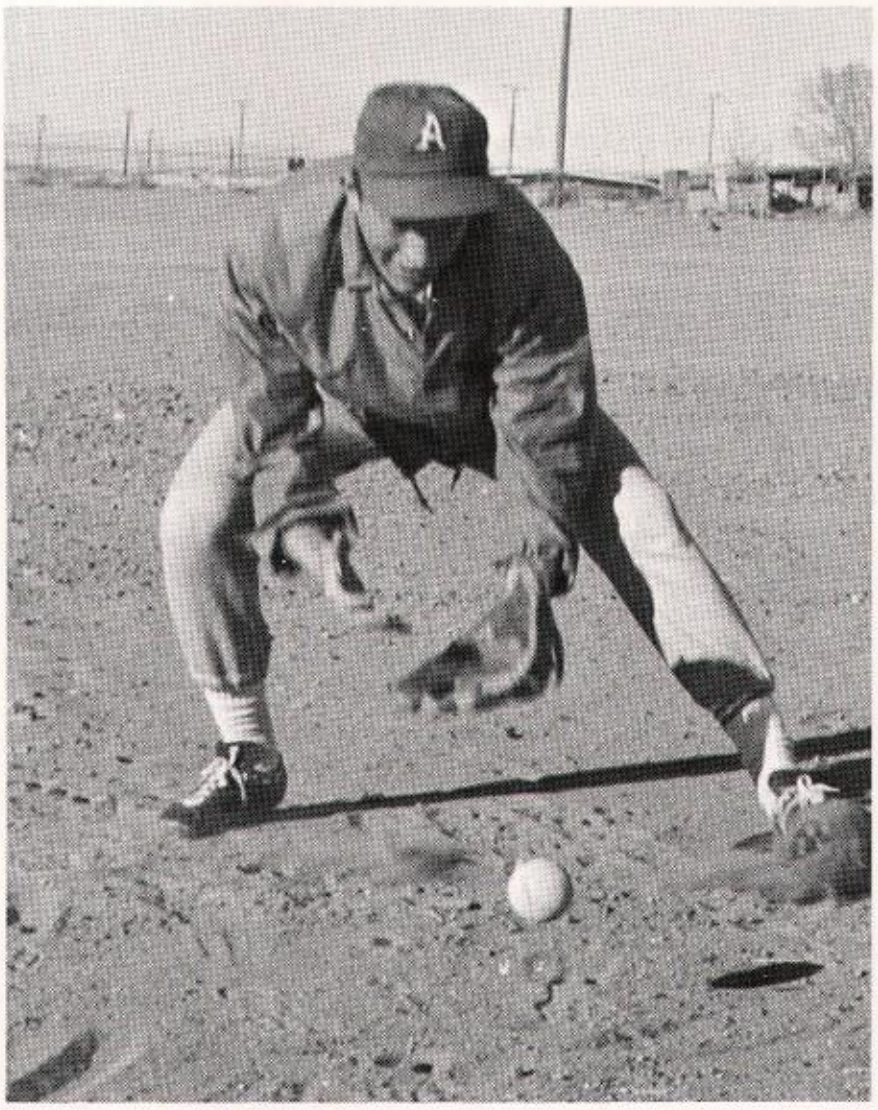
After completing his run, Ernie Pedro receives his place number from the official.

Trackmen begin practice in Feb.; Cross-country has good season

Demanding the excellence of all members in such sports as the long jump, discus throw, high jump, 100, 220, and 440 dashes, 880 and mile runs, and the mile and 440 relay was the goal of Mr. Louis Yannoni, Track and Field coach.

According to Coach Yannoni, "Cross-country is a sport in which all boys can participate. Their speed doesn't matter that much because we don't run a straight course. We run a course two-miles long with hills and flatlands. Six boys run at a time and we receive scores for the first five, one point for first, two for second, etc. The lowest score at the end of the meet wins.



Demonstrating his ability catching grounders is outfielder Bill Gracey.

Girls show athletic skills in basketball, baseball, volleyball

Warming up for basketball are Loretta Lente, Nancy Dugger, Lorraine Funk, Jane Routzen, Joyce Cummings, Peggy Garcia, Alice Pacheco, Bridget Lundy, Larraine Tennison, Juleen Rees, and Ruth Tamura.

Several sports were participated in by girls this year. They included basketball, volleyball, and baseball.

To participate on a team, the girls had to tryout for a sport. Once a girl made a team she was automatically entitled to membership in the Girls Sports Club.

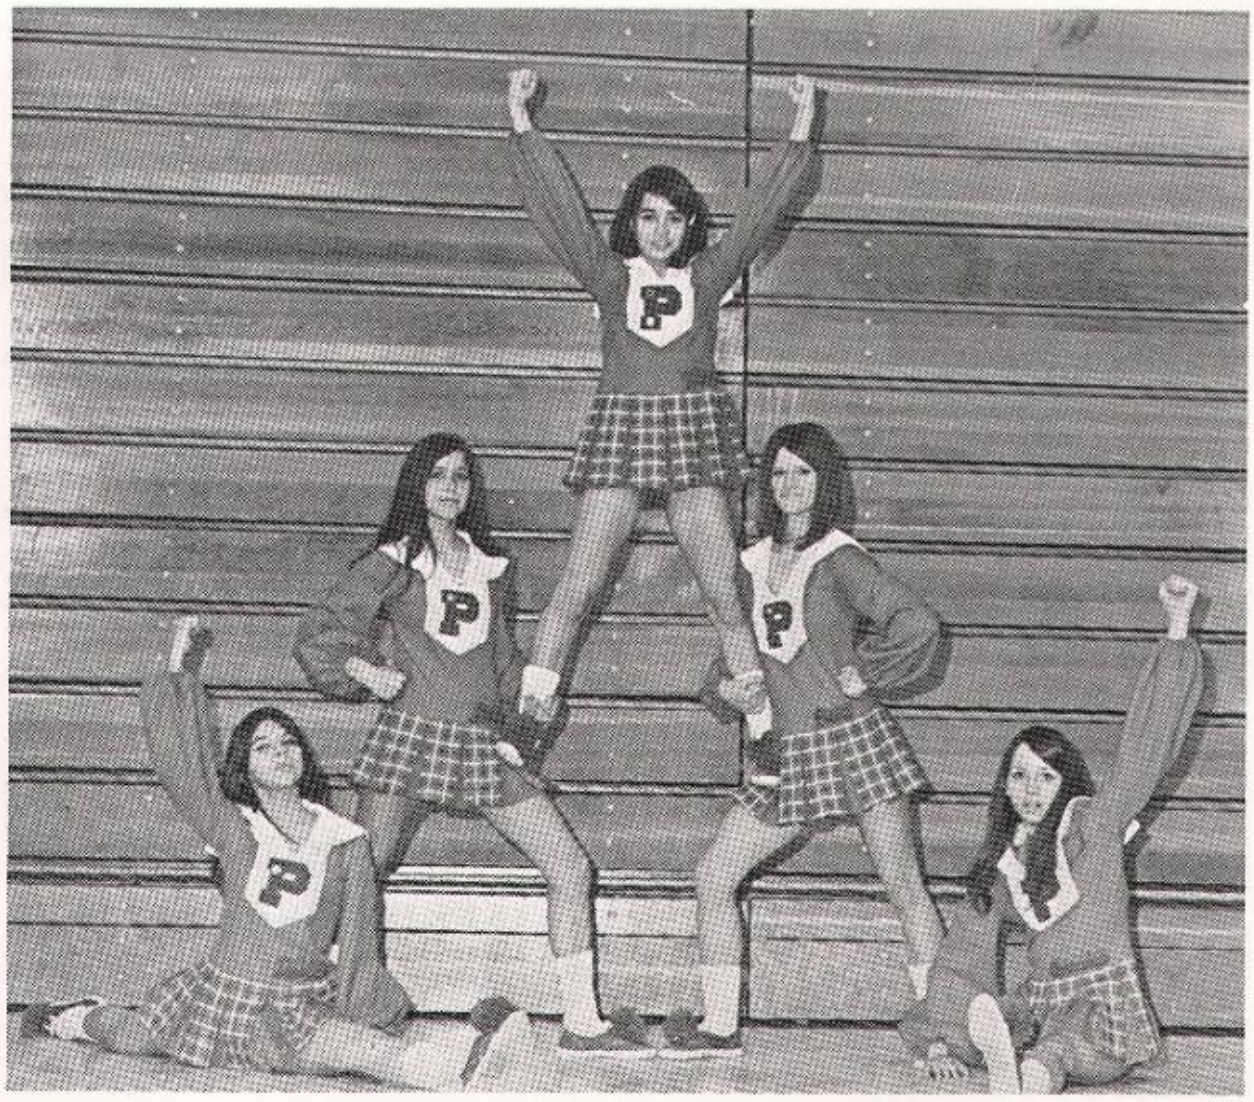
After the teams were choosen the girls practiced everyday after school. When the season got under way, they played teams from other schools.

Darlene Gurule, Thelma Johnson Marsha Lundy, Arleen Sanchez, and Pam Schneider practice rebounding for the next game.

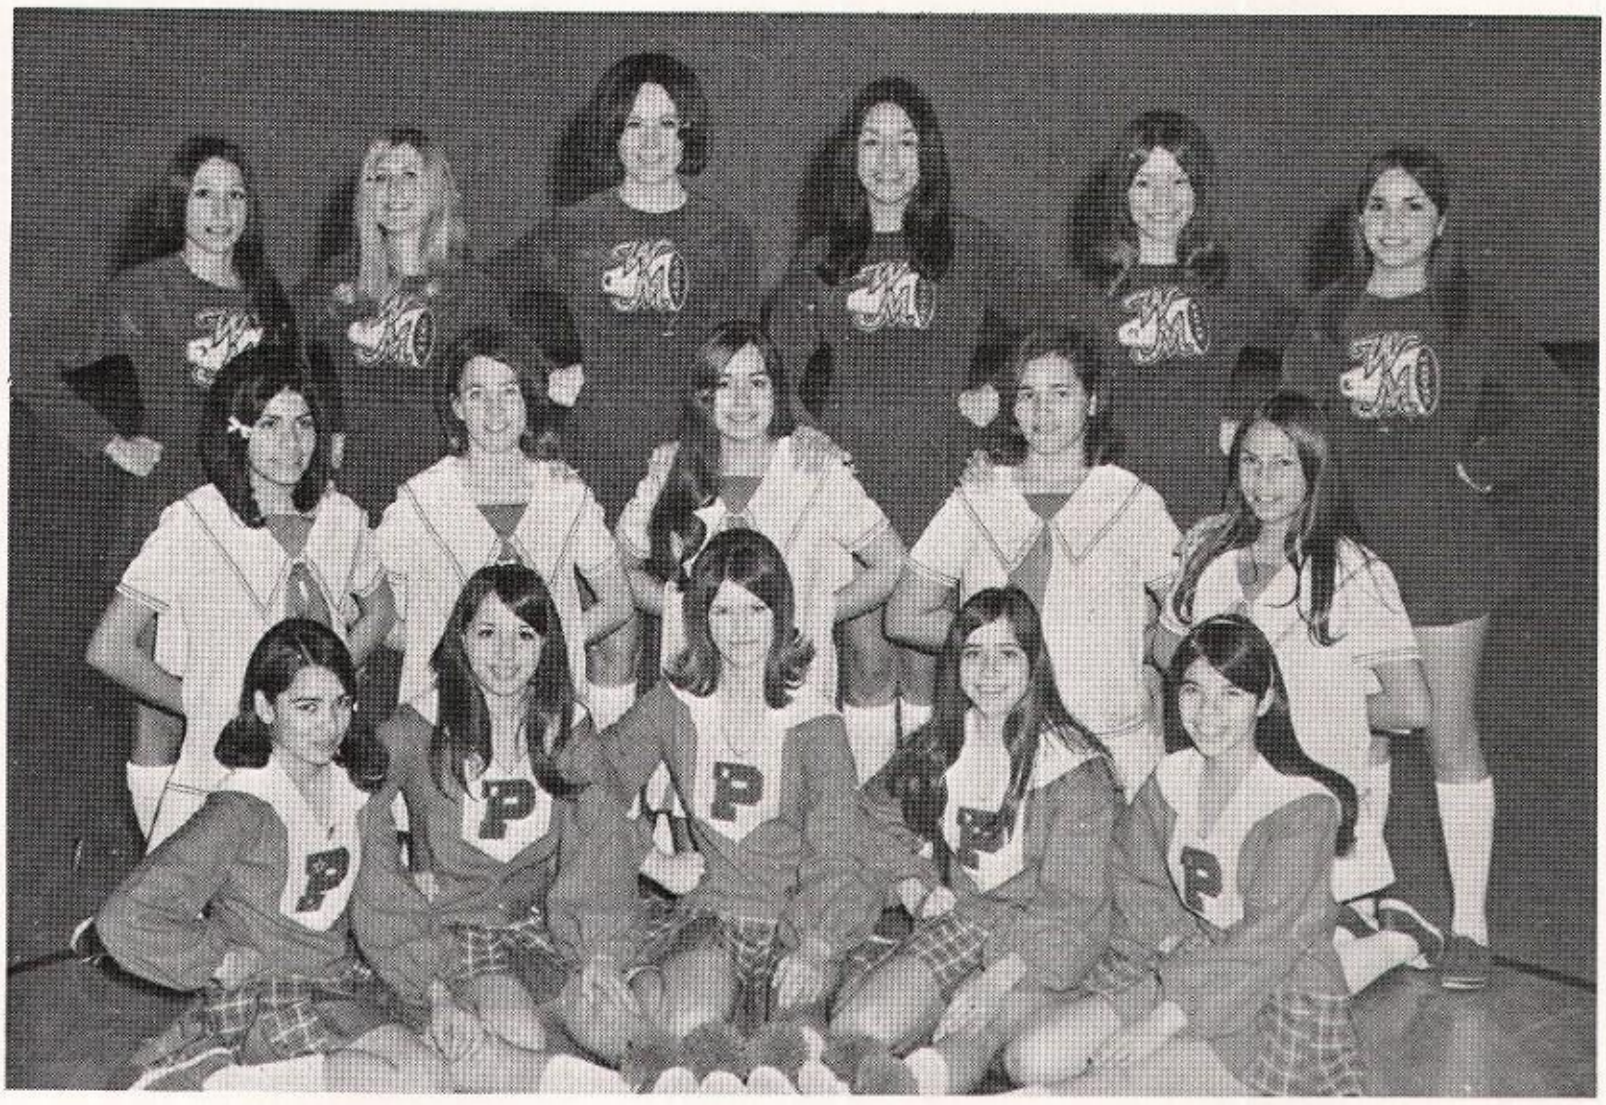
Trying for a basket is Kathy Jordon while Ronnie Silversmith guards and Diane Dow and Mary Brazas look on.

Ponies elected, begin tradition; groups cooperate

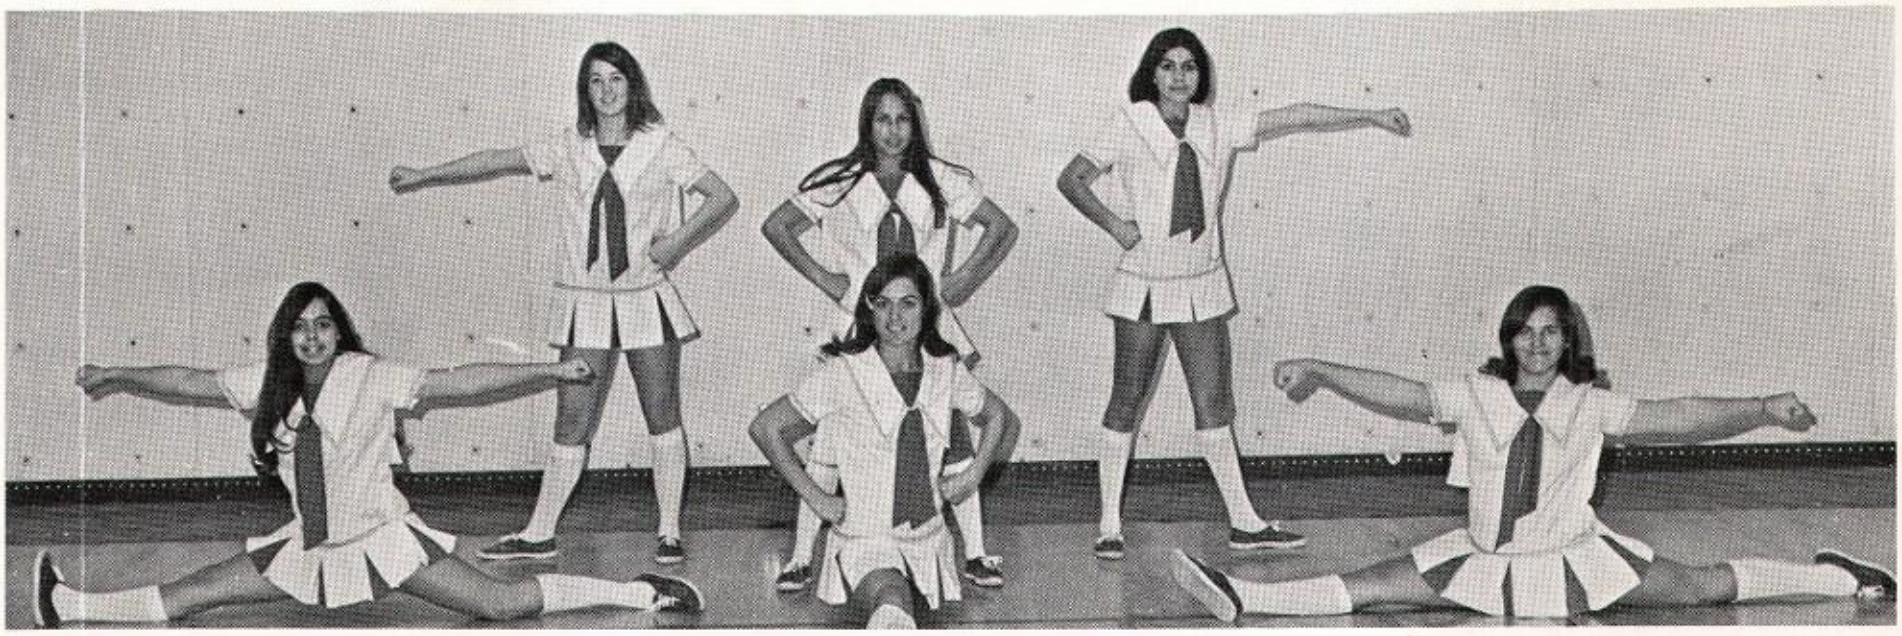
Starting a new tradition for West Mesa, Pony cheerleaders were elected in the fall of 1970. The Ponies cheered at home freshmen games and helped advertise their games. The five girls, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Waneta Jenkins, developed their routines and cheers.



This is WMHS first year to have C-team cheerleaders. The girls who cheer the Ponies on are (top) Diane Chavez, (standing), Delores Chavez and Patty Cockroft, Debbie Gurule and Lorraine Maes.



Practicing together are Ponies Diane Chavez, Lorraine Maes, Patty Cockroft, Dolores Chavez, and Debbie Gurule; Colts, Marilyn Arias, Patsy Schleicher, Patty Chavez, Diana Valdez, Sharon McBride, and Laura Mader, (not shown); Mustangs Lorraine Zamora, Lynn Thunborg, Cathy Boyer, Lorraine Gonzales, Kathy Leyba, and Martha Harrison.



The 1970-1971 B-team cheerleaders are Patsy Schleicher, Sharon McBride, Marilyn Arias, (bottom) Patty Chavez, Laura Mader and Diana Valdez.

Colts promote spirit, paint signs for games, assemblies

Patty Chavez Sharon McBride Laura Mader, Head

Promoting spirit at games and assemblies kept the colts busy this year. The colts cheered at all B-team games, both at home and away.

To perfect their cheers, the girls practiced many hours after school. They also painted signs to announce their games.

To raise money, they sold candy canes in December and Mustang pens at the beginning of the year.

Sponsor of the colts was Miss Helen Cacciatore.

Varsity cheerleaders introduce spirit jug to student body

"Hey, hey, hey, hustle, hustle," and that's what the West Mesa Varsity Six did this year.

After a week of clinic during the summer, these girls brought back a new style of cheering to WM. These cheers have very definite movements and seem to be the "new thing" in cheerleading for the 70's.

Adding to the already busy schedule of a senior, these six girls stayed after school almost every day to perfect their cheers for Mustang athletic events.

Along with the usual pep signs, the varsity cheerleaders made a large pennant representing the 2AAAA District Basketball champions of the 1969-70 season and presented it to this year's basketball team in a January pep assembly.

To boost spirit this year's Mustang cheerleaders introduced the "spirit jug" and also had the traditional spirit stick on hand to present to the class with the most spirit.

Beauty is shown in each passing season, bringing changes in thoughts and feelings. Captured in a picture is portrayed the beauty of an activity, the spirit of a single moment, now passed into the infinity of time, leaving only a memory . . .
the beauty of activities.

Activities

September enrollment up to 3000

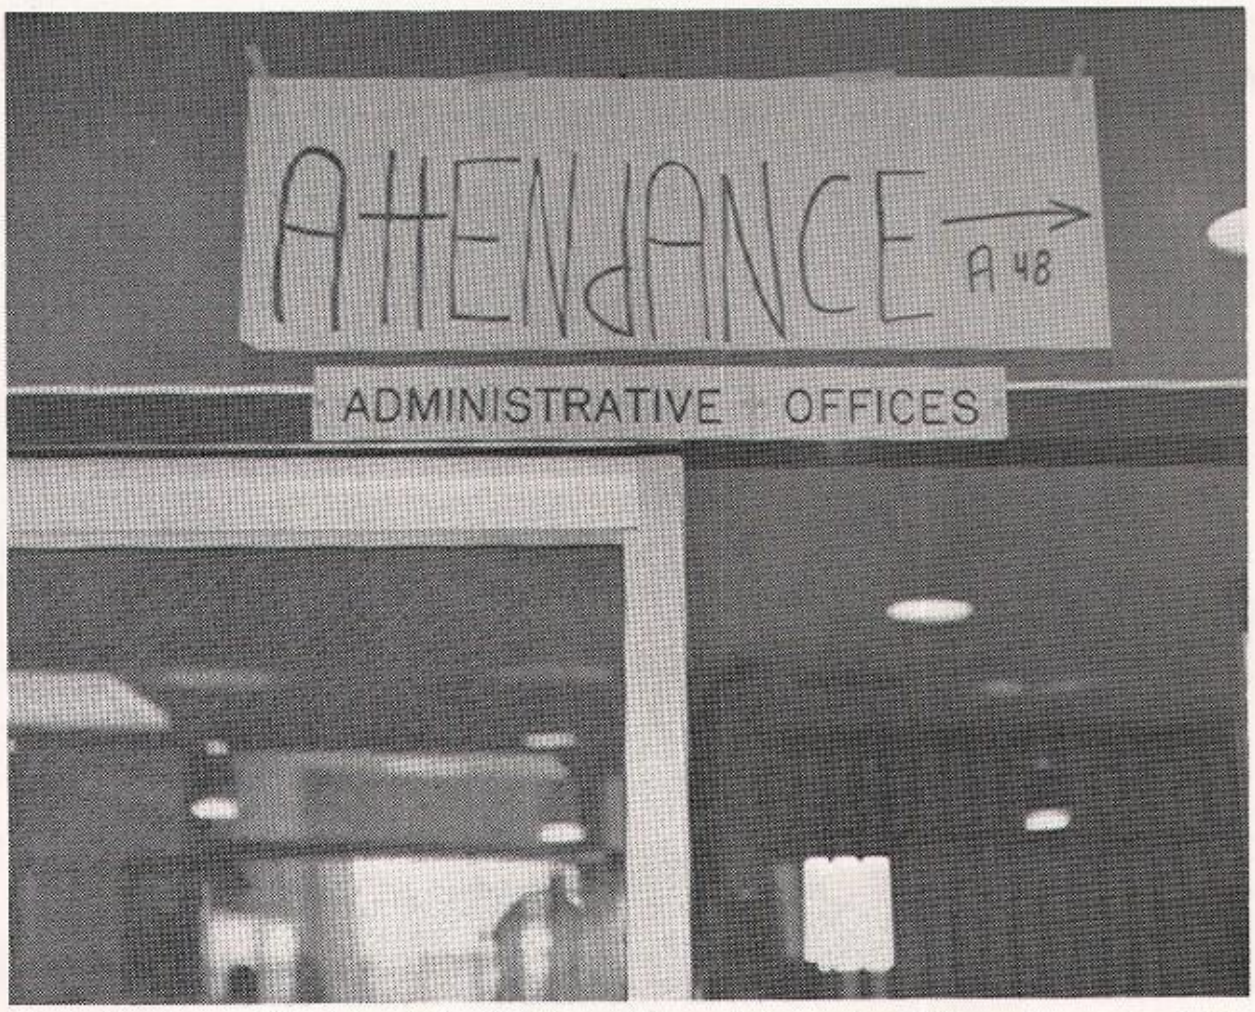
September, as usual, was a month of adjustment, especially for freshmen. It was also the month of the first football game of the season played against Del Norte. School pictures were taken in color this year.

Freshmen-senior week had its fun and disaster. To end the week a roller skating party was held, which partly made up for the pain the freshmen went through.

The first Student Council meeting was held. Freshmen officers were elected and the queen candiates were presented to the senior class.

Glenn Garvin and Cindy Westmoreland were announced as National Merit semi-finalists.

A highlight of the month was a half day off from school to attend the State Fair.



Due to the change of location of the attendance office and changes in policies, perhaps not only the sign painter, but also school personnel, were confused this fall.

Marching along in the New Mexico State Fair parade are West Mesa band members. Pom Pon girls along with the cheerleaders participated, also. This is the fourth consecutive year WM has entered the parade.

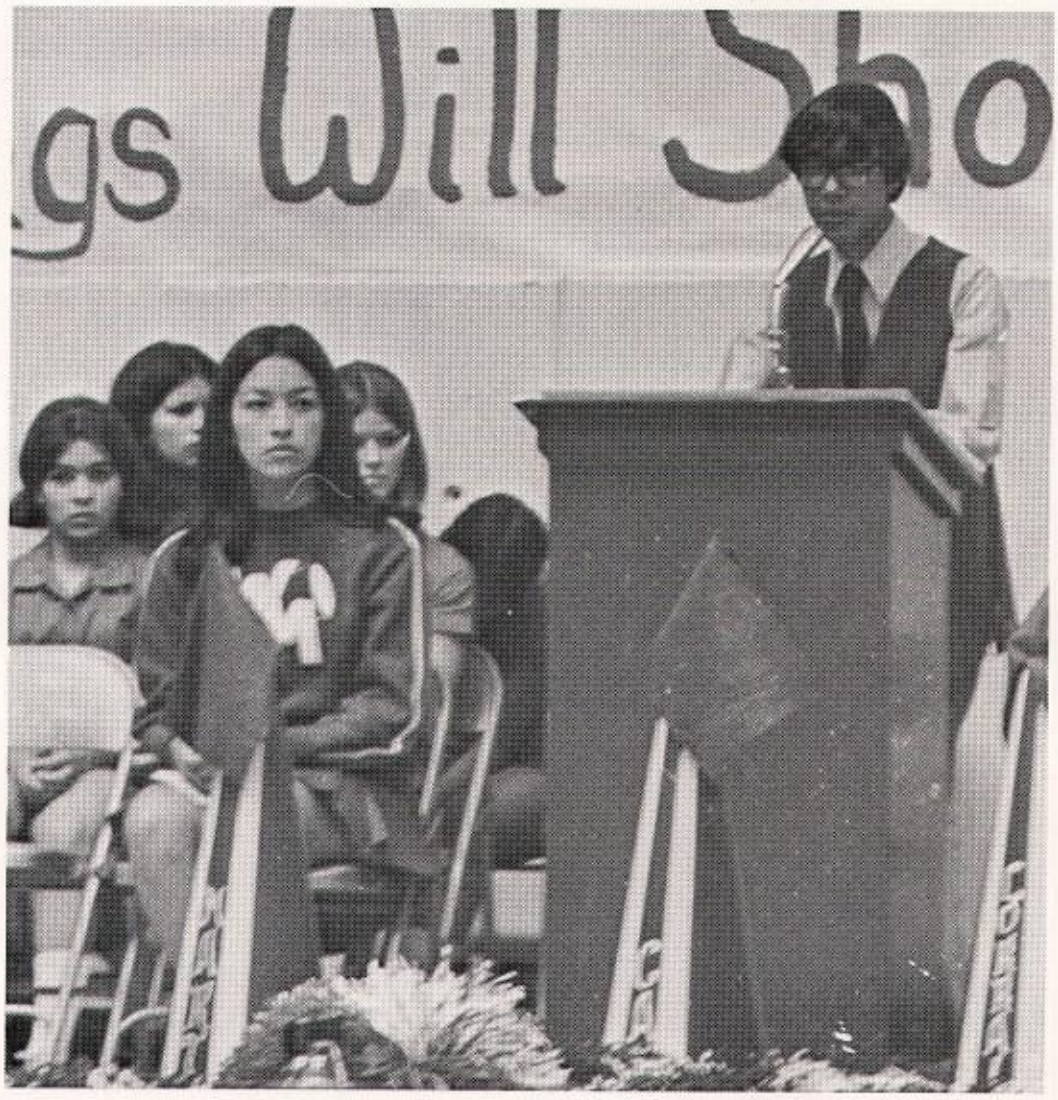
Empty! Clean! Waiting! The custodians spent many hours getting classrooms ready before the first of September when the large number of students will occupy them.

Foreign exchange student, Asim Atay from Turkey, talks to Mr. Joe Griego, assistant principal, about the differences he finds in American schools and those in his own country.

Students crowd the cafeteria before school during the colder weather of October. Many use it as a study hall and others just as a meeting place for friends. Dennis Burnett, senior, talks to a friend as Nancy Oberleightner, the editor of the Mustang World, listens. Perhaps she thinks there is a story in what he says.



During a freshmen assembly the C-team cheerleaders are introduced to be voted on. Richard Quezada talks to them about their responsilbilites.

Mustang Day festivites highlight month of October

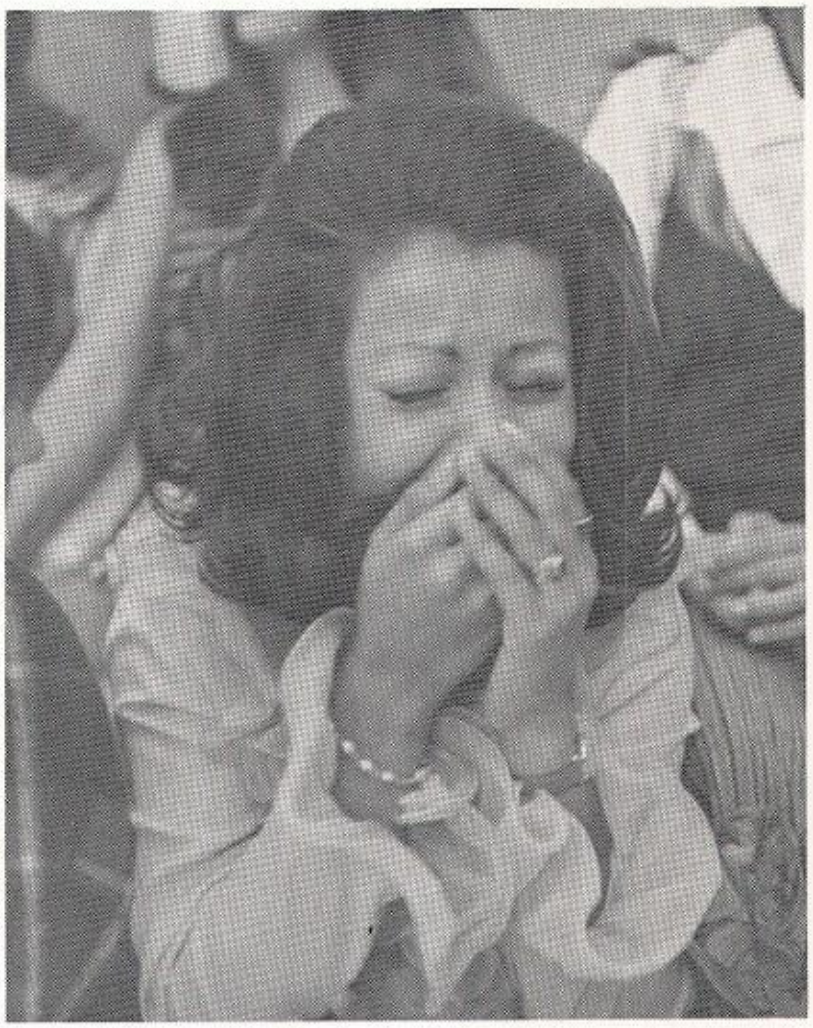
Along with other activities during October was the beauty of the Mustang Day Assembly and the dance.

This was the first year for C-team cheerleaders. Six freshmen out of twelve finalists were chosen.

The Duke City Karate tournament was held in the boys' gym to raise money for the freshmen class.

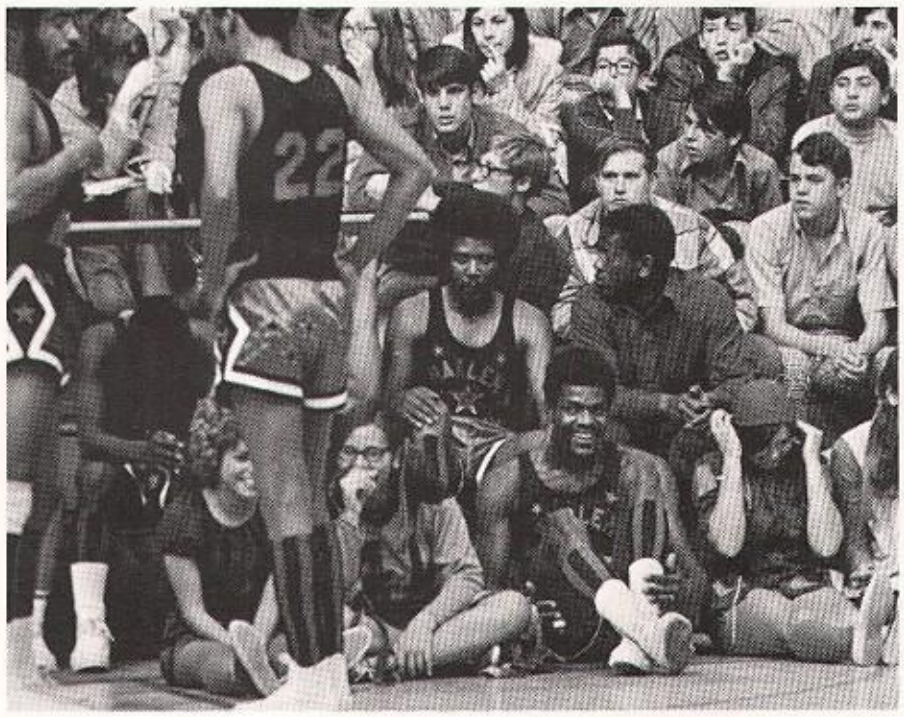
A pep rally one day at which the Pom Pom girls performed a routine broke the monotony of school.

The spirit jug, an innovation this year, is used by Lorraine Zamora to signal the student body when to yell and when to be quiet.

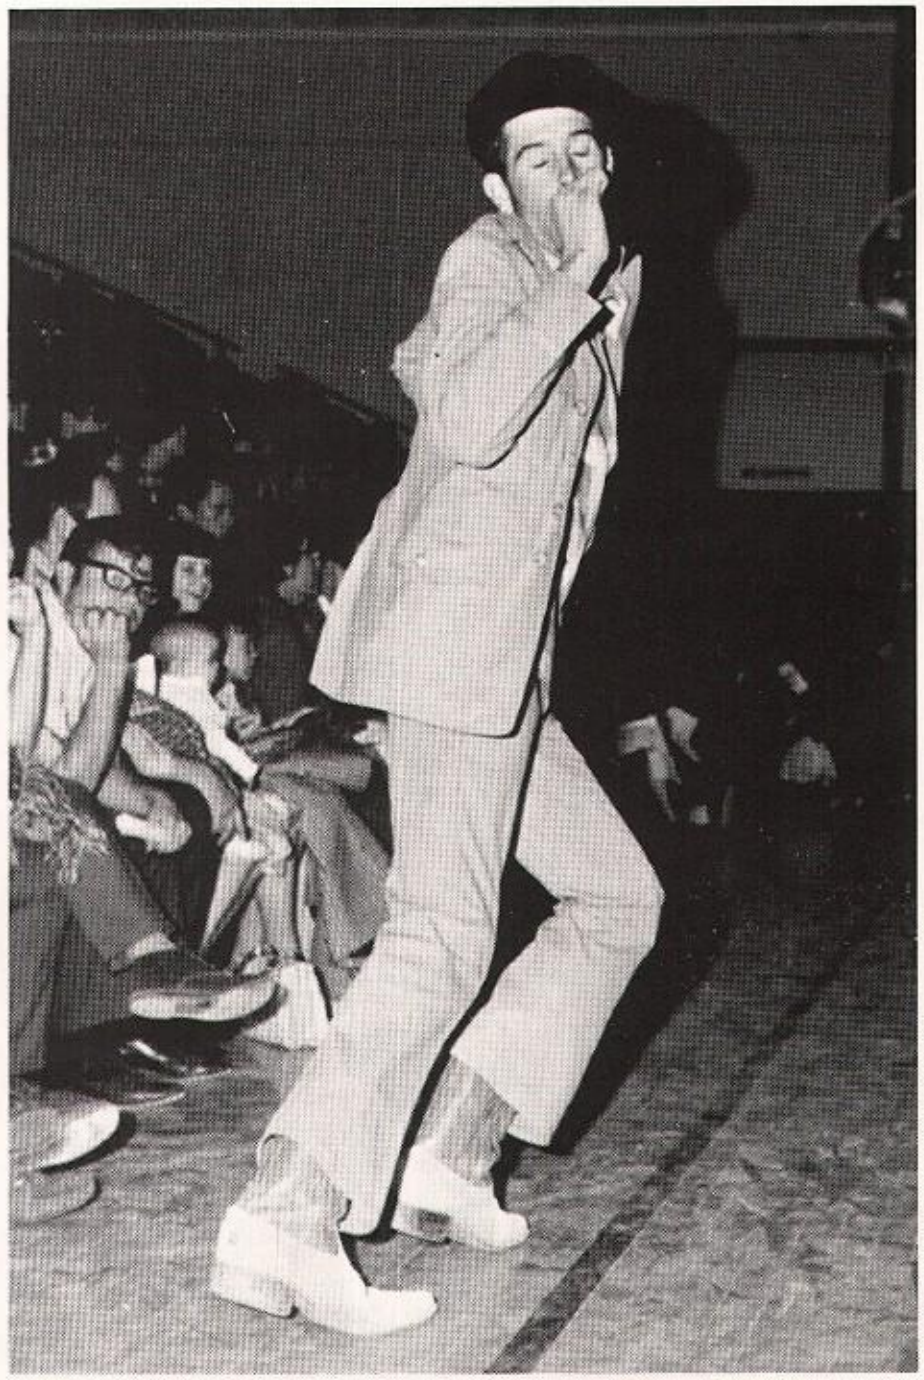


It is a time of mixed emotions for Viola Gonzales when she hears she has won one of the 11 places in the Mustang Day court.

Smiles and laughter fill the gym as the 'Harlem Majestics' provide entertainment.



NJROTC's 'best dressed' boys straight from a hippie colony added much to the hilarity at the first 'Fall Round-up' before a large audience in the gym.



Showing the 'proper way' to march at the 'Fall Round-Up' is Johnny Morelock.

Leading roles in the hit drama Harvey are taken by Patty Cordova and Larry Smith.

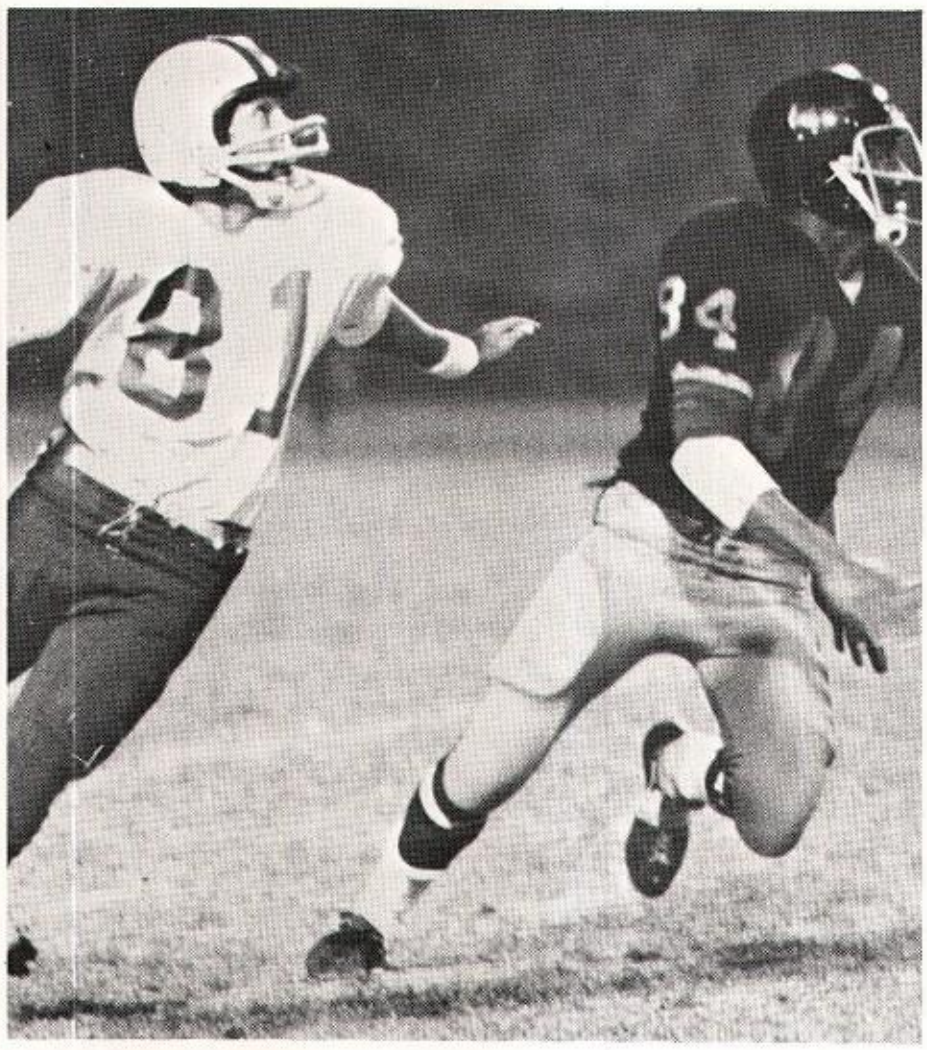
A playnight sponsored by Girls' Sports Club helped to fill the November extra-curricular calendar.

School class rings were sold to seniors and juniors. The Senior Class and the bands had a Music Rock "1 + 1" Festival one day during lunches and study halls.

A pep rally assembly was presented to the students to build up spirit for the forthcoming football game against Sandia High School. Cross Country had its state meet in Roswell.

Harvey the first play given this year, was a big success. Action reached a higher pitch when West Mesa's mighty faculty played the Harlem Majestics.

Variety of entertainment sparks November activities

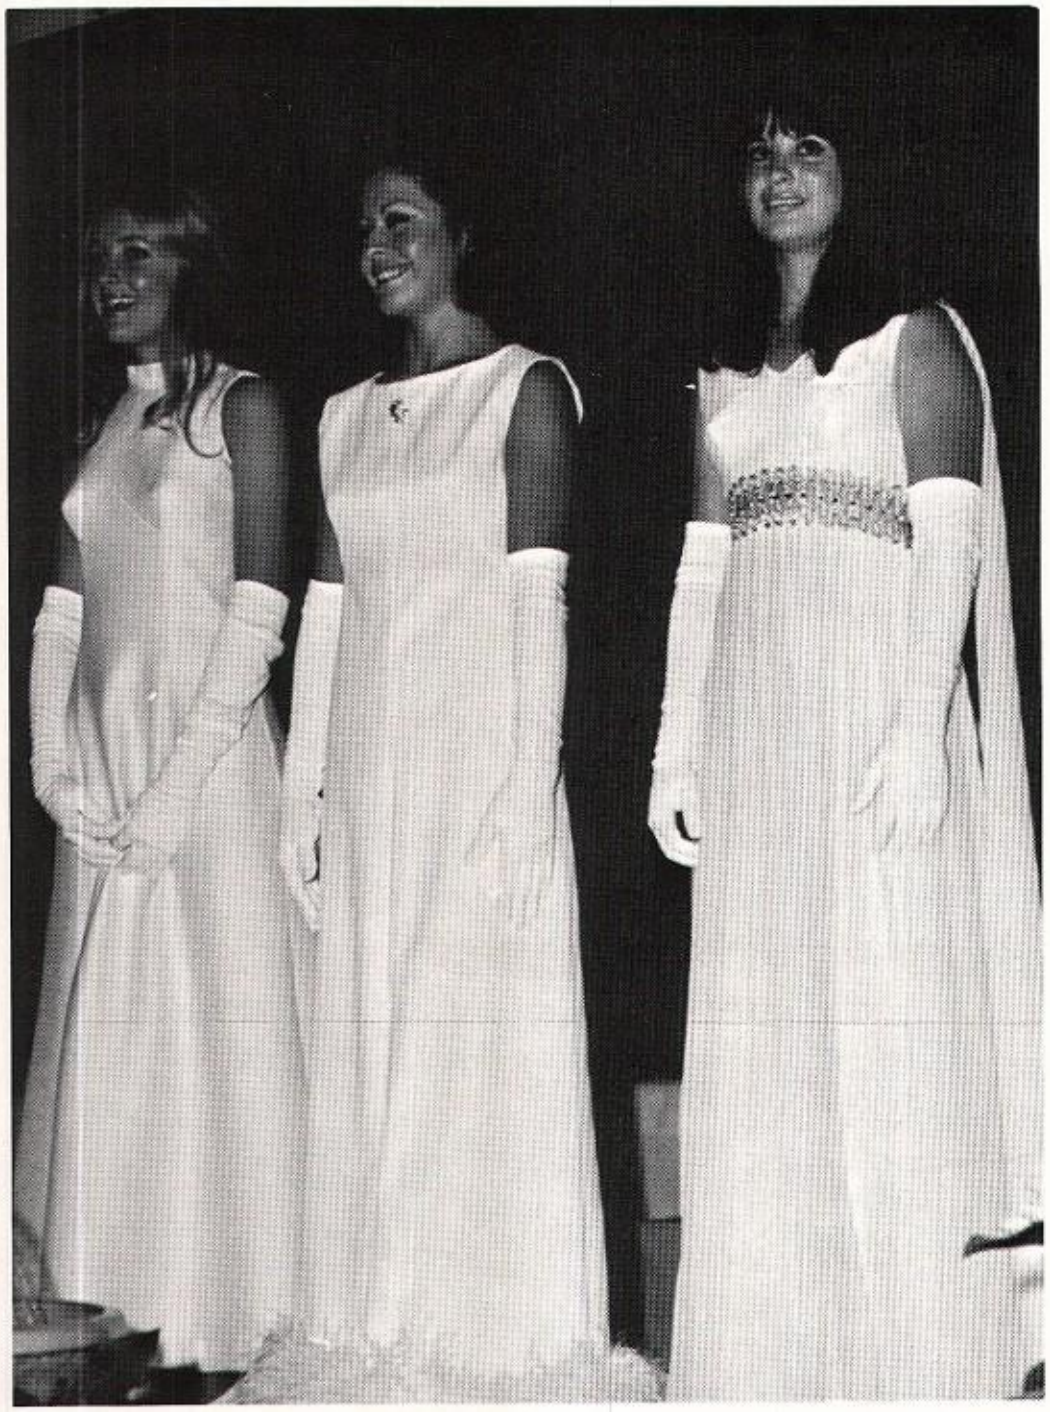


Running down the field for a pass during the WM-HHS game is Mario Andrade.

Commander Orval Hughes congratulates the WM NJROTC boys for a job well-done in routine marching during the special ceremony given in the gym for the students and honored guests.

Queen Yvonne Carrillo reigns over 'Beautiful People'

Queen Yvonne smiles radiantly upon her court as she watches the assembly activities.



Anxiously waiting the final announcement of who will be Mustang Queen are the top three candidates, Jill Phillips, Viola Gonzales, and Yvonne Carrillo.

Yvonne circles the track at Milne during halftime.

Princesses Jill and Viola precede Queen Yvonne around track.

Chosen as first princess is Viola Gonzales.

Jill Phillips is named second princess.

Mustang Victory climaxes many Homecoming events

In all her beauty Queen Yvonne gracefully accepts a gift from a representative of another city school during the annual Homecoming assembly.

"We at West Mesa will look at each other on Mustang Day for the true beauty in each of us..."

This was true on October 16, 1970, when Yvonne Carillo was crowned the 5th Homecoming Queen. The theme was 'Beautiful People' and represented the true beauty of everyone at WM.

First Princess Viola Gonzales, Second Princess Jill Phillips, and members of the court were chosen by popular vote to reign beside Queen Yvonne.

The Homecoming Dance was held Oct. 17. Music was provided by Judas, while decorations included posters of people of different races, and black lights.

Yvonne and Kevin Carey pause for a look at all the 'Beautiful People' before she is escorted to the Mustang throne.

Clutching the ball, Ray Barrs runs down field for another Mustang touchdown. West Mesa defeated the Albuquerque Bulldogs 34-19 for a Homecoming victory.

Dreams come true for Yvonne as she is crowned Mustang Queen by Micky Ross and Bill Dow.

With holiday cheer, Steve Burgess and Barbara Nolin get ready for Christmas by decorating a bulletin board in A-building. Mustangs helped decorate various classrooms, halls, and windows for the Christmas Season.

December ushers in parties, spirit of giving

December is the month of giving. Many Mustangs helped needy families by bringing canned goods to their home rooms for DECA to distribute to poor families of Albuquerque.

Seniors ordered their announcements. The first basketball game of the season was played against Farmington. The wrestlers had a fifth period match, and then left for Gallup.

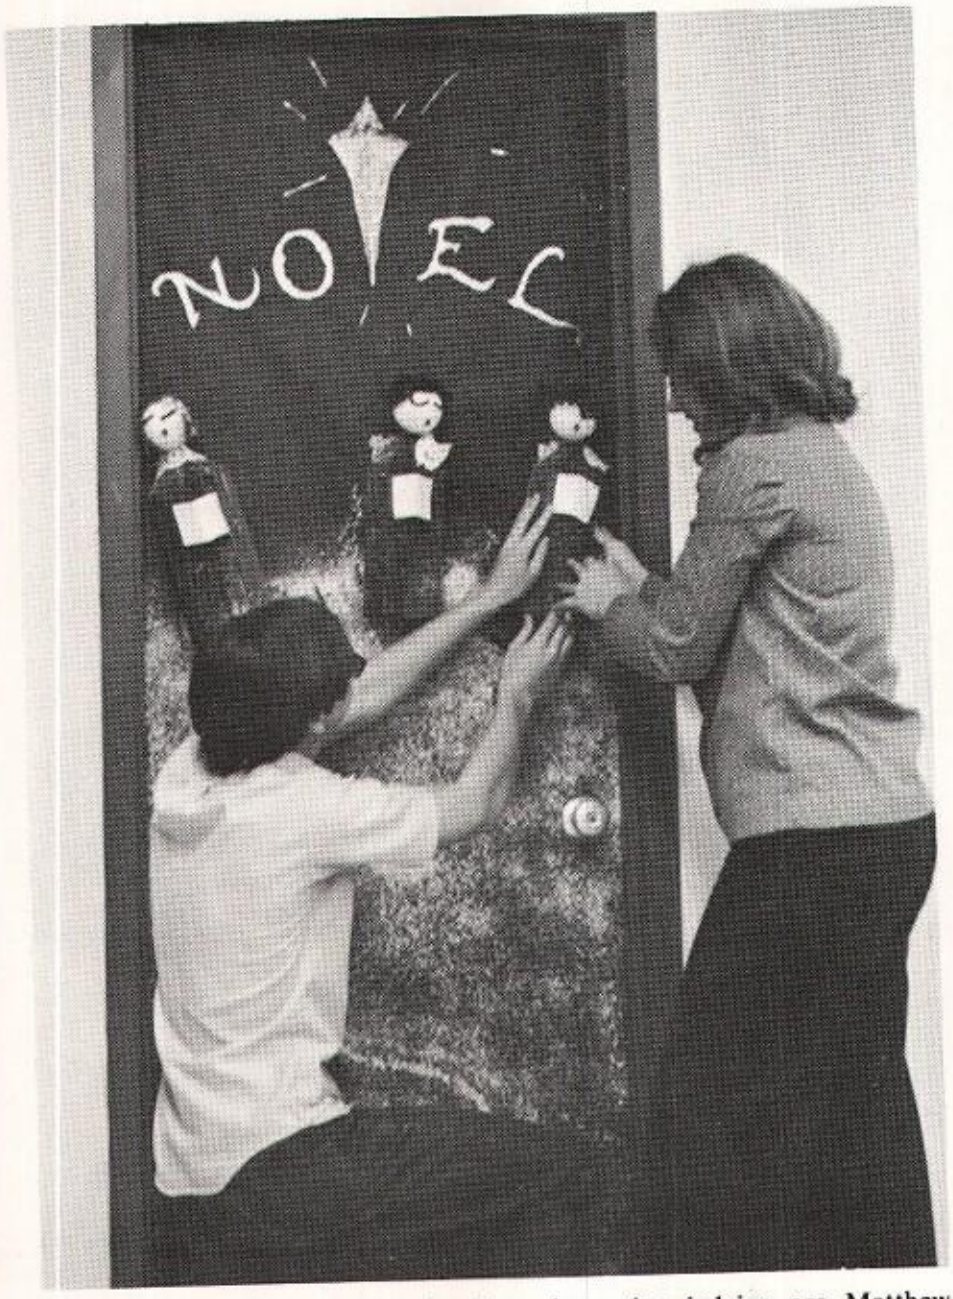
Highland Invitational basketball tournaments were held during vacation. WM placed fourth.

The chorus and orchestra presented an evening concert. All-State band try-outs took place at UNM. West Mesa students earning places were Nina Jorden, Debbie Hernandez, Ann Baltz, Mike Gaddis, Gail Olsen, and Jay Mayer.

Student Council held a Christmas door decorating contest. Miss Williams' home room class won first place receiving six dollars.

Sampling the 'goodies' at a Christmas party given by the Home Economics Dept., are Humanities teacher Mrs. Elma Humphrey and mathematics teacher, Mrs. Sohela Erteza.

Decorating the Christmas tree in A-Building foyer are Marie Greigo, Sylvia Ruiz and Nick Collaros.



Adding final touches before the door decorating judging are Matthew Paxton and Suzanne Zuris. B-24 won second prize.

Stacking canned goods for needy families is Sylvia Lopez, DECA.

January brings snow, earthquake, dance; ring delivery marks Feb.

With the advent of the new year, students returned to school to complete the first semester of studies and activities.

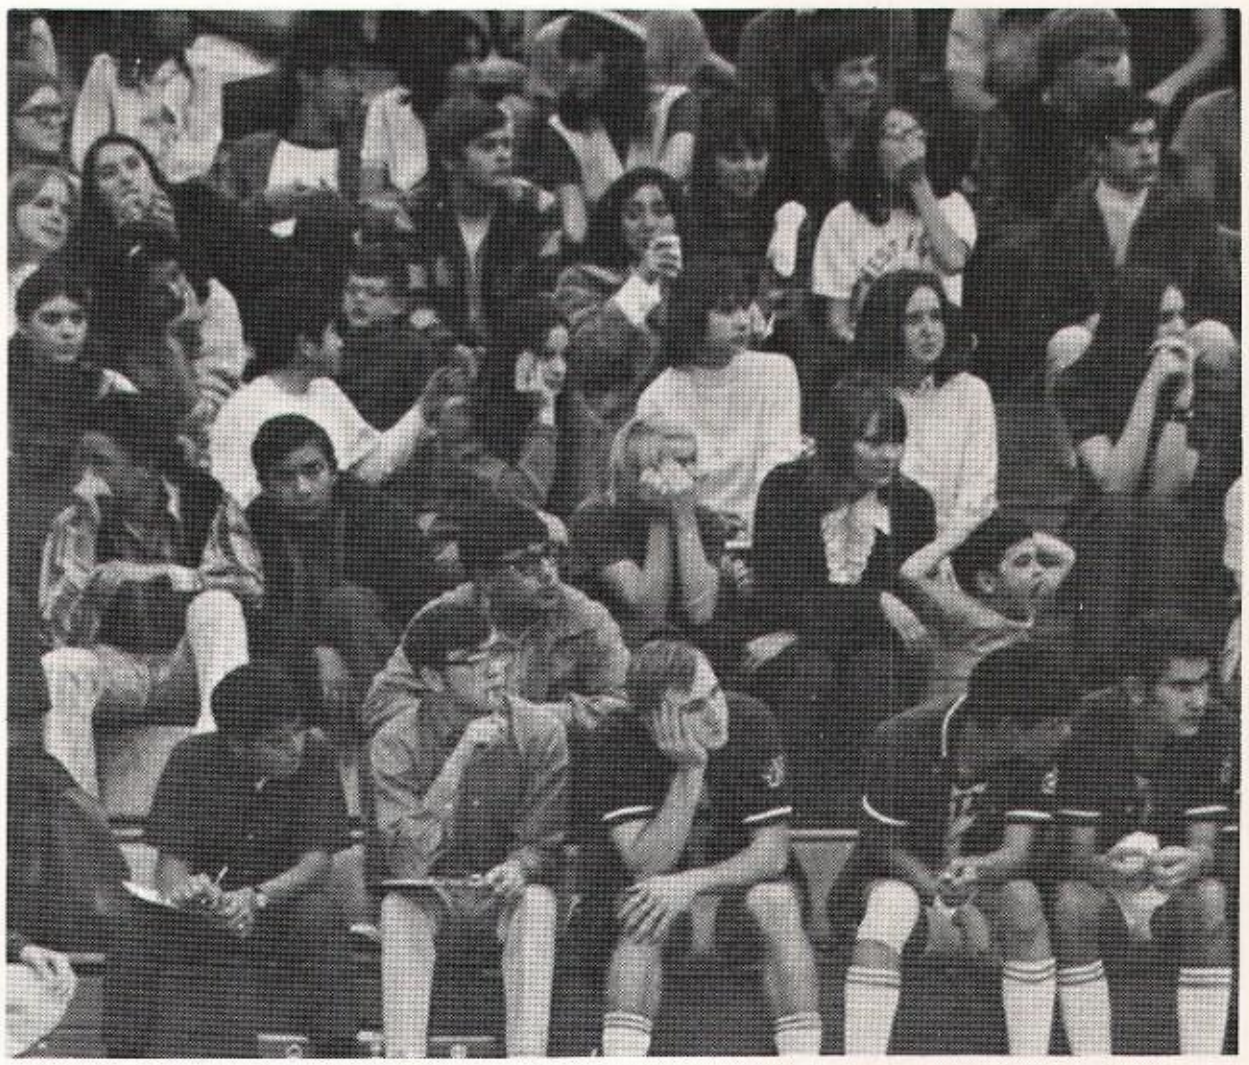
Four unexpected days of vacation occurred right after the Christmas holidays due to the extremely cold weather. Albuquerque also had a slight earthquake which did minor damage to parts of the school.

"Hello, Out There" and the "Cave Dwellers," presented by the drama department, gave the audience a variety of comedy, tragedy, and melodrama.

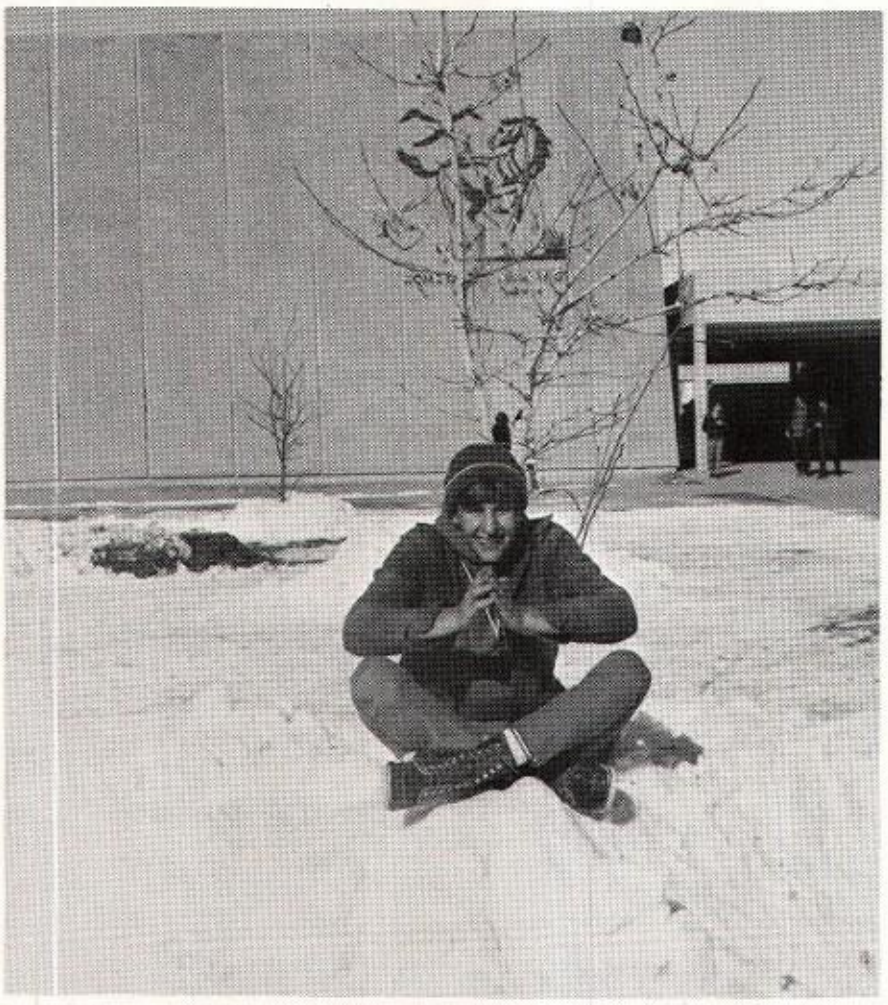
Seniors ordered caps and gowns during history classes. Class rings were delivered.

"Sometimes in Winter" was the theme of a dance sponsored by the class of '73. Music by La Zombra set the pace for the evening.

Variety show tryouts drew many WM talented performers.



Waiting for the last minutes of the game and the final whistle, Mustang fans and basketball team members show a variety of emotions as the West Mesans romped to an easy victory over the Rio Grande Ravens 70-47.

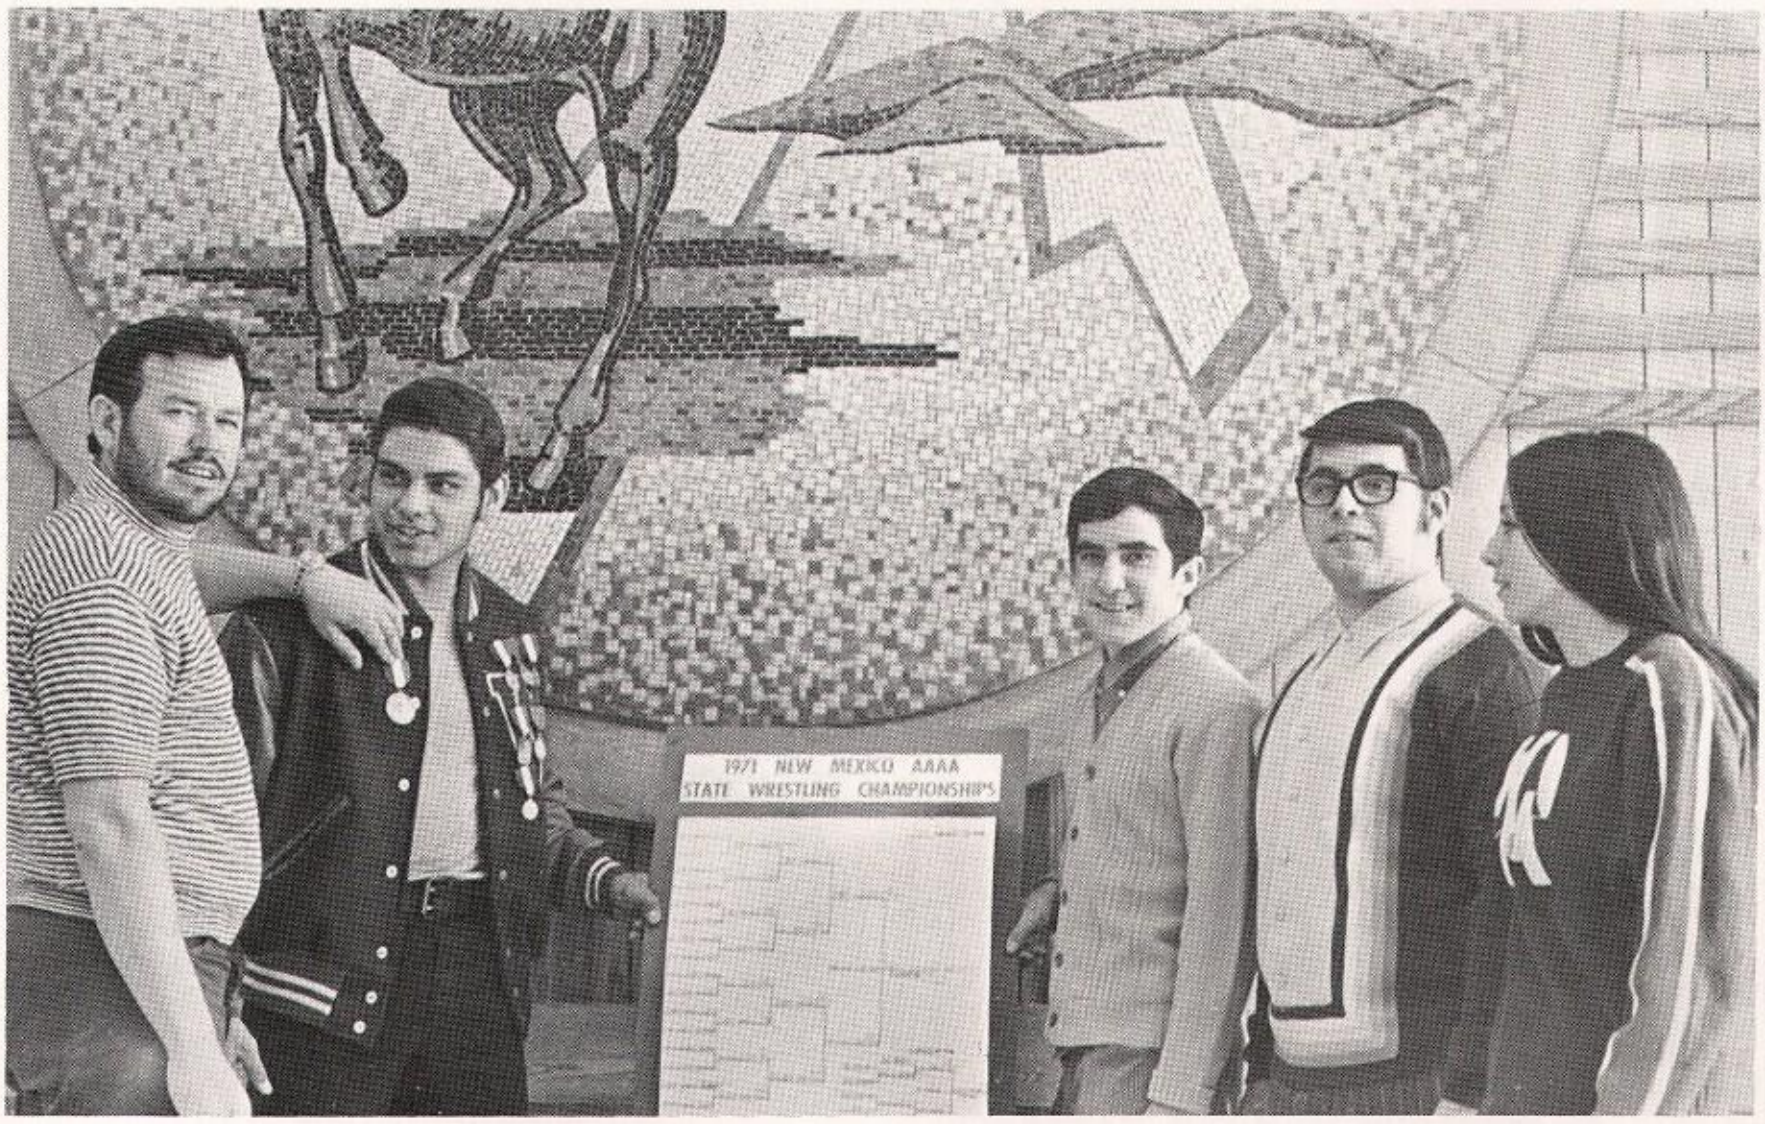


January's unexpected snow seems to bring happiness to Chris Caffrey as he plays hocus-pocus on a snow hill in the center of the patio.

The Freshman Class sponsored a successful stag dance after the WM-AHS game.

During March seniors are measured for their caps and gowns. Shown are Steve Burges and Vicki Padilla.

Costumes and plans for the International Bazaar, held in May, are discussed by Michael Troetti, Loretta Lopez, Sharon Sayed and Lynn Mason, representing different countries.



Wrestling coach Abel McBride pins a state champion medal on West Mesa's 185 lb. wrestler, Marty Gonzales. Rudy Perea won fourth in the state tournament. Coach Milton Baca and Lorraine Zamora wait to congratulate the grapplers.

Graduation, Jr. Sr. Prom complete 70-71 school year

The change from winter to spring saw new activities for many Mustangs and brought the end of school even closer.

Drama students along with the cast of "Hello Out There" had an exciting weekend at the Portales Drama Festival.

In the District 2AAAA tournament the Mustang basketball team took fourth.

Twirp Week, the week girls like the best, started off with a free date nite. The Sadie Hawkins Dance, ended the fun.

WM experienced the first Annual Military Ball given by NJROTC.

A Variety Show brought entertainment to Mustang City as West Mesans showed their talents.

Spanish students took their yearly trip to Mexico, and the club put on their own annual fiesta.

Bermuda Shorts Day, a sign of summer to many students, brought smiles to almost everyone.

A second International Bazaar showed a variety of different cultures.

"Woodstock" set the atmosphere for the theme of the Jr. Sr. Prom.

The yearbook, El Chicote, was presented to the student body at the awards assembly, where many scholarships were given.

Graduation at the University Arena climaxed four years at WM for the seniors.

Junior members of the prom committee discuss the Woodstock theme.

Mr. Robert Evans, principal, congratulates the last person to complete commencement exercises, Susan Zuris. The class of '71 is the fifth class to graduate from WM.

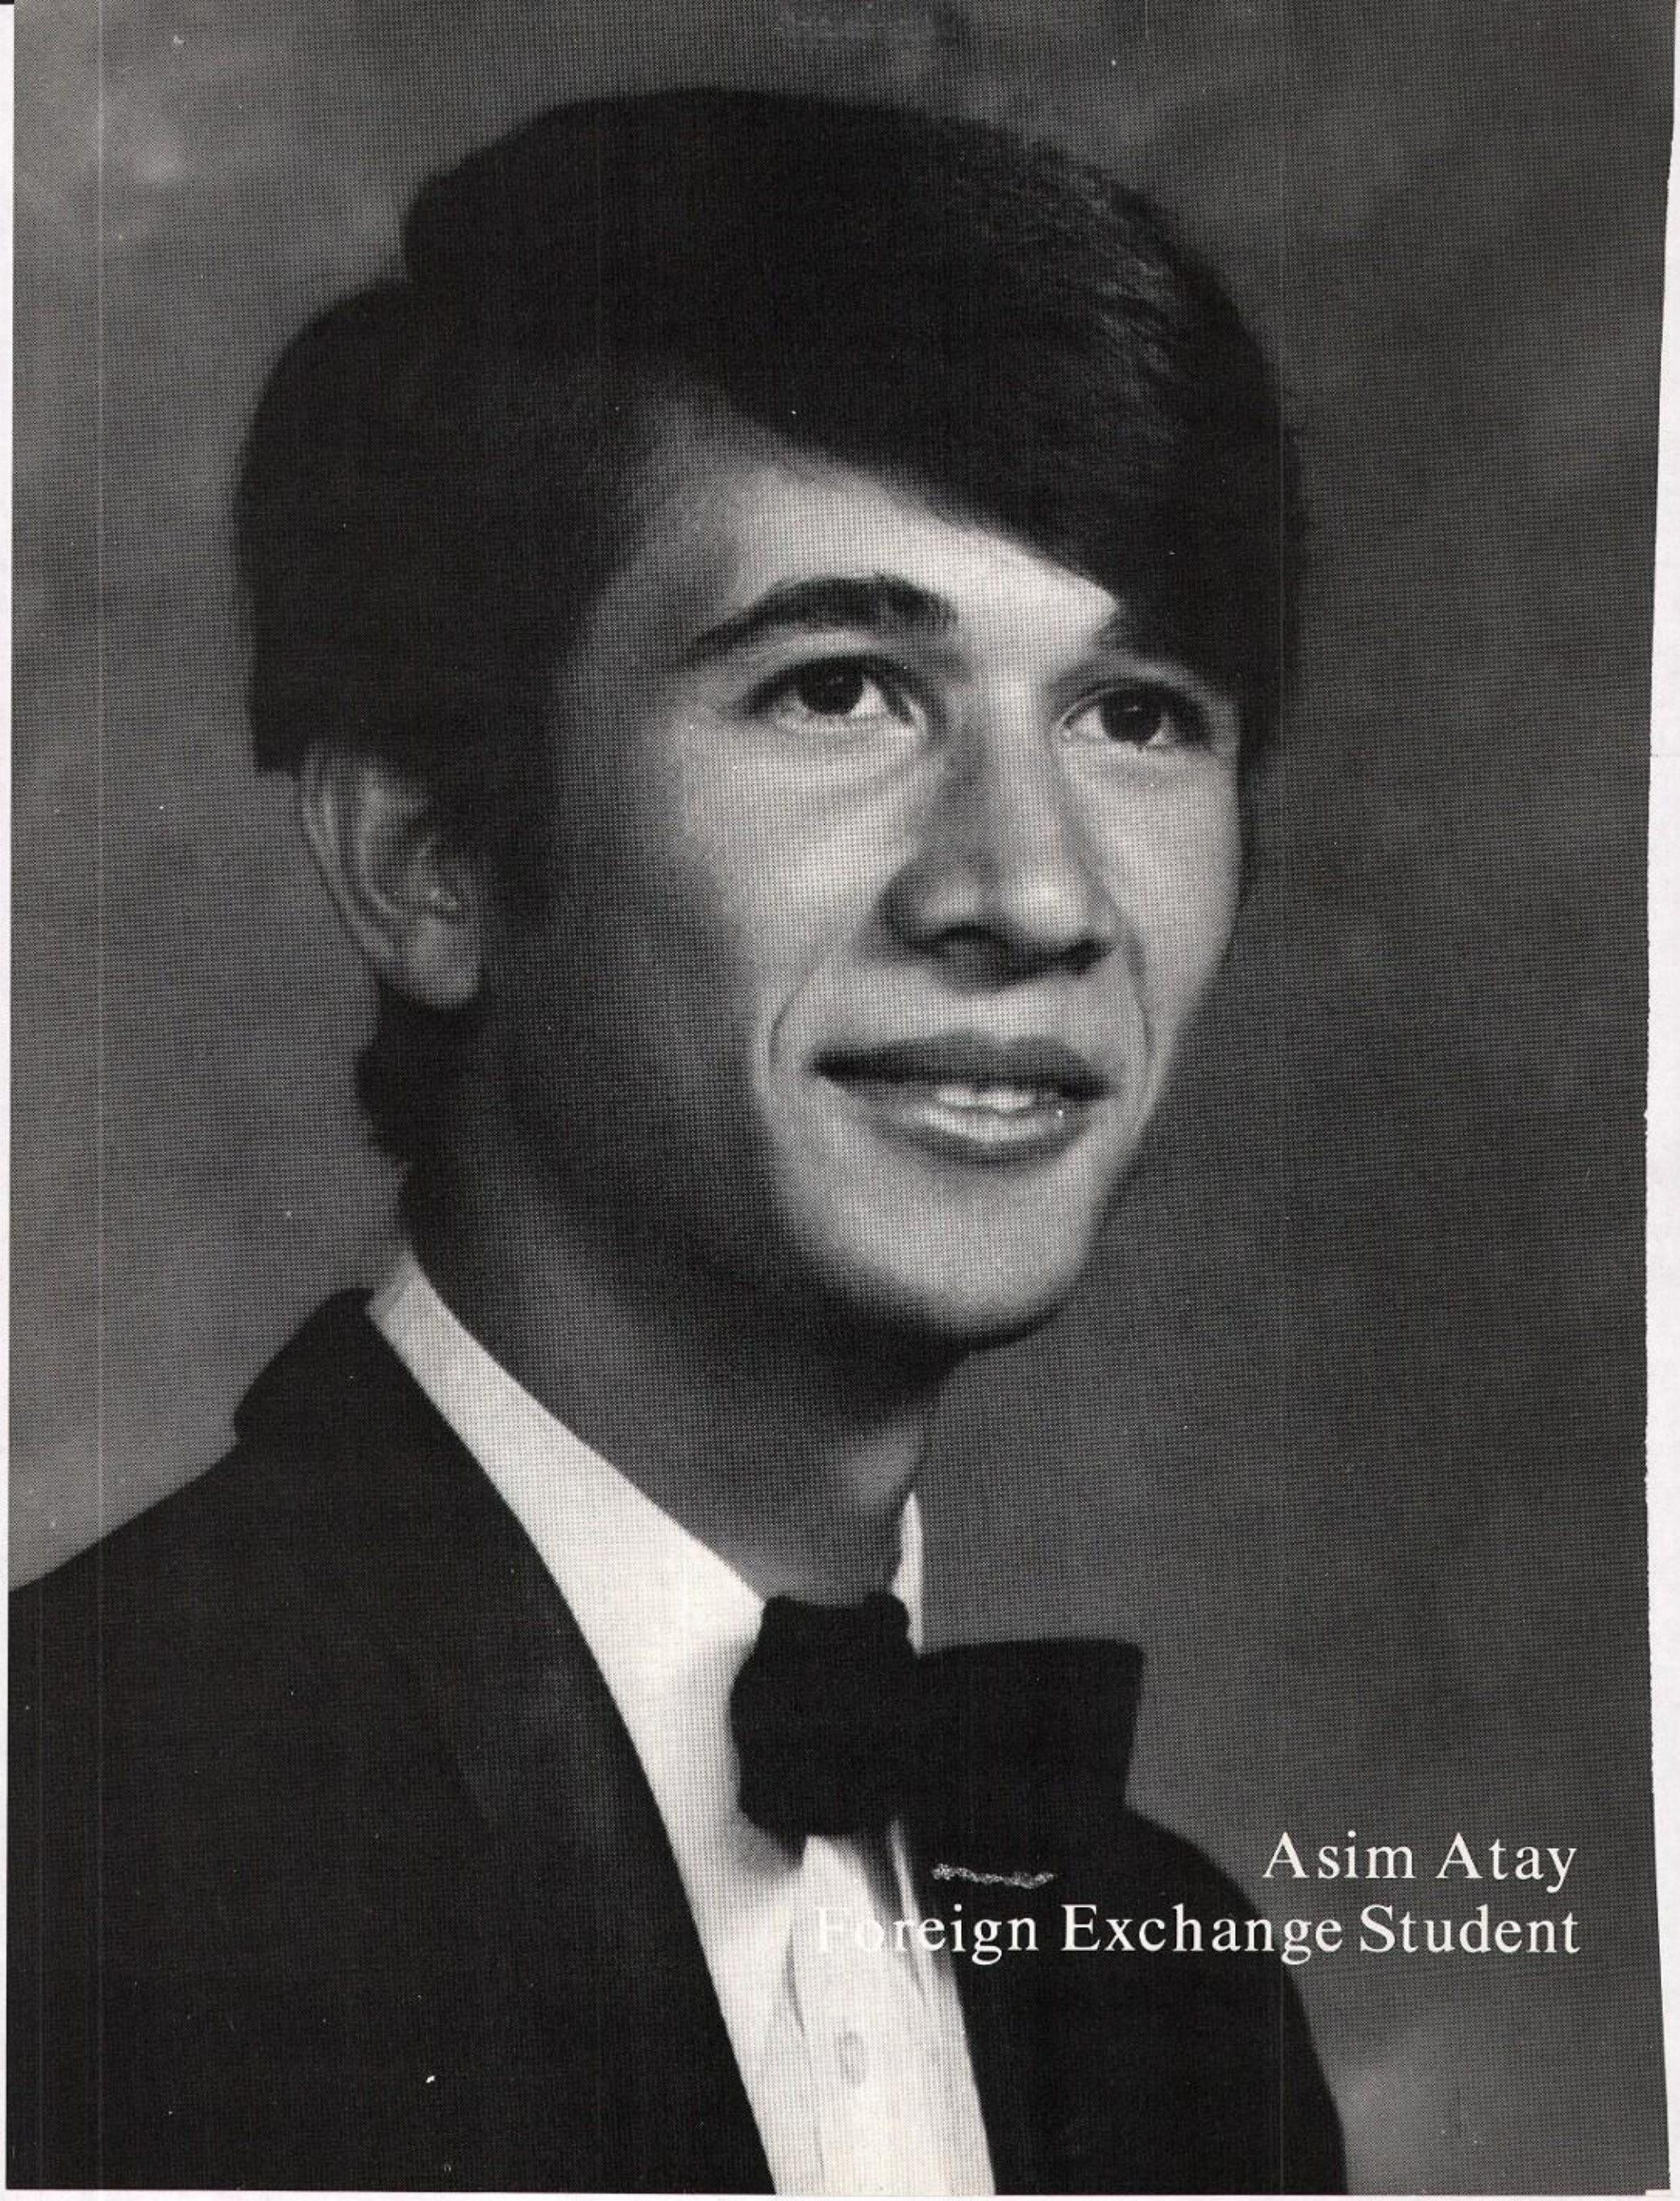
STANGS
OF 1966

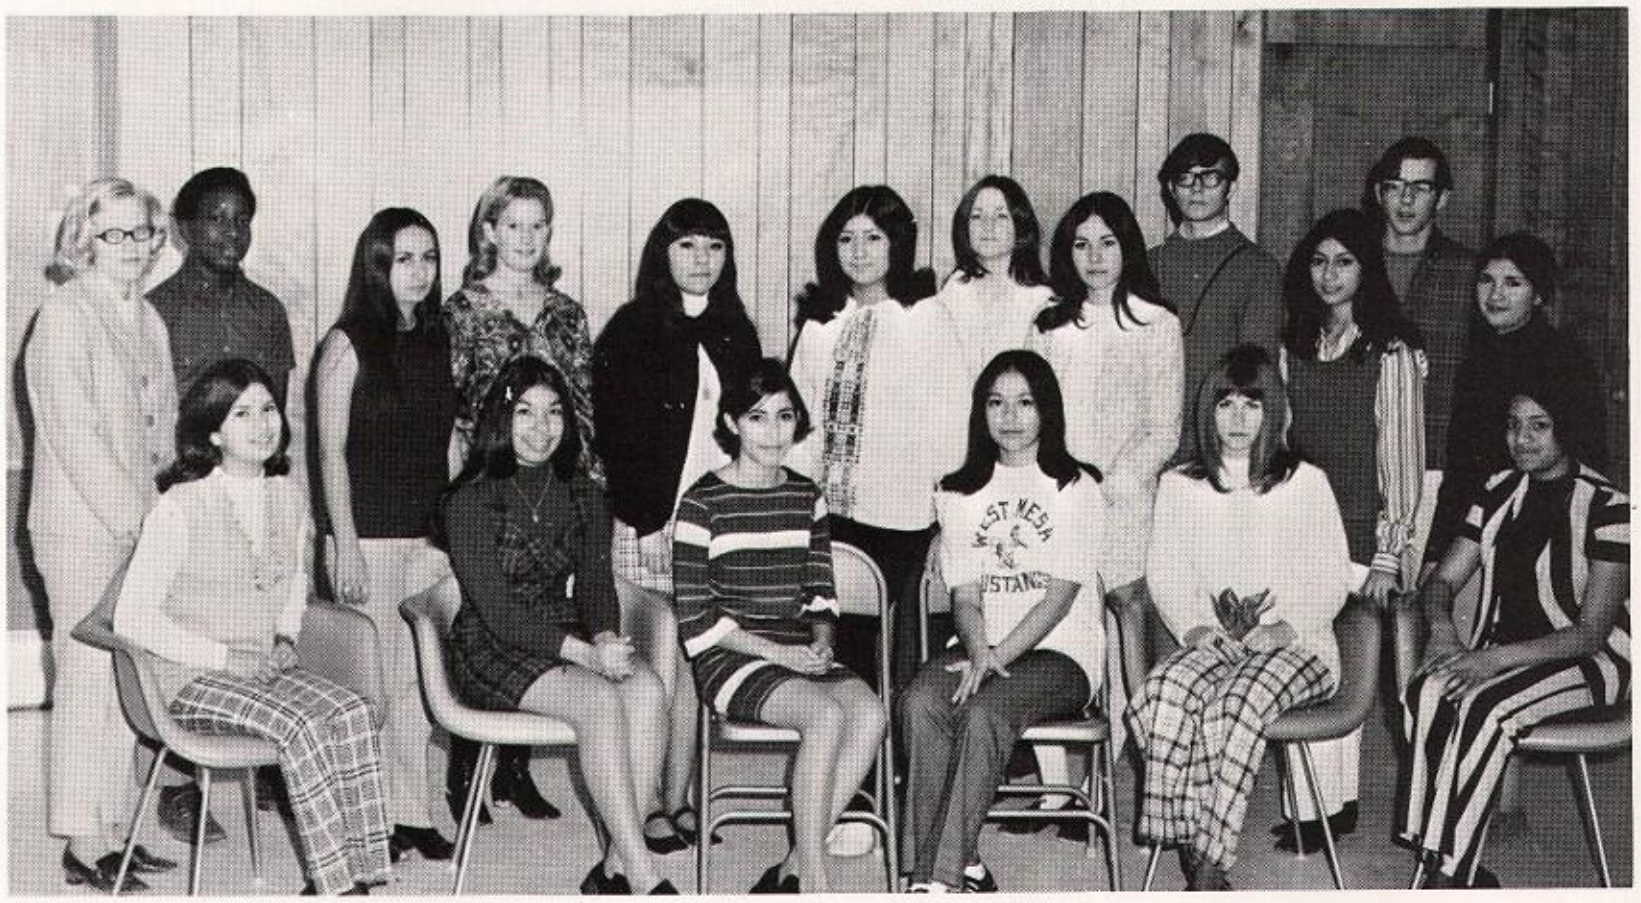
Organizations provide for individual interests and involvement for personal growth. Beauty is manifested in enjoyment, in working together and in realizing the goals of the group. Examining the workings of life through an experience in a smaller world is . . .
the beauty of organizations.

Organizations



Asim Atay
Foreign Exchange Student

Mickey Ross
Student Body President



Members of the Student Council are (bottom) Margaret Serna, Roseann Andrade, Carolyn Centeno, Bernice Chavez, Megan Lienau, and Carmen Pearson; (2nd row) Laurie Rowe, Phillip Banks, Marleen Bachicha, Gail Bessom, Mary Sandoval, Nancy Schleichler, Margie Moreno, Larry Garcia, Ann Trujillo, Glen Garvin, and Kathi Garcia.

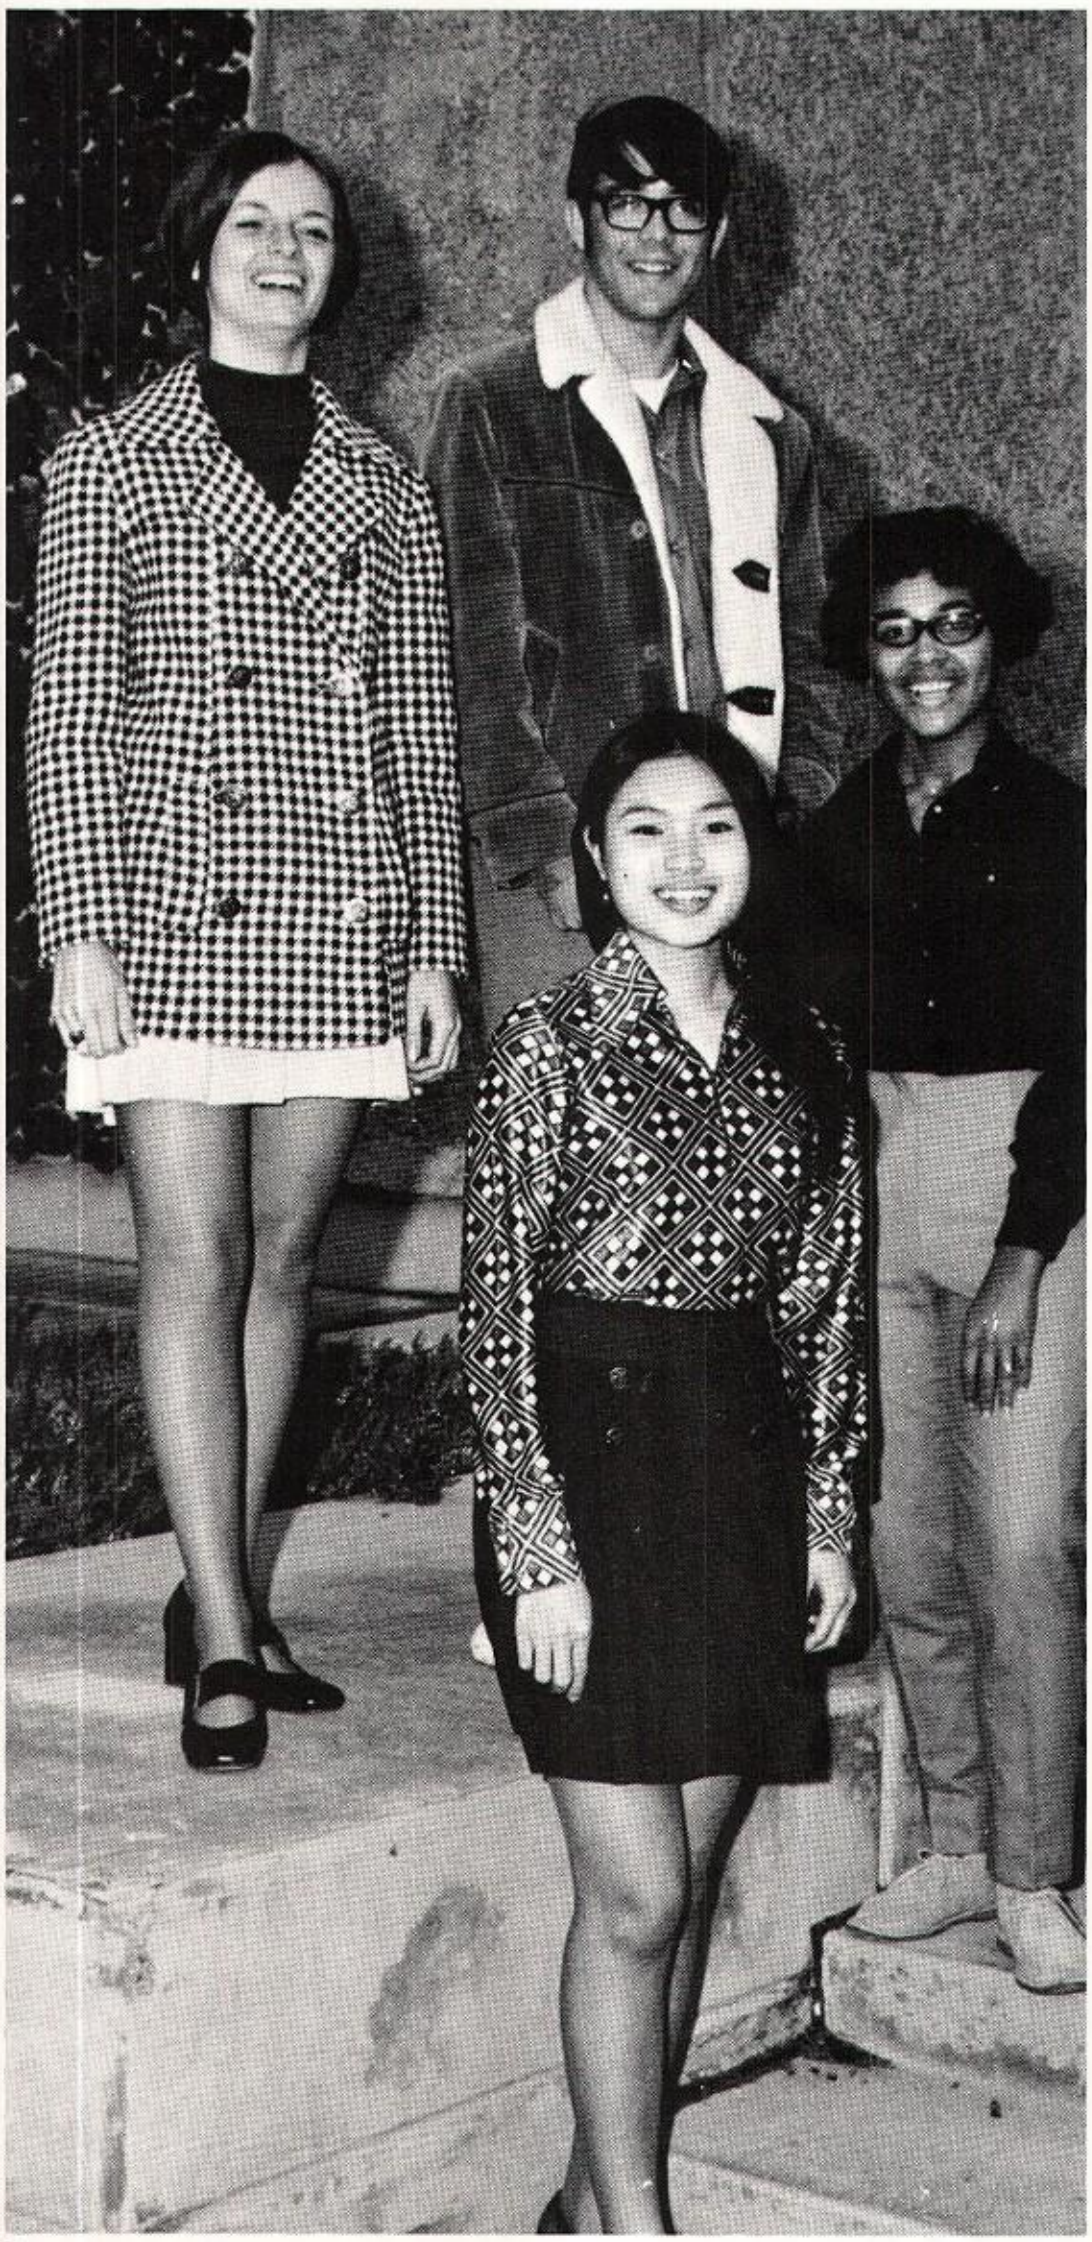
Promoting service projects occupies time of council



Elected as Student Council officers are Mickey Ross, president; Bill Dow, vice-president; Mei Hua Lindstrom, secretary; Karlan Gamble, parlimentarian; and (not shown), Joe Barela, treasurer.

Backing and promoting projects introduced by council members and other school organizations occupied much of the time of Student Council.

Their first project was selling West Mesa and Mustang decals at the beginning of school.

Projects that followed included Homecoming, Twirp Week, and the Beauty and Beast contest.

In January, Penny Wednesday was started to collect money for next year's foreign exchange student. Collections were made on a donation basis with the homeroom which contributed the most receiving a prize.

Activities discussed during meetings concerned the closing of the snack bar, the seating of students and press members during basketball games, sanding the patio benches, and many others involved with student welfare.

"American Field Service International Scholarship is an open door which leads to understanding and friendship among the peoples of the world."

The 1970-71 foreign exchange student, Asim Mehmet Atay, was from Antakya, Turkey, a city near the Mediterraean Sea. He wants to become an engineer. He has various hobbies such as playing the guitar, collecting stamps and coins and listening to all kinds of music.

He lived with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter in Corrales, who had children attending WM this year.

A "Penny Wednesday" to raise money for future foreign exchange students was carried on second semester.

Seated is Jessica Lopez, secretary treasurer; (left) Ellen Carpenter, vice-president; Asim Atay, exchange student; Ann Weidman, historian; and Kathy O'Leary, president.

Mr. Bessom, Eva Montoya, Becky Smith, Carol Mason, Nancy Giese, Mary Green, Yvonne Chavez, and Nancy Love are also active in AFS.

Active members of the club are Carla Granfield, Kathy O'Leary, Ellen Carpenter, Asim Atay and Barbara Love.

Competition, tournaments, fun spark Speech Team

Attending a speech meeting are (back) Carolyn Reisdorf, Kathy Hubmer, Gary Klimiowitcz, Carol Rolfe, Pat Elwell, (front) Donna Giese, Anita Archibeque, Robert Thompson, and Rick Quezada.

Interest and willingness to work are the two main requirements for membership in the National Forensic League.

Members gain experience in oral interpretation, extemporaneous speaking, debate and oratory. Students need not take a speech class to be a member of the team.

The group has participated in many tournaments. Their president, Richard Quezada, won first place in oral interpretation at the Highland tournament. The team's secretary, Carolyn Reisdorf, took second place for her oratory. Vice-president is Glenn Garvin.

Two out-of-town trips, one to Los Alamos and one to Trinidad, provided fun as well as competitive experience for the team.

All smiles, two winners on the speech team along with their sponsor Mrs. Duquette, proudly exhibit the trophies won at the Highland Tournament.

Getting a point across with strong emotion is Anita Archibeque.

Members visit the Tower of Pisa in Rome.

During their first year of karate training, Melcor Chavez and Joe Chavez 'mix it up' during a club practice session.

Members of Judo-Karate collected food and toys for needy families this Christmas.

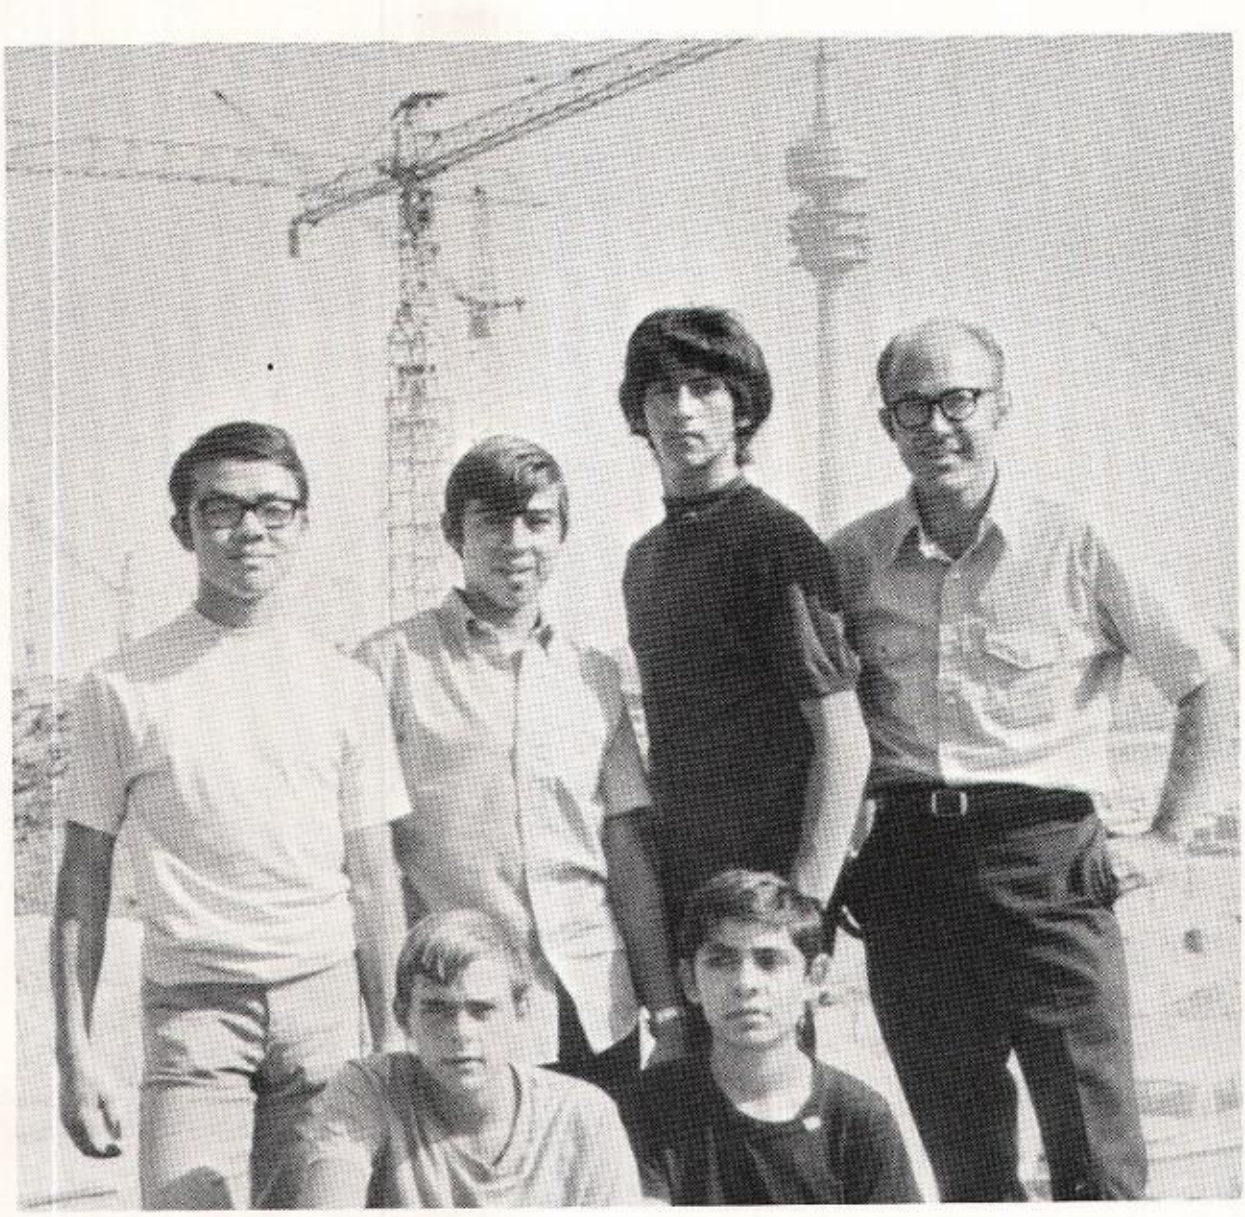
Judo-Karate Club travels in Europe



Standing on the future '72 Olympic site, under construction in Munich, Germany, is Chuck Colborne, Ernest Trujillo, John Yonemoto, Ray Sanchez, Gerald Chavez, and Mr. Sam Allred.

West Mesa's Duke City Judo-Karate Club, America's oldest public school judo-karate club and a well known Oriental fighting arts club in the Nation, has completed another outstanding year of activity.

During the summer of 1970, a group of members traveled throughout Europe seeing the tourist attractions and practicing karate "European style." They made personal friends wherever they went, not only for themselves but for West Mesa High, according to their sponsor.

The 1970-71 school year saw members competing in tournaments and presenting demonstrations in Las Vegas, Nevada; Los Angeles, Lubbock, Dallas, and Denver. During this summer they expect to tour Mexico again.

Tournaments sponsored by the club brought about even more national recognition than in past years. The "Central North American Karate Championships" and the "National Black Belt Karate Grand Championships" brought most of the world's top karate competitors, instructors, and administrators to West Mesa, where overflow spectator crowds witnessed karate in its finest form.

The club's founder and coach, Mr. Sam Allred, received more awards of national significance this year, including the official karate "Contribution Award." Mr. Allred is a 4th degree black belt in karate and a 3rd degree black belt in judo.

Members of the club are progressing through karate ranks at normal speed, and it is almost certain that the club will boast its first Black Belt promotions by West Mesa students sometime in the 1971-72 school year.

HARVEY delights large audience; Saroyan's plays also well received

Relaxing on stage during a club meeting are (counter-clockwise) John Barela, Shirley Elliot, Jan Gruber, Beverly Ball, Judy Street, Robbie Chavez, Gerald Kemphart, Lorreta Lopez, Larry Smith, and Marlene Bachicha.

Winners of a Duo-Drama City meet, Larry Smith and Scott Ware, display the trophy they won for a cutting from HARVEY. Larry is working for an International Thespian scholarship.

The first presentation of the Drama Department was the comedy Harvey. Members worked long hours to put on this successful performance.

'Visitor from a Small Planet' followed. This was student directed.

"An Evening with Saroyan," on Feb. 11-13 included two one-act plays, "Hello Out There" and "The Cave Dwellers."

To belong to the Thespian Society a person must earn 10 points, gained by helping in productions.

A spring variety show and other one act plays were given throughout the year.

Members of FTA include (1st) Carolyn Centeno, Carolyn Jacobs, Klaudia Balewaski, Rodney Urioste, Richard Hoskie; (2nd) Mei Hua Lindstrom, George Platero, Althea Lovato, Edward Fort, Emelda Carrillo, and Mrs. Roberta Demaret.

Members prepare for vocation, teach at other schools

Club members are (1st) Naomi Ortega, Ernest Padilla, Lou Ann Gonzales, Maxine Furgerson, David Morgan; (2nd) Marianne Sackett, Debbie Lee, Christine Carrillo, Mr. Paul Volchansky, Cathy Coureges, and Robert Quintana.

Officers of FTA are Carolyn Reisdorf, president; Cathy Courreges, vice-president; David Morgan, treasurer; Maxine Furgerson, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Centeno, secretary.

Future Teachers of America helps prepare students for a vocation as a teacher.

Activities of the club included two teaching days in March, where members observed and taught students at junior high and elementary schools. Members also attended a state convention in Santa Fe, April 2-3.

Other projects included a candy sale in the fall, and a school-to-school program.

Concert Choir performs for students, community

Singing along with Dennis Burnett playing the piano are (front) Laurel Cunnings, Gloria Kersey, Angela Rhoades, Yvonne Carrillo, Karen Brower, Nora Griffin, Julian Rincon, Lydia Gleason, Randy Turpen, Mrs. Casselberry and Lorna Johnson; (back) Katrina Kitzsinger, Paul Gleason, Linda Reck, Laurel Dickenson, Janice Pearson, Susan Chapman, and Jackie Griffin.

Showing the officers, Dennis Burnett, vice-president; Lydia Gleason and Susan Chapman, librarians; and Karen Brower, secretary, what music might be sung during an evening concert is Randy Turpen, president.

Concert Choir was involved in many varied activities throughout the school year. Included in these was a Thanksgiving Concert for senior citizens at Encino Gardens and a combination concert at Christmas with the orchestra.

Two students represented WM in the All-State Choir. They joined with the others to present a concert for the National Music Conference in January.

Enjoying a good song is (bottom) Yvonne Carrillo, Cathy Richardson; (2nd) Karen Brower, Lorna Johnson, Randy Turpen, Lydia Gleason, Becky Smith; (4th) Katrina Kitzsinger, and Jackie Griffin.

'Practice makes perfect,' Mrs Casselberry says to Jancie Pearson, Julian Rincon, Karen Brower, and Jackie Griffin.

Chosen to perform with the All-State Chorus this year are seniors Dennis Burnett, second tenor, and Jackie Griffin, second base.

Recreation, fun, competition aim of club members.

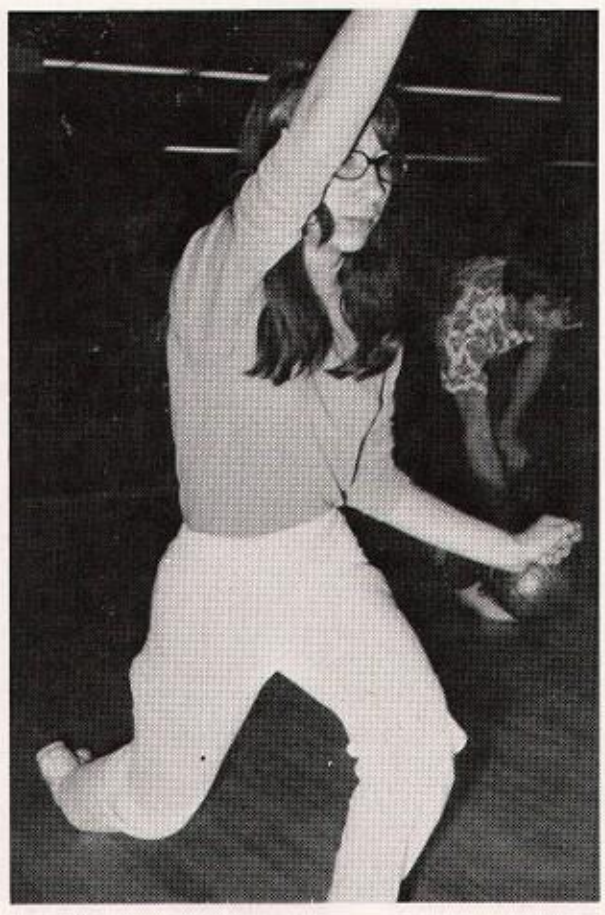
Getting together with other people who like to bowl and to skate was the main purpose of the Bowling and Skating Club. This fun organization enabled all its members to take part in these sports as a recreation to develop their proficiency.

Team competition with bowling clubs from other schools often took place.

Sponsors for the club this year were Mr. Alexander Souter and Mr. Paul Geissler.

Showing Teresa Golewski how to use a score sheet is Kathy Sanchez.

Bowling is an exciting game for Ricky Ruiz.



Teresa Golewski bowls with the proper technique.

Competition in four major sports undertaken by enthusiastic girls

Competing in sports, raising money, and sponsoring special projects were the main concerns of the members of the Girls' Sports Club.

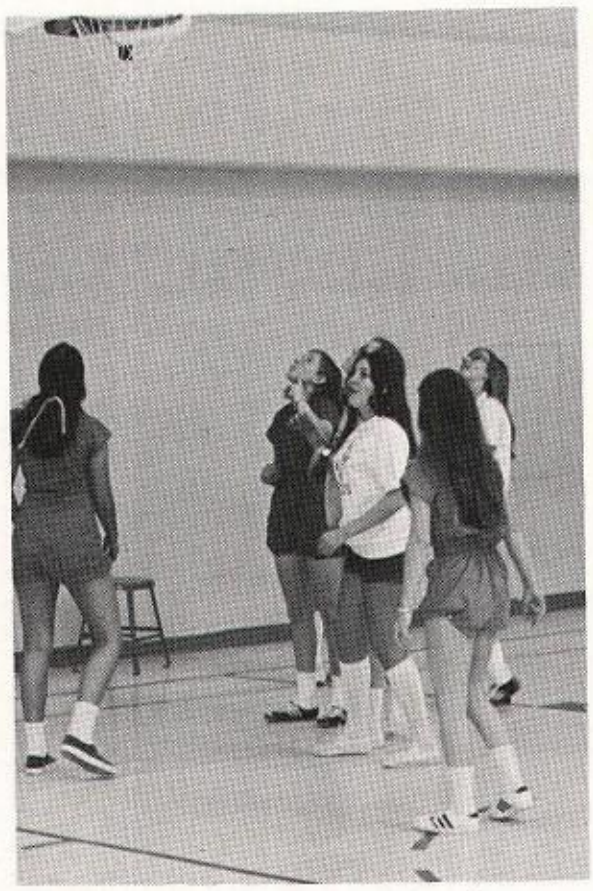
Girls could participate in four major sports: volleyball, basketball, track and field, and softball. Minor sports that they played were badminton and table tennis. Girls earned membership in the Honorary Intramural Club by being on a varsity team. To letter they had to be on two major teams or on one major and two minor teams.

Monthly Playnites and Sportsday were sponsored by the club.

Selling West Mesa sweatshirts was their main money-raising project.

At the end of the year an Annual Award Banquet was held where the most outstanding members, according to their skill and participation, were honored.

This year's sponsors were Miss Gloria Vigil, Miss Cathy Hall, Mrs. Velma Callender, and Mrs. Polly Holbrook.



Enjoying basketball are GSC members.

Members of the Girls' Sports Club are (bottom) Verconica Silversmith, Joyce Cummings, Mary Alice Pacheco, Arleen Sanchez, Darlene Gurule, Lorraine Funk, Thelma Johnson, Bridget Lundy, Ruth Tamura, Rosella Silversmith; (top) June Routzen, Loretta Lente, Nancy Duggen, Joleen Reed, Francy Ann Sanchez, Peggy Garcia, Marsha Lundy, Mary Brazas, Kathy Jordan, Diane Dow, Pam Sneidner, and Larraine Tennison.

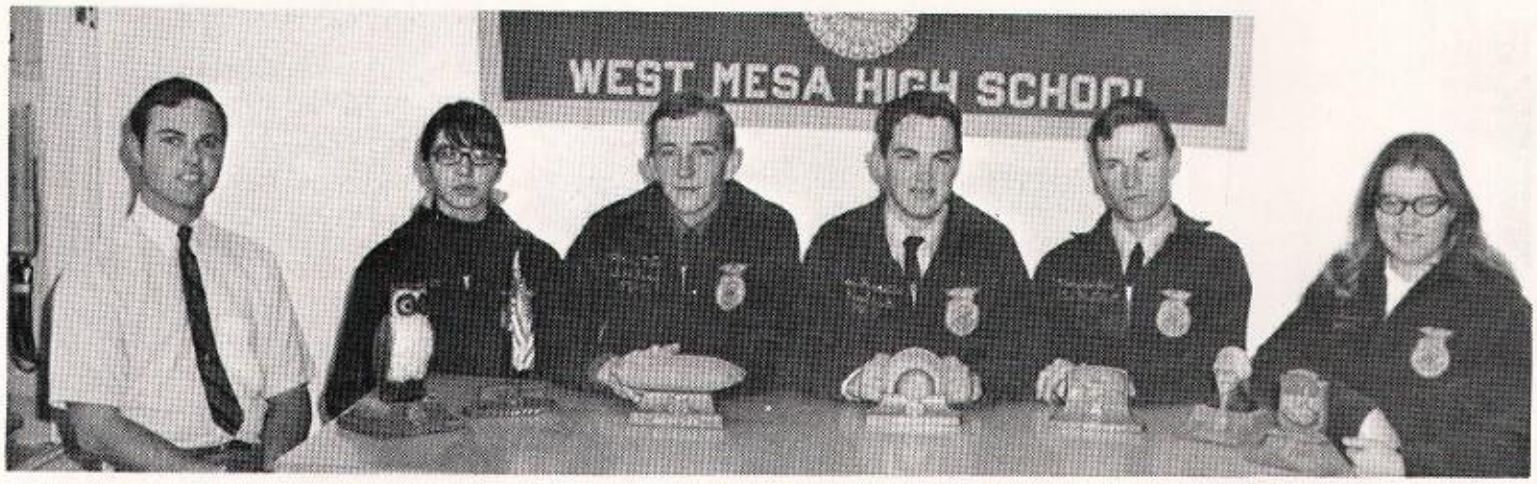
FFA discusses ranchers' rights, studies livestock

Future Farmers of America was a new club this year. Members took several trips. One was to the Schwartzman's Packing Company. Here they looked at the process of making bologna, weiners, and the smoking of ham.

Other activities included guest speakers and films. FFA'ers presented programs to other organizations and 4-H Clubs in Albuquerque to promote a better understanding of tractor safety.

A guest speaker from the New Mexico Cattle's Grower's Association talked about the preservation of ranchers' cattle.

A Schwartzman's guide and Future Farmers evaluate carcasses.



FFA officers are Mr. Rodney Todd, sponsor, Becky Last, Gary Neie, Don Franklin, Macy Bayles, and Linda Leonard.

Members are (1st) Jeff Garrett, Linda Leonard, Larry Shetter, Becky Last, Gary Pendegrist, Jeanne Wyler, Charles McIntyre; (2nd) Benny Proffit, Rick Clayton, Robert Taylor, Chris Sanchez, Macy Bayles, Roll Dolk; (3rd) Clifton Smith, Lee Hale, Gary Neie, Don Franklin, Sammy Apodaca, and Tim Lilley.

Linda Leonard assists Dr. J.H. Sherwood, veterinarian at the Velverde Animal Clinic in Corrales. The experience in assisting will help her in preparing for a future career.

After going through the slaughter and packaging house and feed lot of Schwartzman's Packing Co., juniors Don Franklin and Macy Bayles stop to exchange comments and opinions of the necessary skills and agricultural occupations open to them.

Group works to beautify environment

Officers of the club are Jack Woody, pres.; Jeri Lee, vice pres.; Mr. Rex Funk, sponsor; and Cecelia Murray, secretary.

Ecology Club members tried to become more aware of the environmental problems of their community and world through field work and observation.

Beautifying the patio and sponsoring the Science Fair were the club's main projects.

They raised money by selling "Stop Pollution Now" bumper stickers. The group also sold doughnuts and cokes after school for TVI students.

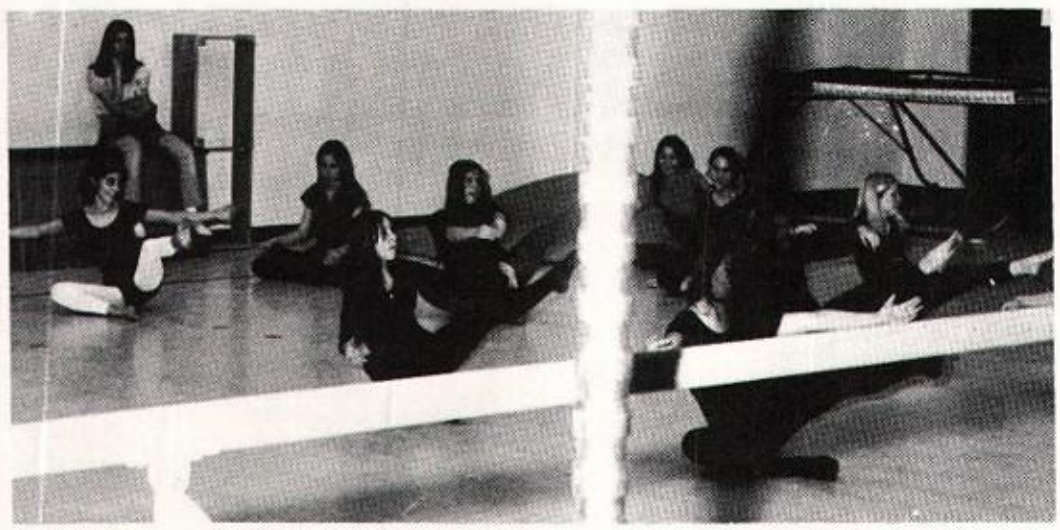
Sponsors of the club were Mr. Rex Funk, Mr. Ronald Burckley, Mr. Allen Templeton, and Mr. John Simons.

Giving suggestions before beginning a dance to help make movements more fluid is a visiting instructor.

Modern Dance helps members express individualism

Members of Modern Dance Club practice expressing individual feelings through movement.

Modern Dance is a club organized to help students express their individual feelings through dance. The rhythm is usually set by a drum and every type of music from Bach to Dylan is used. These dancers learn to explore the different possibilities of movement and positions through physical, mental and emotional development.



The different possibilities of movement are explored by club members as they practice dance positions to the beating of a drum.

Pommerettes give twenty performances during year

Thirty-three enthusiastic junior and senior girls belong to Pommerettes.

A clinic was held the second week of summer for the girls to learn four different rountines for the football season and decide on their two uniforms. Pommerettes sponsors, Mrs. Nicki Bertenshaw and Mrs. Beverly Parker made the clinic possible. After that the girls met every two weeks during the summer.

In January a statewide clinic competition was held at HHS. Pommerettes followed a winning tradition by taking second place this year.

An annual fashion show was held in the spring.

Sr. officers are Elaine Roybal, Martha Olguin, and Charla Milligan, pictured with their 2nd place trophy.

Honor Society establishes scholarship fund

Honor Society has been successful in terms of actual achievements during 1970-71. They have established a scholarship fund that will provide future seniors with financial aid to the college of their choice. A movie was sponsored to raise money for this project.

They have also negotiated with the administration for the establishment of a Free Opinion Forum. Most of all, membership in NHS has doubled.

To belong to the WM Chapter, students must first have an overall 3.25 grade average. The faculty then rates them on the basis of service, character, and leadership.

Practicing their secretarial skills are (seated) Christal Franz, Jeanette Vigil, Linda Knudson, Joanne Duree. (standing) Jodeen Romero, Beverlee Ball, Marvin Sanchez, Viola Gonzales, and Lynn Mason.

Development of leadership qualities, interest in office occupations and appreciation of civic and social obligations are the purposes of the Office Education Association.

The club is designed to help further experience in the secretarial field. Members are given the opportunity to compete in state and national contests in areas such as typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping.

The sale of glitter plaques raised considerable money to help people take part in these contests.

Freshmen Pep Club members are Jan Leatherwood, Lillian Luna, Helen Peterson, Terry Tompkins, Bess Cobbs, RoseMarie Garcia, Collene Clark, Beth Farmer, Debbie Worth, Vanessa Crader, Freddie Sanchez, Patty Grado, Theresa Alderete, Kim Easley, and Kathy Sandoval.

'70-71 Pep Club officers are president Mary Ann Baca, vice-president Gina Baca, secretary Carol Gonzales, treasurer Gloria Martinez, and parlimentarian Ita Archibeque.

Pep squad leaders are Dale Stockard, Susan Roudabush, Sylvia Chavez, Merlinda Trujillo, Barbara Bennett, Lauraetta Archibeque, Joe Hatch, Kim Smith, Margaret Gonzales, and Margaret Gurin.

Other Pep Club members include Yvonne Abeyta, JoAnna Romero, Cecelia Sanchez, Eva Baca, Roberta Montoya, Sandra Baca, Vicki Rodriquez, Lorraine Perea, Angela Sanchez, and Diane Adams.

Club members boost WM spirit, attend all games

Pep Club consisted of 66 members, three of whom were seniors, the others underclassmen.

Although there weren't as many members as last year, the group had the spirit to make for fewer numbers.

The largest spirit organization at WMHS attended all the varsity football games and the Mustangs' home basketball games. The girls didn't have any school transportation to and from the games; therefore they had to make a special effort to get to places on their own.

MaryAnn Baca, president, held summer meetings twice a week for one or two hours. The girls voted on a white turtle neck sweater with a WM letter, a red and blue panel skirt, royal blue gloves and red tennis shoes as this year's outfits.

The group raised $65 on a car wash held last summer. The money was used as a down payment on equipment needed for members.

Language Club sponsors spring fiesta; members learn about Spanish culture

Strengthening the members' knowledge of the Spanish language and culture was the purpose of Los Conquistodores. They planned various activities throughout the year. One of the main events was Fiesta Day, April 16. Everyone was encouraged to wear Mexican clothing, with the best dressed receiving a $10 prize. During lunch pinatas filled with candy were broken in the patio. After school the club sponsored a dance. Any student could particpate in the activities.

Los Conquistadores officers are Alice Roybal, secretary; Gene Sanchez, vice-president; Mrs. Martinez, sponsor; Beatrice Roybal, president; and Marilyn Garcia, treasurer.

Spanish Club members are (front) Ruth Herrera, Marilyn Garcia, Carolyn Centeno, Patricia Segovia, Cecilia Roybal, Catalina Contreras, Merlinda Trujillo, and Stella Sanchez; (back) Geraldo Segovia, Gene Chavez, Dorothy Chavez, Beatrice Roybal, Mrs. Martinez, Maria Fraga, Adeline Vigil, Alice Roybal, Richard Perez, and Neddy Garcia.

Officers Rod Sanchez, pres; Karlan Gamble, v.pres; Wayne Presser, treas; and Sharon Sayed, sec; raise the flags Friday mornings.

16 Staters presented during assembly

Raising the flag each Friday, wearing their beanies or T-shirts once a week, and sponsoring a spring assembly were some of the responsibilities of the Staters Club.

Membership in the organization consisted of delegates and their alternates chosen to attend Boys and Girls State conventions during the summer.

To be eligible, students submitted a letter stating why they thought they should be chosen. Then they were interviewed by a faculty committee Grade point average, leadership and activities in and out of school were also considered.

The state programs were prepared to give Staters a better understanding of politics and patriotism.

1970-71 Staters are (front) Henry Tamura, Billy Ballou, James Martinez; (middle) Karlan Gamble, Sharon Sayed, Patricia Banks, Linda De La Fuente, Lorriane Gonzales, Mai Hua Lindstrom, Mrs. Linda Frost; (back) Martin Gambrel, Bill Dow, Kevin Carey, Wayne Presser, Russell Weaver, and Rod Sanchez. NJROTC activated during formal ceremonies in Nov.

NJROTC was offically activated Nov. 19 at ceremonies attended by military and educational officials, faculty, parents, and students.

Although the program started at WM just this year the boys have already accomplished a great deal. Donating $600 to the Kidney Foundation, $300 to the Hearing and Speech Center and also helping in the Toys for Tots drive were some functions of the group.

The purpose of NJROTC is to prepare cadets for military duty while teaching citizenship and leadership.

Senior Neddy Garcia, batallion commander, presents a $600 check for the Kidney Foundation to Mrs. Rosemary Bigham. Raising this money was the first project of the year.

NJROTC performs its first drill before the student body during the activation assembly, November 19.

Who are the beauties in this skit at the Fall Round-up? Could they be NJROTC'S?

AV aides help teachers with many tasks

Mimeograph stencils to fulfill work orders from teachers are typed by Sharon Sayed, Lynn Mason, and Mei Hua Lindstrom, seniors. Typists also do work for the main offices.

Explaining to Peter Gallegos the operation of the mimeograph machine is Alice Roybal, who seems to know what she is doing.

Making it easier to teach in class and use materials worth using are only some jobs of the Audio Visual aides.

Ditto work, mimeographing transparencies, and laminating of rare pamphlets are done. All typing is done by the Vocational Typing class, and other office helpers are trained by Mr. Roy Rivera. Mis. Viola Medina and Mrs. Delores Lloyd assist and help instruct.

A work order is submitted by the teacher a day before the work is needed. The order is fulfilled by aides throughout the day and delivered to classes when scheduled.

Distribution and service of AV equipment is also done in the Media Center. Overhead projectors, tape recorders, slide viewers, record players and movie projectors are the most borrowed equipment. There is no limited time for using machines but a close record is kept.

Likewise, the mailboxes are kept in the Media Center. The mail, special notices and anouncements are boxed by the student aides. Teachers pick up their own mail. Distribution is done through this procedure.

During the summer vacation, there are plans to expand the AV center in order to increase their services and better utilize their time and space.

Teachers' aide, Mrs. Delores Lloyd, does typing among numerous other jobs. Training the students who work in the Media Center and assigning them their work is part of her work day.

Running the ditto machine is part of the daily routine in the Media Center. Beatrice Chavez and Kathy Sanchez run off a quiz for a math teacher during their assigned work period.

Use of the laminating machine is demonstrated by Mr. Roy Rivera as Janie Rodgers and Jo Ann Duree look on.

After an order has been completed, Marvin Sanchez and Terry Melquist, seniors, prepare to deliver the equipment desired.

Club participates in rodeos, becomes skilled in events

Participating in rodeos all over New Mexico to become better skilled in different events took up much of the time of the West Mesa Rodeo Club.

Members planned and sponsored two rodeos, one November 28-29, 1970, the other March 6, 1971.

One purpose of the rodeos was to raise money to send qualified contestants to state and national finals. The other was to allow participants to become acquainted with all forms of the rodeo.

Sponsors of the club included Mr. Rodney Todd and Mr. John Barefoot.

New board directs, supervises all school publications

A new board was established this year to direct publications. It was composed of eight students and three faculty members.

Representatives were chosen from each class council, the student council, and the athletic dept. The yearbook and newspaper editors were automatically members. John Martens, senior; Nick Collaros, junior; Joanne Maes; sophomore: and Kim Smith, freshman; were selected from the class councils. Larry Wolfe for athletics and Pat Banks for student council were picked. Editors were Susan Bosl, yearbook; and Nancy Oberleitner, newspaper.

Involved teachers were Mrs. Carol Blue, chairman; Mrs. E.R. Jaramillo, publications adviser; and Mr. Sterling Rodke.

Taking time out to look over the latest issue of MW is editor Nancy Oberleightner and ass't. editor Ann Fallen.

Helping Lise Ballard with an article for the newspaper is Roger Gerdes.

Staff publishes nine issues; one features student talent

Being a member on the staff on the Mustang World means more than having a little blue press pass to run around with. It means meeting people and getting into the atmosphere of school activities by being on hand to report them.

The Mustang World was published monthly at ten cents a copy. In one issue the student body participated, contributing their creative work.

Between monthly issues the staff planned layouts for the next newspaper while the photographers took pictures of things happening around school.

146 musicians comprise two bands

Marching at football games, performing in concerts, making one hundred foot spirit banners, and playing in pep assemblies was only part of being a band member.

Eighty-one students participated in second period band while fourth period had a membership of sixty-five. The bands combined for marching at games and played as two separate bands in concerts.

Studies in the bands were aimed at individual improvement and group co-ordination and control.

To a Real Fathead
Have this Swamp --

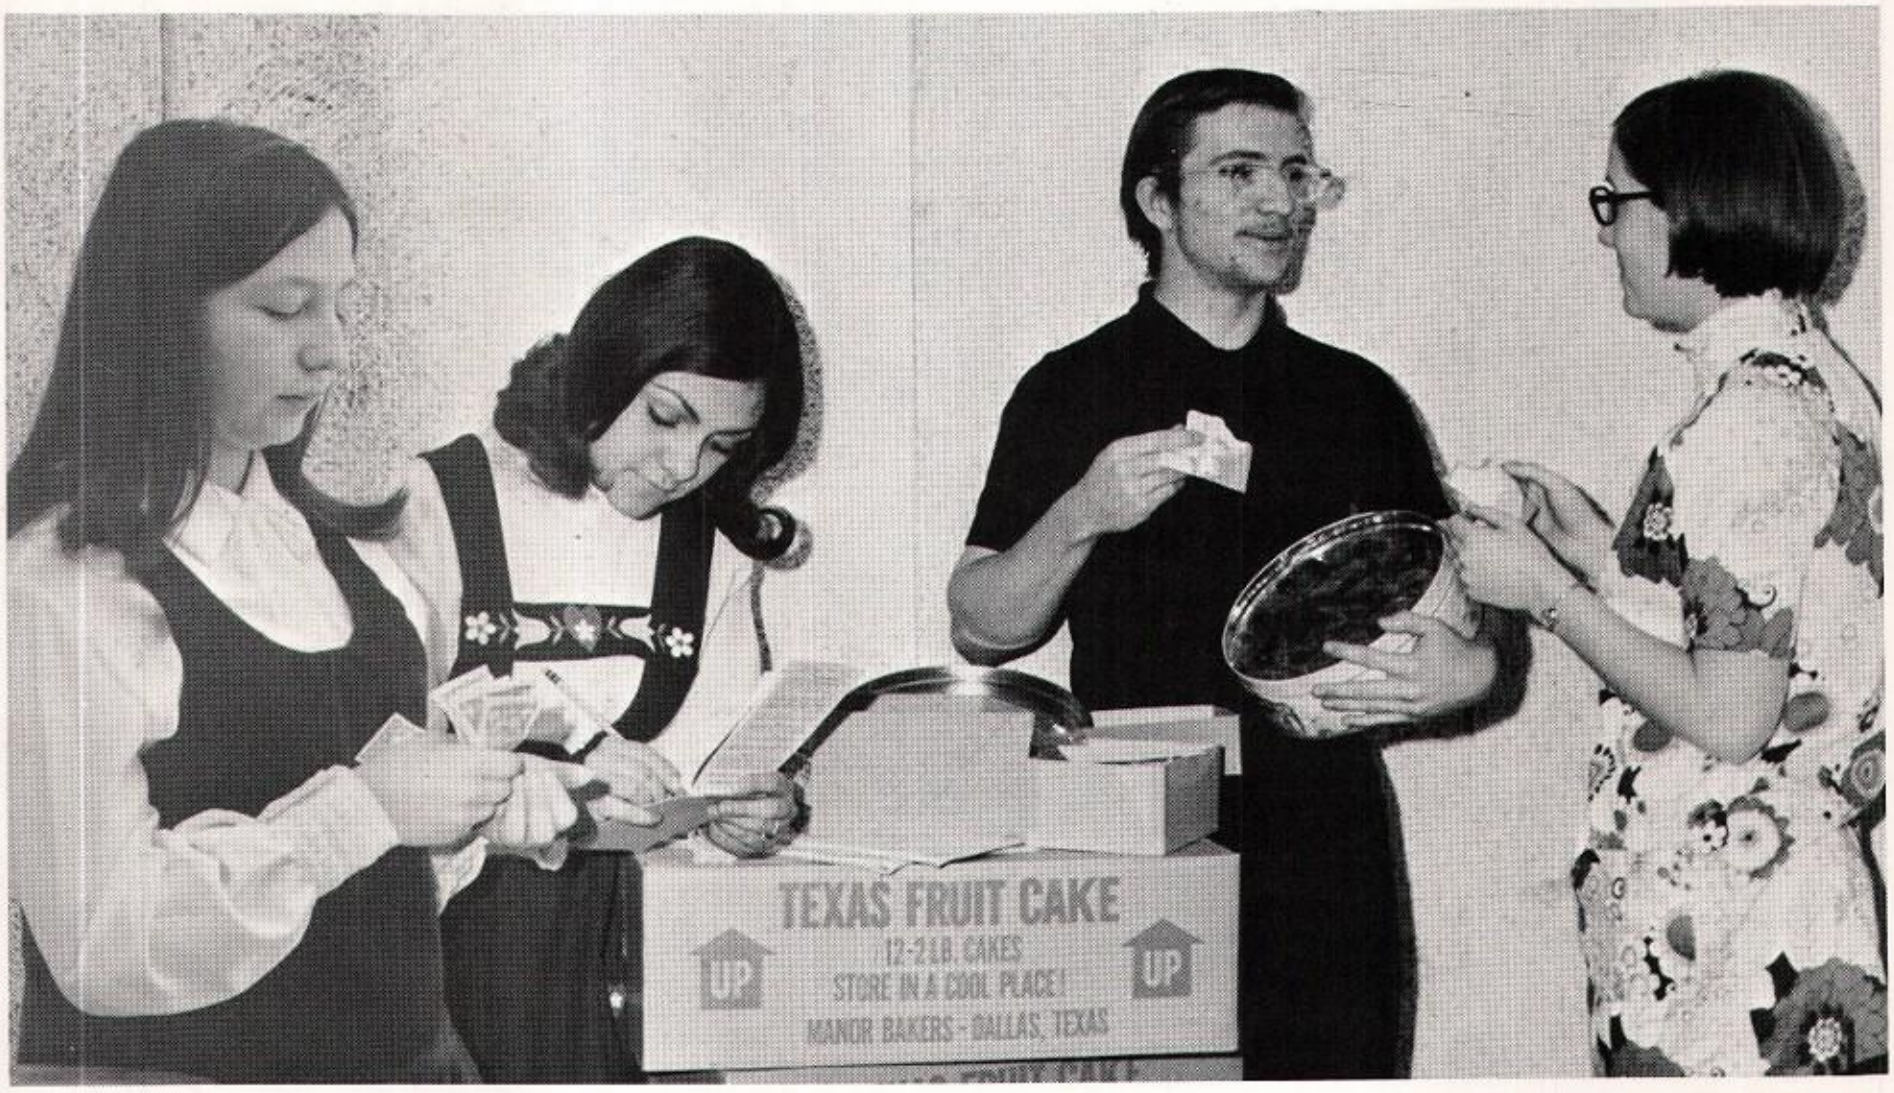
Student interest causes formation of second stage band

The Music Department expanded its program this year by the addition of a second stage band.

Stage Band I, which met before school each day, was started at the beginning of the year. Among its activities were the annual West Mesa Stage Band Festival, pep assemblies, and a television program in January.

Stage Band II was organized at the end of first semester and participated in festivals and concerts.

Standing showing Stage Band II instruments are Johnny Lovato, Richard Wilson, Mike Ortiz, Pat Beare, Tim Park, Joe Cramer, and Larry Garcia. Victor Holguin, Joe Saavedra, Wendell Matthews, Jim Hilgartner, and Ron Perea are sitting and kneeling in front.



Checking on the bands annual money-making holiday fruitcake sale are the second period officers Anita Sandoval, treasurer; Debbie Hernandez, vice-president; Eddie Herrera, president; and Gail Olson, secretary. Proceeds helped subsidize band expenses.

Officers help lead band and co-ordinate all activities

Not minding the attention he receives while trying to work in the office is Victor Holguin, student council representative for fourth period band. Other officers include Pat Chavez, president; Lorraine Perea, vice-president; Lori Nestor, secretary; and Cathy Heskette, treasurer.

Officers for this year played a bigger part in organizing the band than ever before. They co-ordinated money-making projects, such as the fruit cake sale and helped sponsor many outside school activities.

Officers were elected for each separate band and then they met together after school. They decorated the band room for the Christmas holidays and organized two parties for band members.

Leading the marching band at games and in parades are drum majors Eric Johnson and Larry Garcia. Carla Drace, Nina Jordon, and Connie Drace marched and twirled at many school and sports events.

Six band members make New Mexico all-state band

West Mesa's Marching Band was led by drum majors Eric Johnson and Larry Garcia. They were elected last year from a field of ten by appointed members of the band.

Drum majors led the marching band and taught the members all the elements involved in marching.

Twirlers performed during half-time at football games and marched with the band in parades.

Band members tried out for All-State Band during December. Six students from West Mesa won places in this band made up of musicians from all high schools in this state.

Free time is spent making arrangements for coming events in Mr. Christian's office by All-State Band members Debbie Hernandez, Mike Gaddis, Nina Jordon, Ann Baltz, Gail Olson, and Jay Mayer.

Group performs in many concerts; two play in local youth symphony

The Orchestra musicians took part in numerous activities throughout the school year. In addition to its annual Christmas Concert and other regular concerts, the orchestra has preformed in the District Seven Music Festival together with other schools.

More exciting music was produced for a more professional joint concert because of this venture.

Officers are Randy Turpen, vice-pres.; Leola Floren, pres.; Renato Romero, treasurer (absent).

Albuquerque Youth Symphony members include Juanita Urioste and Leola Floren.

Staff members attend workshops, learn techniques for successful book

Publication of the El Chicote demanded much time and effort, as staff members worked after school, Saturdays, and holidays to meet deadlines.

The production of the yearbook included writing copy and captions, designing layouts, and assigning and cropping pictures.

The staff worked under the guidance of Mrs. Jaramillo, sponsor, with the help of Susan Bosl, editor, and Cheryl Sayed, assistant editor.

At the beginning of the year, staffers attended workshops to learn new ideas and techniques to aid them in producing the El Chicote. Success of the 1971 El Chicote was possible through the efforts and cooperation of all staff members.

Filling out cards for the index is Patsy Silva, while Connie Barclay chekcs and alphabetizes the completed cards.

Clare Gallegos strikes a favorite pose while writing copy for an organization. Marilyn Arias helps her by designing the layout.

Staff members of the 1971 El Chicote are Cheryl Sayed, Clare Gallegos, Patsy Silva, Janice Dow, Martha Harrison, Susan Bosl, Larry Lackmann, Connie Barclay, Becky

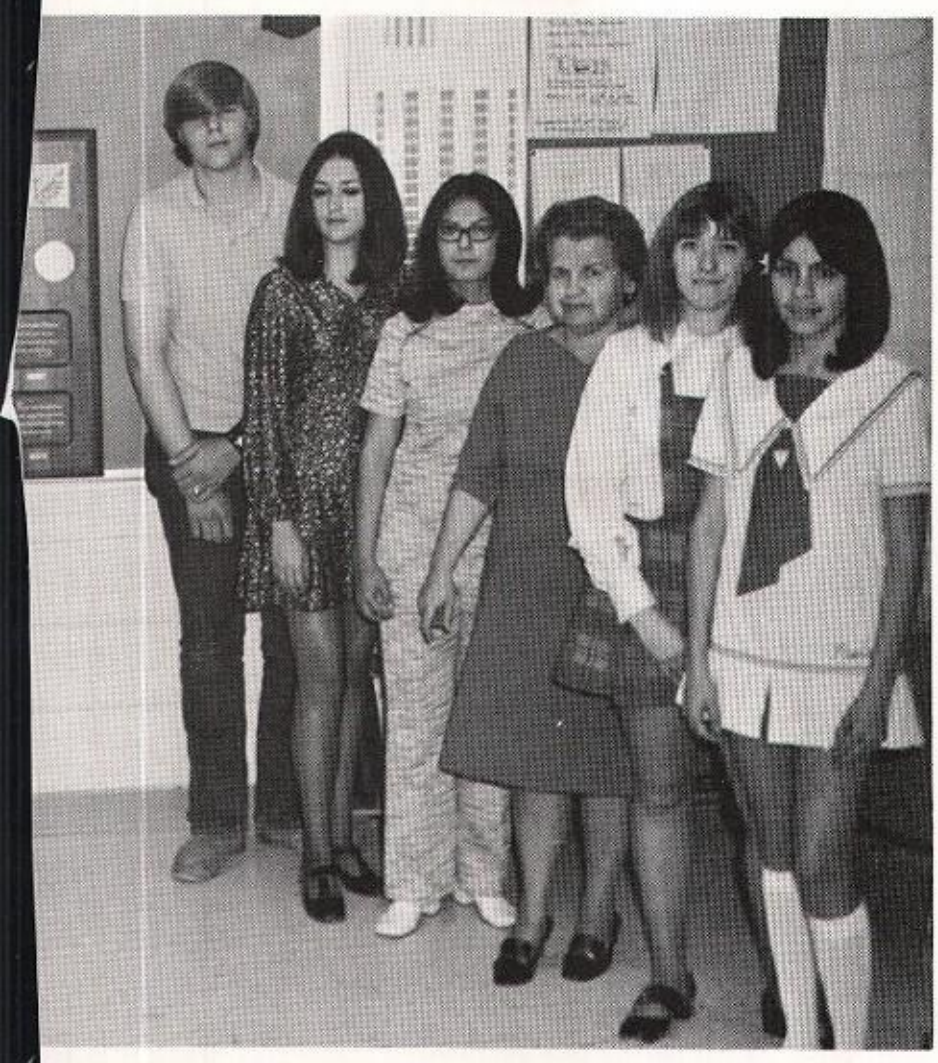
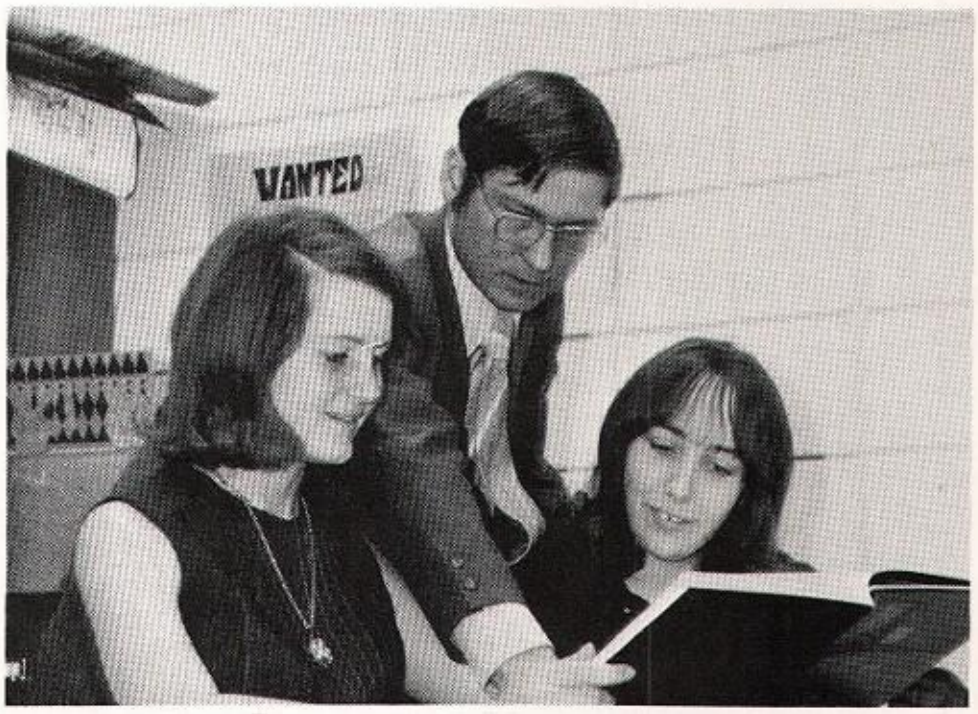
Martha Harrison explains some copy that she wants typed to Maureen Eberhart as JoJean Nuttall finishes typing her assignment.



Garcia, Mrs. E.R. Jarmillo, JoJean Nuttall, and Marilyn Arias.



Company representative Mr. Fred Muirhead gives Susan Bosl, editor, and Cheryl Sayed, assistant editor, advice about this year's book.

Students tutor at schools throughout year

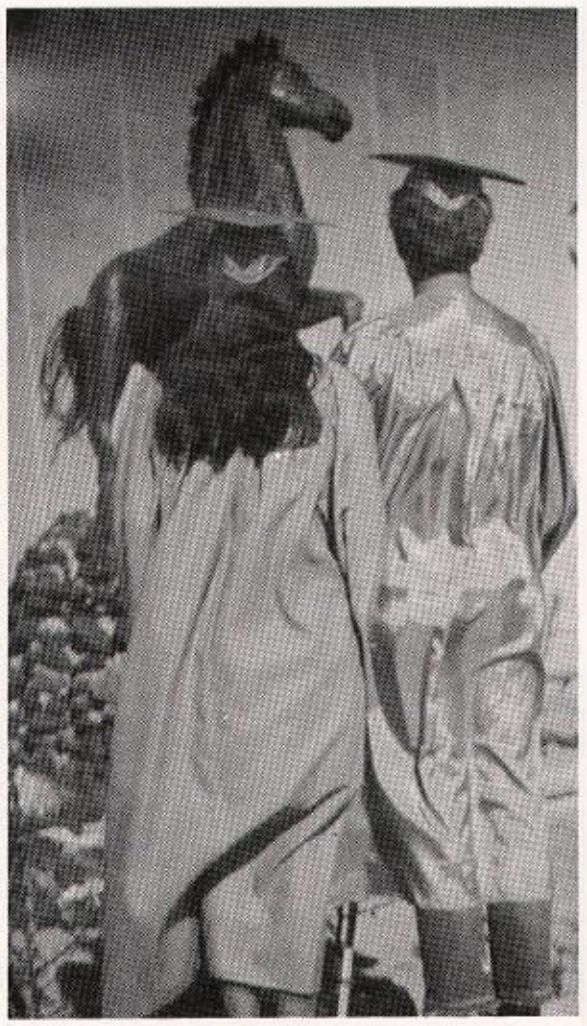
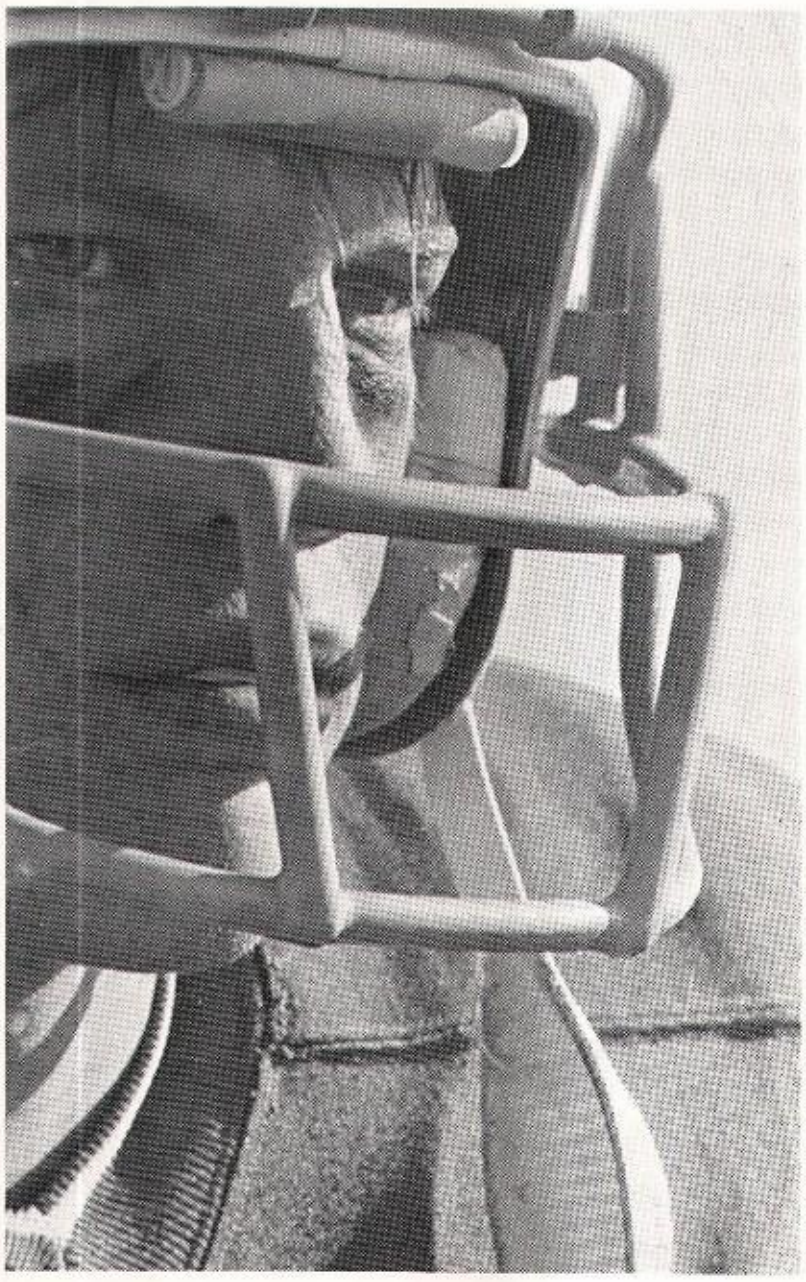
Seniors bid farewell to West Mesa

Mr. Evans congratulates Suzanne Zuris, last member of the graduating class.

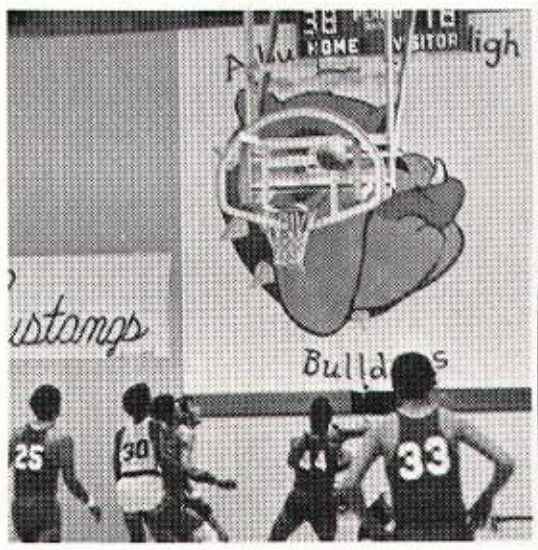


Before graduating, two seniors bid farewell to West Mesa's mascot, the mustang.

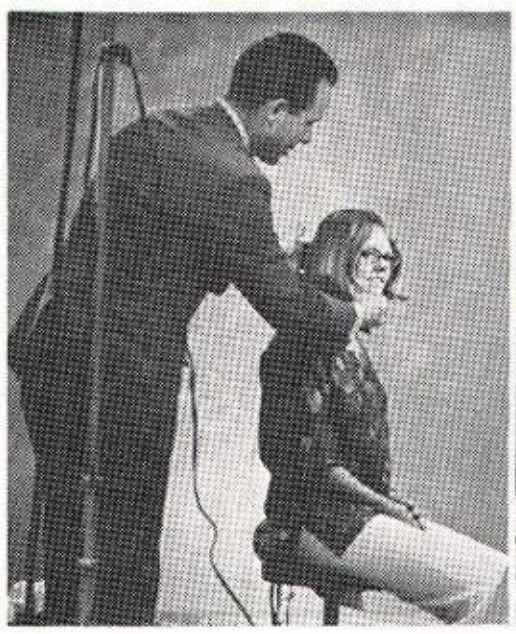
Everything is beautiful in its own way



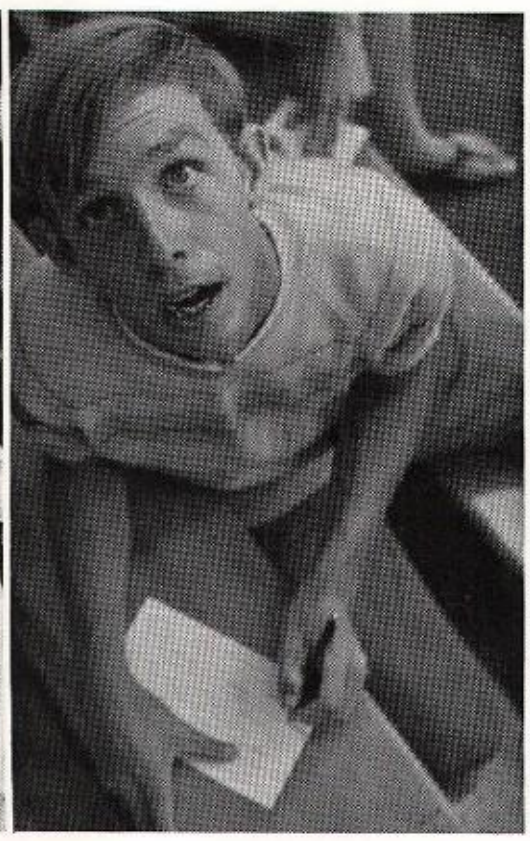
We must let our thoughts be free. . .

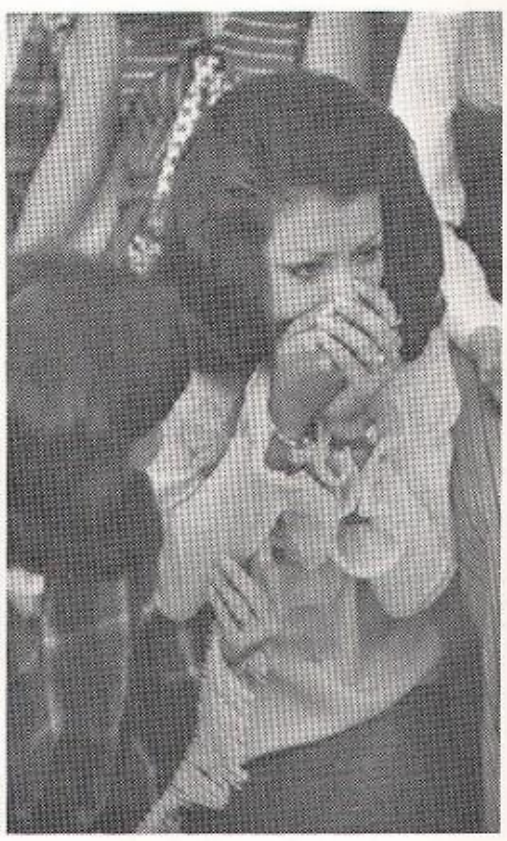


We must not close our minds. . .



Beauty lies in the eyes of the beholder. . .





We gonna' get it all together now and everything gonna' work out fine.

Year reaches climax for seniors with graduation June 3

As the dawn of a new life appears on the edge of the horizon, past actions acquire new meanings. The beauty of friendships and memories is relived as each person decides the path of the future. The past fades into an age of timelessness as the unknown looms closer. Each one, uncertain of success or failure, wishes friends happiness, while facing the doubt of meeting again. The challenge of the future and the beauty of the unknown is faced by all in the shadows of tomorrow.

Kath-
Well I really had a ball picking on you this year. I want to wish you good luck in whatever you do!
